PREFACE

For the rather late appearance of this volume the nature of its contents will perhaps in some degree be accepted as an excuse. It includes two texts of more than usual importance and interest, the new fragments of Sophocles and the Life of Euripides by Satyrus. In the reconstruction and elucidation of these I have again been most fortunate in obtaining the invaluable aid of Professor U. von Wilamowitz-Möllendorff. I am also under considerable obligations, more particularly with regard to the Sophoclean fragments, to Professor Gilbert Murray. The proof-sheets of the non-literary documents were seen by Professor U. Wilcken, whom I have to thank for some very useful comments and suggestions. Occasional contributions kindly made by other scholars are acknowledged elsewhere.

A small edition of the fragments of the Ichneutae and Eurypylus is in preparation, and will be issued by the Clarendon Press in the course of a few weeks.

ARTHUR S. HUNT.

NOTE ON THE METHOD OF PUBLICATION AND LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS

THE general method followed in this volume is the same as that in Parts I-VIII. The new literary texts are printed in a dual form, a literal transcript being accompanied by a reconstruction in modern style. In the fragments of extant authors, the originals are reproduced except for division of words, capital initials in proper names, expansion of abbreviations, and supplements of lacunae. Additions or corrections by the same hand as the body of the text are in small thin type, those by a different hand in thick type. Non-literary documents are given in modern form with accentuation and punctuation. Abbreviations and symbols are resolved; additions and corrections are usually incorporated in the text, their occurrence being recorded in the critical apparatus, where also faults of orthography, &c., are corrected if they seemed likely to give rise to any difficulty. Iota adscript has been printed when so written, otherwise iota subscript is employed. Square brackets [] indicate a lacuna, round brackets () the resolution of a symbol or abbreviation, angular brackets () a mistaken omission in the original, braces { } a superfluous letter or letters, double square brackets [ ] a deletion in the original. Dots placed within brackets represent the approximate number of letters lost or deleted; dots outside brackets indicate mutilated or otherwise illegible letters. Letters with dots underneath them are to be considered doubtful. Heavy Arabic numerals refer to the texts of the Oxyrhynchus papyri in this volume and in Parts I-VIII, ordinary numerals to lines, small Roman numerals to columns.

The abbreviations used in referring to papyrological publications are practically those adopted in the Archiv für Papyrusforschung, viz.:—

I. THEOLOGICAL FRAGMENTS

1166. GENESIS xvi.

Fr. (c)  $13.5 \times 4.7$  cm.

Third century. Plate I.

Remains of one column from a roll of Genesis in the LXX version. The large and upright calligraphic handwriting is apparently an early example of the so-called Biblical uncials, and may well fall within the third century; cf. e.g. 661, 867, 1179, P. Rylands 16. A papyrus of this date is textually valuable, especially for the book of Genesis, where the Vaticanus is defective. Several interesting readings occur,—an agreement in 1. 20 with MSS. of Philo, two coincidences with a group of cursives against other older evidence (ll. 3, 24), and two peculiar variants (ll. 14, 16). A medial point, followed, sometimes at any rate, by a short blank space, is used for purposes of punctuation; and a rough breathing is once added. These signs are apparently due to the original writer.

3. η δε: so the cursives fir (Holmes 53, 56, 129); και DM, &c. The supposed stop preceding is very uncertain, and may be a vestige of another letter.

7-8. Line 8 is shorter than would be expected, even when allowance is made, on the analogy of ll. 12 and 18, for a blank space after the stop. But the  $\gamma$  at the end of l. 7, though broken, is highly probable.

14. There is no authority for 1800, but some addition is necessary to fill the lacuna; perhaps ιδου came in here from l. 20.

16.  $\epsilon \xi a [\rho \iota \theta \mu \eta \theta \eta \sigma \epsilon] \tau a [\iota]$ : αριθμηθησεται Or αριθμησεται MSS.

20. συ seems to have been omitted after ιδου, as in mor (Holmes 72, 82, 129) Syr. Chrysostom. ιδου is omitted in some MSS. of Philo.

21. παιδιον: so some MSS. of Philo; υιον other authorities.

24-5. The addition of  $\theta(\epsilon 0)$ s after  $K[(\nu\rho\iota 0)s$ , as in fir, is indicated by the spacing.

1167. Genesis xxxi.

10 × 11.4 cm.

Fourth century.

This fragment of a leaf from a papyrus book is less ancient than 1166, but still sufficiently early to be of some value. It is written in medium-sized sloping uncials which may be roughly assigned to the fourth century. There is a loss of five lines between the end of the recto and the beginning of the verso, so that the number of lines on a page was about 22, and the leaf was nearly square in shape. A comma-like mark divides two mutes in l. 2;  $\nu$  at the end of a line is sometimes written as a horizontal stroke over the preceding vowel. The chief characteristic of the text is a tendency to agree with combinations of DEM against the Codex Alexandrinus; an exception occurs in 1. 20.

4-5. The blurred and broken letters are here difficult to identify, but the indications favour the supposition that σου was omitted after at θυγατερες, οι υιοι and τα κτηνη, as in EM, various cursives and versions, and Philo. E omits οι before νιοι and κτηνη before μου.

6.  $\nu$  of  $\pi a \nu \tau a$  was apparently repeated by mistake; cf. l. 30, where there is an inadvertent omission, and note on ll. 26-7. After  $o \rho a s \to a d d s o \lambda a$ , with  $\tau a$  in place of  $o \sigma a$ ; but these variants are less suitable to the space.

7. των θυγα $[\tau\epsilon]$ ρ $[\omega\nu$ : so EM; ταις θυγατρασιν other MSS. (θυγατερες A), om. Philo.

1)-10. διθηκην διαθησωμεθα Ε.

12. Iaκωβ which stands after aντω in A was doubtless omitted in the papyrus, with D-ilEM, &c.

13. Unless  $\epsilon \sigma \tau \omega$  was divided  $\epsilon | \sigma \tau \omega$ ,  $\epsilon \delta \sigma \omega$  (DM) seems rather better adapted to the space than  $\epsilon \delta \epsilon$  (A); om. E.

15. εις στηλην (E) is also admissible.

18. α υτον: το ονομα αυτου (E) does not suit.

20. auth is omitted in DsilEM, &c.

23. ονομα: so  $D^{\rm sil}$ M and a number of cursives; ονομα αυτου A, ονομα του τοπου εκεινου E. After βουνος E reads μαρτυριου instead of μαρτυρει.

24. η ορασις: om. η Ε.

ειδον: so D (ιδον), ειδεν E; ειπεν AM.

επιδο[ι: so DsilEM; εφιδοι A.

26-7. ταπεινωσειεις was perhaps written by a dittography for ταπεινωσεις; cf. l. 6. M's marginal reading αδικησεις does not help. For  $\lambda \eta \mu \psi \eta$  D reads  $\lambda \alpha \beta \omega s$ , E  $\lambda \alpha \beta \eta s$ . 30. l.  $\epsilon \gamma \omega$ .

1168. Joshua iv-v.

7·3 × 6·5 cm.

Fourth century.

A fragment from the bottom of a vellum leaf inscribed with well-formed upright uncials of a medium size, and probably of the fourth century.  $\omega$  is shallow and high in the line, as in 847. A high stop is twice added in a blacker ink than that used by the original writer. Eleven lines are lost at the top of the recto, and the height of the leaf may be estimated at about 15.5 cm.

The character of the text can hardly be gauged from so small a sample, but two agreements with B against A are noticeable, and the support against both of a variant found in a few cursives.

1169. St. Matthew's Gospel vi.

8 × 14·1 cm.

Fifth or sixth century.

This is a fragment from the outer part of a vellum leaf, of which the upper portion seems to have been cut off, while the lower is worm-eaten and decayed. Two columns of about 27 lines each were contained on the page, and the original dimensions of the leaf may be estimated roughly at 25 × 20 cm. No clear traces of ruling are discernible. The hand is an upright uncial, rather large and carefully finished, with strongly marked contrasts of light and heavy strokes. It is of the same type as 848, and the fragment reproduced in Schubart's Pap. Gr. Berol. 44 a, and must belong to approximately the same period. The text is divided up into paragraphs or verses, a new line with an enlarged initial letter commencing each paragraph, much after the manner of, e.g., the Codex Alexandrinus.

22.9 × 9 cm.

Fifth century.

The following leaf from a papyrus book is complete at the top and bottom, but broken at the sides; the surface is also very much damaged, and partly owing to this cause, partly also to the brown shade of the ink used, decipherment is in places extremely difficult and uncertain. Nothing of much importance seems to be involved, for the text is not distinguished by accuracy. It is, however, probably the oldest authority for the reading  $a \dot{v} \tau \delta v$  in x. 32; and an otherwise unrecorded variant may be noted in l. 7. The rather widely spaced lines are written in a good-sized upright uncial hand, which is less heavy and probably rather earlier than that of 1169. An unusual characteristic is the avoidance of the ordinary theological contractions.

1171. St. James's Epistle ii-iii.

 $11.5 \times 4.3$  cm. Late third century. Plate I (recto).

A strip from a leaf of a papyrus book, neatly written in an upright semicursive hand which is more likely to belong to the latter half of the third century than to the commencement of the fourth. The comma-shaped sign not infrequently used is placed after the final consonant of non-Greek names.  $\pi\nu\epsilon\hat{\nu}\mu\alpha$ ,  $\kappa\hat{\nu}\rho\iota\sigma$ , and  $\theta\epsilon\hat{\sigma}$ s are contracted in the usual way, but  $\pi\alpha\tau\hat{\eta}\rho$  and  $\mathring{\alpha}\nu\theta\rho\omega\pi\sigma$ s are written out. If, as is probable, the lacuna at the bottom of the recto was contained in six lines, the height of the leaf was about 16 cm.

The lines were of some length, and since the point of division is quite uncertain I have not made a conjectural restoration of the gaps but only completed imperfect words. The fracture along the right-hand side of the recto, except at ll. I and 20, is practically straight. So far as can be judged the text was a good one, being generally in agreement with that of the Vaticanus; but there is one coincidence with C (l. 34) and one with L (l. 9) against the other more important MSS., besides a probable divergence from B in l. 15.

1172. THE SHEPHERD OF HERMAS.

19.2 × 12.9 cm.

Fourth century.

Several fragments of the Hermae Pastor, both in Greek and Coptic, have recently been obtained from Egypt, and their comparative frequency clearly indicates the popularity of the book in the early Christian church. Those in Greek include 404, P. Amh. 190, P. Berl. 5513 and 6789 (Berl. Klassikertexte, vi. pp. 13-20), and a vellum fragment at Hamburg (Sitzungsb. d. Berl. Akad., phil.-hist. Kl., 1909, pp. 1077 sqq.); cf. 5 recto, where Mand. xi. 9 is quoted. To this list has now to be added the present fragment, a nearly complete leaf from a papyrus book, the two pages, which are numbered 70 and 71 respectively, containing the greater part of Sim. ii. The script is a medium-sized sloping semi-cursive which I should assign to the fourth century. v has a waved tail, and the angular loop of the a is often considerably exaggerated. A somewhat doubtful accent occurs in l. 2; there is no clear instance of punctuation.  $\theta \epsilon \delta s$  and  $\kappa \dot{\nu}\rho \iota \sigma s$  are abbreviated in the usual way, but not  $\ddot{a}v\theta\rho\omega\pi\sigma s$ . A few corrections have been made, and some at least of them are probably due to a different though practically contemporary hand, which is perhaps also responsible for the numeration of the pages.

The Greek text of this part of the Hermae Pastor is dependent upon the fourteenth-century Codex Athous, since % contains only an earlier portion. From 1. 23, however, of the papyrus onward, P. Berl. 5513 is also available for comparison. The latter comes from a roll which is most probably of the third century and no doubt somewhat older than 1172. There is, however, a striking uniformity in the testimony of the two papyri, and they are usually in agreement as against the Athous, such discrepancies as they show (Il. 29, 36, 39) being comparatively slight. This unanimity is most marked in the order of words, and it is likely that these early witnesses are here generally the more credible. Of the other variants the most noteworthy are those in Il. 4, 6, 9 (disposing of an old crux), 10-11, 17, 18, 25, 26, and 47.

The collation given below is based on the 1877 edition of Gebhardt and Harnack, whose symbols are reproduced: ca = Codex Athous,  $L^1 = the$  old Latin (Vulgate),  $L^2 = the$  Latin Palatine version. A = Aethiopic, C = Coptic.

1. διδοι . . . σαπρον: δίδωσιν ἐρριμμένη δὲ χαμαὶ σαπρὸν καὶ ὀλίγον ca. There is no room for χαμαι in the lacuna, which is already of full length. L has in terra, but supports the order of the papyrus by reading exiguum et nugacem.

4. χρη ματα: so LL A; χρήματα πολλά ca.

5–6. περισπω[μενο]ς . . . και: so ca; LLA seem to have read περισπώμενος γάρ, omitting καί.

6. εαυτου: αὐτοῦ ca.

μακραν: μικράν ca LL A. Since μικράν is repeated immediately below, an avoidance of this tautology would be an advantage, and μακραν in the sense of remote is not inappropriate.

8. βληχραν και μικραν: ca again inverts the order.

a...  $\eta \nu$ :  $\overline{a\nu o \nu}$  ca, emended by Tischendorf to  $\overline{a\nu \omega}$ ; cf. L² apud dominum (om. L¹A). But neither  $a\nu \omega$  nor  $a\nu \omega$  suits the papyrus, where the termination is apparently  $\eta \nu$ . The vestiges of the letter or letters intervening between a and  $\eta$  are very slight, but  $a\rho \chi \eta \nu$  is not satisfactory since the long tail of a  $\rho$  should have left some trace, and this word would not at all account for the corruption of ca.  $\overline{a\nu \eta \nu}$  i. e.  $a\nu (\theta \rho \omega \pi \iota \nu) \eta \nu$ , which is a just possible reading, would be better from the latter point of view, but the abbreviation is unlikely, especially with  $a\nu \theta \rho \omega \pi \sigma \iota s$  in l. 31, nor does the adjective seem appropriate in itself.

9. επαναπαη: this is no doubt the original of ca's ἀναπλῆ, for which various conjectures have been made (ἀναβῆ Geb.-Harn. with Hollenberg, ἀναπνῆ Hilgenfeld, δαπανῆ Harnack). ἐπαναπάη is accurately translated by A (innixus fuerit); L² (om. L¹) has reficietur (reficitur Dressel) pauper a divite, which is rather far from the Greek. ἐπάην and παήσομαι are attested, but not apparently the subjunctive.

15. The remains before the lacuna are also consistent with a, but it is desirable to shorten the supplement, if possible. Perhaps the supposed tail of the v of avrov in the line above is an interlinear a.

16. ουν: δέ ca. The v of vπo was corrected from o.

17.  $\tau \omega \theta(\epsilon) \omega \dots a \upsilon \tau \omega$ : ca has  $a \upsilon \tau \hat{\varphi} \tau \hat{\varphi} \theta \epsilon \hat{\varphi}$ , which Geb.–Harn. retain  $(a \upsilon \tau \hat{\varphi}, \tau \hat{\varphi} \theta \epsilon \hat{\varphi})$ , with no evident sense. Tischendors's reading εὐχαριστῶν is confirmed by the papyrus; (καὶ) εὐχαριστεῖ ed. pr.

21. κ(υριο)ν: τὸν θεόν ca.

22-3.  $[\tau\eta' \epsilon\nu\tau\epsilon\nu]\xi\iota$ : cf.  $L^2A$  oratione;  $\tau\eta\nu$   $\tilde{\epsilon}\nu\tau\epsilon\nu\xi\iota\nu$  ca.  $\tau\eta$  however is a shorter supplement than would be expected at the end of l. 22. A dot after ] $\xi\iota$  might be taken for a high stop.

23. παρα: so P. Berl.; ἀπό ca.

25. το πλουτος ο: τὸν πλοῦτον ος ca. P. Berl. is defective, but reads το πλουτος at l. 38, and it is noticeable that in the present passage a reduction of two letters would give a line corresponding better in length to those adjacent. The rare neuter would be more likely to be converted to the masculine than vice versa.

26.  $\pi a \rho[\epsilon] \chi \epsilon \tau \langle a \iota \rangle$ :  $\pi a \rho \epsilon \chi \epsilon \iota$  ca. P. Berl. is again defective. but one or two more letters in the lacuna would be an advantage, and here too the principle of difficilior lectio potion may be applied.

27. The deletion presumably included the mutilated letter following ο of εργου; what was originally written is not apparent. The supposed  $\gamma$  of  $\mu\epsilon\gamma a$  is more like a  $\tau$ .

28. Tischendorf's reading συνηκεν is confirmed; συνιεί ed. pr. The word is not preserved in P. Berl. ηργασατο is the form in P. Berl., εἰργάσατο ca; but the η here is imperfect, and ιργ. might be read.

- 36. The papyrus apparently agreed with ca in reading εαυτης (cf. l. 6); αυτης P. Berl. ουτως ουν: ουτως P. Berl., ούτω ca. L<sup>2</sup> A also omit ουν.
- 37. υπε[ρ]...ε(ν)τυγχανον[τεs]. This is also the order in P. Berl.; ca has εντυγχ. πρὸς τὸν κ. ὑπερ τῶν π.

38. το πλουτος: so P. Berl.; τον πλούτον ca. Cf. l. 25.

39. επιχορηγουντες: χορηγουντες P. Berl., ca.

43. νπο: so P. Berl.; ἀπό ca, rightly corrected by Hilgenfeld. γεγρα]μμενος (P. Berl.) suits the papyrus better than επιγ. (ca), the fracture at the ends of ll. 42-4 being practically vertical.

44. τας βιβλους: so P. Berl. ca; A L<sup>2</sup> C have the singular.

46-7. ο γαρ κτλ.: so P. Berl., with τι only after διακονησαι; om. ca. Cf. L¹ polerit aliquid ministrare. τα αγαθον is presumably a slip for το αγ., τι being a variant for το; cf. L² aliquid boni operari, A bona opera agere, C διακονήσει τὸ ἀγαθόν. It is not clear what is the original reading.

48. This line may be regarded as either an explicit or an incipit, though at the bottom of a column the former is more natural. In either case the papyrus differs from the ordinary arrangement, according to which the foregoing Similitudo is the second. It is to be noticed that the hypothesis that in P. Berl. the usual order was observed implies, as the editors have remarked, a very tall column, and the suggestion may now be made that Sim. ii was there directly followed by Sim. iv. The other number, if it be a number, which stands in front of  $\pi a \rho a \beta o \lambda \dot{\eta}$  may refer to some such larger division into sections as is apparently also indicated by P. Amh. 190 (k). There are traces of ink in front of the (quite doubtful)  $\theta$ , but whether another figure preceded is not clear.

1173. PHILO.

Fol. 7.  $17.5 \times 15$  cm.

Third century.

The papyrus codex of which remains here follow was a large volume, comprising numerous works of Philo. The surviving fragments are shown by the numeration of the pages to be curiously scattered, and as many as four extant books are represented, Sacrarum Legum Alleg. i, Quod Deterius Potiori Insid., De Ebrietate, and De Mercede Meretricis. Moreover, some treatise or treatises no longer extant were also included, for there is one nearly entire leaf which is doubtless novel, besides some smaller pieces at present remaining unidentified. These are reserved for a future volume, and I now print only such fragments as I have been able to find of the four books mentioned above.

The leaves were nearly square in shape, each page containing 24-5 rather long lines. The gatherings were of six sheets at least, as is shown by one sheet of which the pages are respectively numbered 192, 193 (not published) and 214, 215 (Fol. 5). Down the middle of the inside sheet of the quire a narrow strip of vellum was gummed in order to protect the papyrus against the binding string; both vellum and string still adhere to the margin between Fols. 2 and 3. That more writers than one should be employed upon so long a MS. is not surprising. Apparently three hands are to be distinguished. The most formal of them is that of Fols. 2-3, a sloping somewhat negligently formed uncial of rather less than medium size. Fols. 1 and 5-7 are in a sloping semi-cursive hand, while Fol. 9 is written in a less flowing round and upright script. All these hands are of third-century type, and the codex may be regarded as of approximately the same antiquity as the Paris papyrus; the impossible date assigned to the latter by Scheil (Mém. de la Mission Arch. Franç. au Caire, ix. 2) has been rightly questioned by Wilcken (ap. Cohn-Wendland, i. p. xlii) and Kenyon (Palaeography, p. 145). In several respects these two early books show similarities: the size of the leaf; the informal character of the hands (only one of those in the Paris MS. can be described as 'une belle onciale'); and the occasional insertion of breathings and accents. In 1173 these proceed from the diorthotes who has throughout made occasional alterations, and to whom the signs of elision, pagination, and to a large extent, at least, the punctuation by means of a high dot should also be assigned.  $\theta \epsilon \delta s$  is regularly contracted in the usual manner, and  $v(i\delta)s$  is written in Fol. 5 recto 25; but none of the other compendia common in Christian literature occurs ( $\delta v\theta\rho\omega\pi\sigma s$  5 recto 14,  $\pi\alpha\tau\eta\rho$ ,  $\mu\eta\tau\eta\rho$  5 recto 23,  $\sigma v\theta\rho\omega\sigma s$  7 verso 20).

Apart from obvious errors, several of which have escaped the corrector's vigilance (cf. e.g. 3 recto 9, 5 verso 8-9, 6 recto 3, 7 recto 10, 21, verso 6), the text of the papyrus is fairly correct, and where the MSS. differ, commonly supports the better reading; cf. e.g. 7 recto 3, 5, 24. In a few places small editorial emendations are confirmed (5 recto 2, 7 recto 20, 22; cf. verso 4). Other readings peculiar to the papyrus, some of which may be right, while others are doubtless wrong, occur at 1 recto 14, 5 verso 3, 19, recto 2, 10-11, 25, 7 recto 3, 4, 12, 24, verso 6, 7, 12, and apparently 9 verso 7, recto 4, 11, 12, 16. The qualification 'apparently' is necessary, because my collation of Fol. 9 has to depend upon the meagre information of Mangey, since the treatise De Mercede Meretricis is not yet included in Cohn-Wendland's critical edition, which is available for the preceding fragments. On the whole the papyrus leaves the satisfactory impression that the text of Philo as reconstituted by modern criticism is substantially sound.

14-15. Why  $\epsilon \xi \eta \lambda$ ?] $\theta \epsilon \pi a \lambda \iota \nu$  was originally written is not clear. The letters  $\theta \epsilon \pi a \lambda \iota \nu$  have

At the end of the line  $\alpha\epsilon\iota$ , which is absent in M, is required to fill the space.

11. επομενος, as originally written, is the ordinary reading; επτοημένος Μ. The corrector's σπώμενος is not mentioned as a variant by Mangey.

II. NEW CLASSICAL TEXTS.

1174. SOPHOCLES, Ichneutae.

Height 18.3 cm.

Late second century. Plate II (Cols. iv-v).

That Satyric Drama should be represented by but a single play, and that too by the youngest of the three great tragedians, has often been deplored. A specimen by Aeschylus, commonly reckoned the greatest exponent of the art (Diog. Laert. ii. 133, Pausan. ii. 13. 5), or of Pratinas, might have been a more welcome gift, but in presenting us with the considerable remains here published of the Ichneutae of Sophocles, fortune does something to remove a reproach and to fill one of the many gaps in the history of Greek dramatic art.

The greater part of this papyrus was obtained in 1907, but some minor fragments made their appearance close by in the previous winter, when the main portion of 1175 was found. That text is apparently a sister-MS. to the present, and the work of the same scribe; and it is quite likely that some of the smaller pieces placed there belong to 1174, while, on the other hand, among the miscellaneous fragments assigned to the Ichneutae there may be a few stragglers from 1175. The difficulty of distinguishing is further increased by the fact that the finds to which 1174 and 1175 belong include a number of prose fragments written in a closely similar if not identical handwriting.

This hand is seen at its best in 1174. It is a fine specimen of the common oval type, slightly inclined, and executed with much firmness and precision. may, I think, be assigned with probability to the closing decades of the second century, a date suggested as well by the character of the uncial script as by the occasional cursive marginalia. The columns, which contain from 26-7 lines, tend to lean over a little towards the right, so that the last line of a column generally projects to the left of the first by the space of two or three letters. Choral odes are distinguished from iambics by indentation, as in the Hypsipyle papyrus (852), where too, as here, the parts of an iambic verse which is divided between two or more speakers are written below one another in separate lines (viii. 15 sqq.; cf. 1177). Paragraphi and diaereses were inserted by the original scribe, and to him are also due the stichometrical figures, which mark off the lines by hundreds (cf. e.g. 841, 852). Stops, which are usually in the form of a high dot, though points in the medial and low position occur, accents, breathings, marks of elision and long or short quantity, all of which are fairly frequent, and other occasional symbols, including a low-placed comma to separate words (viii. 19; cf. e.g. 1082), the coronis marking the beginning and end of the first chorus (iii. 4, 19), and the x surmounted by an iota sometimes inserted as a nota bene in the left margin, are largely, at any rate, subsequent additions, often easily distinguishable by the darker colour of the ink; and they may be attributed to the revisor who has not only corrected the text but inserted a number of various readings. Some of these he kindly refers to their source, the authority most frequently named being Theon, a grammarian who flourished in the Augustan period and was probably cited in 841. ii. 37. A few references are made to  $A\rho\nu$  and  $A\rho$ , of which the former probably, and perhaps the latter also, means Aristophanes (cf. 841), and to a name appearing as N with a vertical stroke through the middle, possibly Nicanor (cf. note on iv. 23). Explanatory notes are rare; there is one of some length apparently in Frs. 23 (a), (b), while a bare gloss occurs at iii. 6. The dramatis personae are specified here and there: a single stage direction is put in the body of the text at v. 2. The accentual system, which is similar to that of other papyri of the period (e.g. 841, 852, 1082), calls for no detailed notice.

The numerous fragments in which this papyrus was recovered have fortunately fitted together in a very satisfactory way, producing large remains of seventeen columns from the beginning of the play. Of these the first fifteen are certainly successive, as is shown by the stichometry; the remaining two, which are very scantily represented, perhaps follow immediately, and at any rate are not separated by more than a slight interval; cf. the note on Col. xvi. Up to a point the course of the action is thus clear; and the story of the Ichneutae turns out to be something very different from what it was conjectured to be by Welcker, to whom the title suggested the wanderings of Europa (Nachtrag, pp. 311-12). Yet one of the three extant fragments, had its reference been perceived, would have given the clue: the fragment which describes the abnormal growth of the youthful Hermes and occurs in the papyrus at xi. 12-13, establishing beyond question the identity, already sufficiently evident, of the drama. It is the myth of the infant god's exploits, his theft of Apollo's cattle and his invention of the lyre, that provides the plot. The scene is laid on Mt. Cyllene in Arcadia (ii. 4), and the characters are Apollo, Silenus and the Satyric chorus, the nymph Cyllene, and doubtless Hermes himself, though the papyrus breaks off before he appears. In the πρόλογος Apollo announces the loss of the cattle, for which he has vainly sought in the northern districts of Hellas, and offers rewards for their discovery (i-ii. 11). Silenus then comes forward, with the Satyrs in attendance, proffering his services, and Apollo promises them their freedom, as well as gold, for success (ii. 12-iii. 4). The Chorus sing a short ode (iii. 5-19) and then, urged by Silenus, start out on the quest; they are the 'Trackers' from whom the play was named. Confused traces of the cattle are soon found (iv. 15-v. 19), leading towards the entrance to a cave-dwelling (ρηγμα vns. Philostrat. Imag. i. 26). But at this point the seekers are alarmed by strange sounds, the notes of the newly-invented lyre upon which Hermes was playing within (v. 20-vi. 6). Silenus upbraids them roundly for their cowardice, and promises them the encouragement of his presence (vi. 7-viii. 11); they take heart and sing a lively little stasimon, which is unfortunately much damaged. Then again the terrifying sound is heard, and they are with difficulty restrained from decamping by Silenus, who at last himself beats loudly at the cave's mouth (ix. 2-4). The nymph Cyllene emerges, and after remonstrating against their unseemly behaviour (ix. 6-27), and warning them of the necessity for secrecy, explains that she is the nurse of the child lately born to Zeus and Maia, and tells them of his astonishing growth (xi. 8-13) and of the lyre which he had made from the shell of a tortoise and some cowhide (xi. 14-xiii. 4). provides the 'Trackers' with another clue; and they express their suspicion that the hide was obtained from the cows of Apollo (xiii. 5-13). Cyllene indignantly repels this accusation, and is still stoutly maintaining the innocence of Hermes at the end of Col. xv. Here there is a lacuna; of the next column, if it was the next, all that remains is a marginal variant containing the words 'cows' dung', and in Col. xvii, represented by the beginnings of the last sixteen lines, Apollo, summoned by Silenus and the Satyrs, reappears upon the scene, and apparently accepts their evidence as entitling them to the promised reward (xvii. 18-19). In the gap between xv. 22 and xvii. 5, therefore, the proofs were reinforced and Cyllene's discomfiture completed. What happened next is a matter of conjecture; presumably the sequel was in the main that of the Homeric Hymn: Hermes was confronted with Apollo, and appeared him with the gift of the lyre. This dénouement may not have occupied more than another two or three hundred lines; if the Cyclops is an average specimen, the length of Satyr-plays was considerably less than that of tragedies.

It is perhaps somewhat surprising that the name of Sophocles has not previously figured in the list of authors known to have treated this ancient myth. Antoninus Liberalis, who (c. 23; cf. Ovid, Met. ii. 676 sqq.) relates the incident of the informer Battus, quotes as sources the 'Ετεροιουμένων α' of Nicander, the Μεγάλαι 'Ποῖαι of Hesiod, the Μεταμορφώσεις of Didymarchus, the 'Αλλοιώσεις of Antigonus, and the 'Επιγράμματα of Apollonius Rhodius. Alcaeus is also known to have dealt with the story in a hymn to Hermes (Fr. 5; cf. Pausan. vii. 20, 4). Of the later authorities the chief is Apollodorus (iii. 10, 2), whose version is analogous to that of the Homeric Hymn, though differing in certain details. In particular, he inverts the order of the Hymn in making the theft of the cows precede the invention of the lyre. Whether Apollodorus used any source other than the Hymn is a question on which opinion has been divided. Some scholars have maintained that his discrepancies came out of his own head (cf. Gemoll, Die Homerischen Hymnen, pp. 191-2). So much, at any rate, is now clear, that in regard to the sequence of the two events he was anticipated by Sophocles, who likewise represented Hermes as utilizing the cattle for the production of the lyre. It does not necessarily follow that Sophocles originated this conception, or that he was responsible for the introduction of the nymph Cyllene, although the earliest authority for her in this connexion has hitherto been Philostephanus (Schol. Pindar, Ol. vi. 144 Φ. ἐν τῷ περὶ Κυλλήνης φησὶ Κ. καὶ Ἑλίκην θρέψαι, sc. τὸν Έρμῆν; cf. Festus ap. Paul. Diaconus, De Verb. Signif., s. v. Cyllenius . . . alii quod a Cyllene sit nympha educatus). To the poet himself, however, may reasonably be attributed two innovations at least in the story, which are bound up with his dramatic treatment of it, the discovery of the thief by means of the Satyrs, and the transference of the hiding-place of the cattle from the neighbourhood of the Triphylian Pylos to Mt. Cyllene, a course dictated by the unity of place. With reference to the invention of the lyre, it is of interest to note that this subject had a peculiar attraction for Sophocles as an expert on the instrument. We are told in the anonymous Βίος Σοφοκλέους that he turned his accomplishment to account by appearing in the Thamyras (κιθάραν ἀναλαβών ἐν μόνφ τῷ Θαμύριδί ποτε εκιθάρισεν οθεν καὶ εν τη ποικίλη στος μετὰ κιθάρας αὐτὸν γεγράφθαι φασί); and in the present play too it is highly probable that, as Wilamowitz suggests, the dramatist took an active though unseen part by producing behind the scenes the strains which terrified the Satyrs.

Apart, however, from the musical interests of the poet, for the purposes of Satyric drama the theme was well chosen. There was a strong element of comedy in the thievish and lying propensities of the infant god, which, according to the Homeric Hymn, provoked Zeus himself to great laughter; and we may surmise that it was in the later scenes, when the mischievous child was confronted with the indignant Apollo, that the humour of the piece was chiefly developed. So far as the papyrus extends there is nothing so amusing as the scene in the Cyclops where Silenus acts as cup-bearer to Polyphemus. The imitation by the Satyrs of dogs upon the scent no doubt lent itself to fun of a rather boisterous kind, though there is throughout much less coarseness than in the drama of Euripides—not that Sophocles' Satyric plays were always above reproach in this respect. Small comic touches are also noticeable here and there, such as the comparison of the Chorus starting on the search to colonists setting out for new lands (iv. 17), or the invitation which seems to be addressed by Silenus to the spectators to give information (iv. 5).

But there is a general air of light-heartedness and good humour which in the complete piece must have been very attractive. A certain amount of popularity is argued by the existence of the present copy; and as Wilamowitz points out, there is some reason to suppose that Euripides was moved to emulation. In the Antiope of Pacuvius an enigmatical description of the tortoise, similar to that in Col. xii, was given by the lyre-player Amphion (Cic. de Divin. ii. 133; cf. note on xii. 2). It is most probable that this feature was derived from Euripides, whom Pacuvius in the Antiope seems to have followed closely (Cic. De Inv. i. 94; De Fin. i. 4). If that were so, a terminus ante quem for the appearance of the 'Ixvevral is provided, since the production of Euripides' Antiope did not long precede that of the Frogs of Aristophanes in B. C. 405 (Schol. Frogs 53). But in any case our play may reasonably be placed considerably earlier than this, if only on account of its metrical strictness (see below).

Upon the much discussed question of the garb of the Chorus in Satyric drama (cf. Wernicke, Hermes, xxxii. pp. 290 sqq.; Reisch, Festschrift Gomperz, pp. 451 sqq.) the fragments throw no new light of importance, but confirm the indications of the Cyclops. As there (ll. 13, 42, 100, 369) the Satyrs, who are addressed as  $\theta \hat{\eta} \rho \epsilon s$  and  $\theta \eta \rho la$  (vi. 9, 15, ix. 6; cf. Cycl. 624), are the sons of Silenus (vi. 15, vii. 5, viii. 13, ix. 13), from which it is reasonable to infer identity of nature. The upholders of the goat-type can hardly claim as a proof of their view the simile of the goat in xiv. 16, for that has a quasi-proverbial cast, and does not imply that the person to whom it was applied was habited as a goat, though it might gain point if he were. Certainly, if the goat-form was employed at all on the Attic stage, it would be expected in a play the scene of which is laid in the mountain-haunts of Pan.

In the matter of language the Ichneutae falls fairly into line with conclusions previously formulated concerning the Satyric drama, which occupied an intermediate position between tragedy and comedy. The diction is predominantly tragic, but there is some slight admission of the words and phrases of common parlance: v. 7 ναὶ μὰ Δία (cf. Cycl. 555, 558, 586), v. 9 τουτί, vi. 13 φαλῆτες are instances, the speaker in each case being Silenus or the Satyrs. Exclamations and interjections are frequent, as in comedy, e. g. iii. 7 ἀπαπαπαῖ (cf. Cycl. 110, 572 παπαῖ, 503 παπαπᾶ), iii. 8 ὢ ὤ, iv. 2, viii. 25, xvii. 9 ἰώ, iv. 7 ἄγ' εἶα, 22 ἰδοὺ ἰδού, v. 20 ὑ ὑ ὑ ὑ, vii. 12 ὑ ὑ ὑ, ψ ψ, ᾶ ᾶ (cf. Cycl. 49 ψύττα, 157 ᾶ ᾶ ᾶ), xvii. 5 ἰοὺ ἰού (cf. Cycl. 464). A leaning towards popular speech is also to be discerned in certain homely figures and comparisons, v. 16–17 ἐχῖνος ὥς τις ἐν λόχμη . . ἤ τις πίθηκος κύβδα, vi. 8–10 μάλθης . . . σώματ' ἐκμεμαγμένα . . . ἐν πάση σκιᾶ φόβον βλέποντες, 23 φοβεῖσθε παῖδες ὧς πρὶν εἰσιδεῖν, xiv. 16 ὡς τράγος κνήκφ χλιδᾶς. The diminutive forms which are rather frequent in the Cyclops are not here in evidence. On the whole the Silenus and Satyrs of Sophocles show more restraint in language as well as in sentiment than those of Euripides.

This observation can be extended also to the metre, and the common doctrine concerning the Satyric trimeter must be applied to Sophocles with some reserve. Resolution is indeed commoner than in the tragedies. Statistics collected by A. Mancini, Il dramma satirico, pp. 82 sqq., show for the fragments of Sophoclean Satyric dramas a proportion of about I resolution in 6 lines. In the Ichneutae the proportion is somewhat lower, about I in 8; but this is more than twice as frequent as in the tragedies, where the ratio is about 1:17. Of the tribrachs all the instances are in the third (i. 12, v. 14, ix. 6, xiii. 14, 20 (?)) or the fourth (iv. 18, v. 7, vii. 9, ix. 25) foot, and the dactyls all in the third (v. 9, 15, 18, 21, 22, vi. 22, ix. 26, x. 19. xiv. 17). The position of the tribrachs must, however, be to some extent accidental, since in the Fragments they are found elsewhere. An anapaest in the first foot occurs not improbably in i. 15; in v. 17 the papyrus gives an anapaest in the fourth foot, but the passage is suspect on other grounds, and the metrical severity which marks the rest of the play is strongly in favour of emendation. There is no instance of double resolution within a verse, nor can a case be cited from the Fragments. In Fr. 305, to which Mancini refers, the α of δέατος was probably long. The iambics of the Cyclops show very much greater freedom. It has been pointed out (e.g. by Hermann, Elementa doctr. metr. p. 125) that this freedom is chiefly apparent in the lines spoken by Silenus or the Satyrs. In the Ichneutae the distinction is less clear; the tribrachs are fairly evenly divided, but Silenus or the Satyrs are responsible for all but two of the dactyls. Besides the trimeters there is the curious novelty of a dialogue of about 30 lines in iambic tetrameters (xii. 2xiii. 4).

The lyrical parts are, like those of the Cyclops, somewhat slight, and probably this reduction in scale was a usual feature of Satyric drama. In two places a short strophe is separated from the antistrophe by passages in dialogue; x. 1-8 = xi. 20-7, xiii. 5-11 = xiv. 20-6; cf. xvii. 5-7 = 10-12. The other strophes are free. A large use is made of cretics (x. 1-8, xiii. 5-11, xvii. 5-7). In the parodos (iii. 5-19) a considerable dochmiac element is remarkable; the longest stasimon, vii. 12-viii. 12 consists largely of anapaests and proceleusmatics, with some admixture of cretics.

In the reconstruction of this and the two following papyri I am under deep obligation to Professor U. von Wilamowitz-Möllendorff, who saw copies at an early stage, and both then and since has rendered generous assistance. I am also not a little indebted to Professor Gilbert Murray, and have received some useful suggestions on the Sophoclean texts from Mr. A. C. Pearson.

Of the three previously known fragments of the Ichneutae, two have occurred above (xi. 12–13, xii. 6; cf. notes ad loc.); the third is:—

293. Pollux x. 34

ἐνήλατα ξύλα

τρίγομφα διατορεῦσαί σε δεῖται

A corrupt passage, on which cf. Lobeck, Phrynichus, p. 178.

To this play may now be referred with W(ilamowitz)-M(öllendorff)

932. Athen. ix, p. 409 c

The word is given as an epithet of Hermes  $\pi \alpha \rho \hat{\alpha} \Sigma_0 \phi$  οκλεί. βοοικλεψ A, βοόκλεψ C Eustath., βοίκλεψ Musurus, βοῦκλεψ Dindorf.

i. 1-3. For the supplement of l. 1 cf. ll. 10 and 14;  $\beta \rho \rho \sigma r \hat{o} \hat{s}$  involves an accompanying  $\theta \epsilon \hat{o} \hat{a} \hat{s}$ , which will naturally precede. This line is probably the first of the play. Line 14 of Col. iv, which is marked as the 100th verse, is indeed not more than the 94th from this point, and possibly a foregoing column, of which the upper part was occupied e.g. by a hypothesis or a list of characters, has been lost; but the numeration of lines in papyri is not always exact, and if iv. 20, 22, &c., are counted as whole lines, the figure 200 at viii. 13 is but one in excess, with i. 1 as the starting-point. Apollo's name ought then to occur in l. 3.

4-5. Something like  $[\delta \epsilon \iota \nu] \delta \nu$   $[\gamma \acute{a}\rho \epsilon \acute{\sigma}\tau^{\prime} \epsilon \acute{\mu}\mathring{\eta} \delta \epsilon \delta \acute{\nu}\sigma] \lambda \circ \phi \sigma \nu$  may have stood in l. 4, but the restoration depends upon that of the next verse. Murray suggests  $[\epsilon i \phi \epsilon \acute{\nu} \epsilon \epsilon] \tau a [\iota \kappa \lambda \epsilon \dot{\psi} a \epsilon \gamma \epsilon]$ but the initial supplement is too long.

- 6. νόμενν]a (Ŵ-M) is somewhat long for the space, and perhaps a more recondite periphrasis was employed, e. g. νεανίενν]a, which W-M has also proposed. Three classes of the cattle are apparently distinguished, (1) the full-grown cows, (2) their calves, (3) the immature heifers; Murray's γένη νεογνά is thus less suitable.
- 7-16. 'They have all disappeared, and in vain I track them, wandering in secret far from the cattle's manger, hidden by some artifice. For I would not have thought that any one either of the gods or of the mortal creatures of a day would have dared so far as to do this deed. On learning it distraught with fear I set forth and search, with full proclamation to gods and men, so that none may be ignorant. For I follow frantic in pursuit. And I have visited in haste the peoples of the whole host of Thrace, but no one . . .'
- 7–8. The restoration of l. 7 and τῆλε βου]στάθμου in l. 8 are due to W–M; Murray suggests that  $\tau a \phi \rho$  may refer to a ditch surrounding Apollo's byre (e. g.  $\tau a \phi \rho [\omega \nu \, \tilde{\nu} \pi \epsilon \rho \theta \epsilon \, \nu \tilde{\nu}] \nu$ . In l. 8, where there was some difference of reading, neither the circumflex accent nor the diaeresis on  $\iota$  is quite certain; but  $[\lambda a \theta]$  is clearly indicated by the marginal  $\lambda a [$ . διασ[ above is possibly διασ[κοπῶ as a variant for  $l \chi \nu \sigma \sigma \kappa \sigma m \tilde{\omega}$ .

13. [στείχ]ω: or e. g. [ζητ]ῶ, as both W-M and Murray suggest. ν of ματευων was deleted by means of dots placed above and beneath it.

14. Either τάδε or τόδε may be right; a similar choice between singular and plural is given at iii. 25 and v. 9.

15. [ἀκολο]υθία W-M, supposing this to be the passage referred to in Bekker, Anecd. 367. 32 ακολουθία ἡ ἀκολούθησις. Σοφοκλῆς (Nauck, Fr. 899). Murray suggests [δυσπε]υθία.

16-17.  $[\Theta \rho a \kappa] \hat{\omega} \nu$  and  $\hat{a} \lambda \lambda^{*} \circ \hat{v} ] \tau \iota s$  W-M. Another method of treating the passage is to take  $]\omega \nu$  as the genitive of a more general term or as a participle, e.g.  $[\sigma \pi \epsilon \hat{v} \delta] \omega \nu$ , and to put τοῦ παντός preceding as a variant.

 $\Theta \rho \eta \kappa \iota_0$  in l. 19. Something like  $[\zeta \eta \tau \hat{\omega} \nu] \tau \iota_s$   $[\alpha \hat{\upsilon} \tau \hat{\upsilon} s \epsilon \hat{\iota} \lambda \epsilon]$  (Murray) or  $[\epsilon \tilde{\iota} \pi \omega s] \tau \iota_s$  [... would then follow in l. 17. ]  $[\tau \iota_s] \tau \iota_s$  in the margin may well be  $\sigma \tau \rho \alpha |\tau \iota_s|$  again, with something other than

18–23. That these two small fragments belong to Col. i is clearly indicated both by their appearance and contents, but their relation to each other and to the rest of the column is not definitely fixed. The worm-eaten edges of both show the same pattern, according to which  $\tau$ ]  $\partial \epsilon \sigma \sigma a \lambda \hat{\omega} \nu$  should be in the same line as  $\tilde{\epsilon}$ ]  $\pi \epsilon \iota \tau a$  [ $\delta \epsilon$ . But the worming is not an infallible guide, since the papyrus may not have been folded quite straight; and if  $\tilde{\epsilon}$ [ $\pi \epsilon \iota$ ]  $\tau a$   $\delta$  is right in 1.23, it is desirable to lengthen the interval between this and the foregoing  $\tilde{\epsilon}$ ]  $\pi \epsilon \iota \tau a$  [ $\delta \epsilon$ . This being granted, a further comparison of the worm-marks in Col. iii suggests that there is no loss between ll. 17 and 18; the adscript of which a few letters remain in the left margin of Col. ii will then be opposite 1.22, and the loss below 1.23 will extend to four verses, in which no doubt Attica was mentioned. At ii. I the Peloponnese is reached ( $\Delta \omega \rho \iota \kappa a$ ). In 11.21–2 supplements suggested by W-M are printed exempli gratia.

ii. 3–5.  $\eta \kappa \omega$  and δί[σβατον W–M, who points out that the words  $\eta \kappa \omega$ ...  $K \nu \lambda$ ] $\lambda \eta \nu \eta s$ ...  $\chi \hat{\omega} \rho \rho \nu$  give a complete sense, which only requires some ornamental amplification (ll. 4–5, e.g. δί[σβατον οτ δί[σκρημνον πέτραις δυσήνεμόν] τε). In l. 5 he would emend ε's to εί (e.g. εί δ' ί[ληβάτης ε'νταῦθα ποι]μὴν κτλ.), but this is hardly justifiable in a passage so mutilated, especially when ε's suits the context, and the corruption of εί would be inexplicable. To substitute θ' for δ' would be less objectionable; the ]θ[ in the margin (which suggests Θ[ε(ωνος) again) shows that there was some variant here.

6-17. 'Therefore if any shepherd or husbandman or charcoal-burner is by, or one of the nymph-born race of hill-roving satyrs, I announce to them one and all, whosoever captures the thief of Apollo's kine, his forthwith is the reward lying ready.

Silenus. O Phoebus, I heard thy voice raised in loud proclamation, and apprised of the matter with the haste that an old man can command, wishing to become thy favoured benefactor, Phoebus Apollo, I set out on this quest, if haply I may hunt down this thing for thee.'

12. & Φοίβε is a rather longer supplement than is expected; perhaps an epithet of φωνήμαθ' stood here.

16. The alteration of  $\tau \hat{\varphi} \delta'$  to  $\tau \hat{\eta} \delta'$ , which is proposed by W-M, is unnecessary in view of iii. 21.

17. That the agrist of κυνηγείν should be formed with a short vowel is remarkable;

cf. iii. 22 έκκυνηγέσαι.

18–21. This is a puzzling passage. If l. 18 is rightly reconstructed, Silenus means that he wishes his success to be proclaimed, like that of a victor in the games. This, however, is not convincing, nor can I regard Murray's  $\tau[a]$   $\tau'$   $a'\gamma \varphi \epsilon'$ ,  $[o\tilde{i}] \epsilon \mu o i \dots \mu o[\lambda i] \sigma \tau'$ ,  $\dot{\epsilon} \tau'$   $[a\dot{i}\lambda\epsilon i] a u [i \pi] \rho \delta \sigma \theta \epsilon \sigma o[\hat{v}' \phi \epsilon \rho o] \nu$  as more satisfactory. It is not certain at the end of l. 18 that  $\phi \epsilon$  was not followed by some other letter; and the first of the two gammas is not quite clear and may possibly be  $\rho$  or  $\sigma$ , but  $\tau[\dot{o}]$   $\gamma \dot{a} \rho \gamma \dot{\epsilon} [\rho a] \epsilon$  will hardly improve matters. In l. 19  $\epsilon \pi [m]$  may be  $\epsilon \gamma [m]$ ; the difficulty of obtaining a conjunction makes  $\pi [n] \rho \delta \sigma \theta \epsilon \sigma$ . [preferable to  $\pi \rho \delta \sigma \theta \epsilon \epsilon$ ].

In l. 20  $6\sigma\sigma\sigma\sigma\sigma$  not  $6\sigma\sigma\sigma\sigma$  is probably to be read; the loss of a  $\sigma$  is intelligible but not its erroneous insertion; some adjectival expression, meaning 'sharp-sighted', seems indicated, but the remains of the end of the verse are not readily adaptable. v before  $\epsilon$  can hardly be avoided, and above the line, between this and the supposed a, there is a slight vestige of ink which might represent a circumflex accent. The letter after  $\beta$  may as well be  $\lambda$  as a. In l. 21 the elision mark is uncertain, but it appears to stand rather too high in the line for the top of a  $\rho$ , and an optative here is not unsuitable: 'I would get my sharp-eyed sons to help, if you will perform your promises.'

22. The vestige in front of  $[.]\omega$  is hardly sufficient to give a clue to the verb; something like  $\chi\rho\nu\sigma\delta\nu$  or  $\mu\iota\sigma\theta\delta\nu$   $\pi\alpha\rho\epsilon\xi\omega$  is wanted, but  $\pi\alpha\rho\epsilon\xi\omega$  is improbable.  $\mu\circ\hat{\nu}\nu$  in iambics is a Sophoclean use.

<sup>2</sup>3. The letters  $\tau a$ [ are on a small fragment which no doubt belongs to one of the first three columns, and must on account of the paragraphicome from the bottom of Col. ii; its location in this line is, however, quite conjectural. If it is rightly placed, Fr. 1 will follow below, though whether in 24–5 or 25–6 cannot be determined.

26. The papyrus is broken close beneath this line, but it was most probably the last of the column, since it ranges with iii. 27, and the dialogue works out right on the supposition of the loss of a line at the top of Col. iii.

iii. 3. Murray suggests  $\pi o[i \eta \sigma \epsilon \iota \nu \ \mu' \ \epsilon \lambda \epsilon \dot{\nu} \theta \epsilon \rho o \nu$ , but  $\pi o[$  is perhaps more likely to be  $\pi o \hat{\iota} o s$  in some form. Silenus could not easily anticipate what the additional boon was to be.

4. Restored by W-M; cf. vi. 26-vii. 1. From whom Silenus and the Satyrs were to be 'freed' is obscure.

5 sqq. The metre of this short choral ode was partially, and perhaps to a large extent, dochmiac; l. 19 is a dochmiac dimeter, and dochmii occur also in ll. 15–16, while the remains of many of the preceding verses are compatible with the same measure. This dochmiac element, which is rarely employed in songs of the entire chorus—Soph. El. 1384–97 is another example—may be regarded as expressing the eagerness and excitement of the Satyrs.

5. It is not clear whether a dot after αγε is the vestige of a letter or a low stop. The cross-bar of the  $\epsilon$  has been lengthened by the second hand.

6.  $\beta a[\sigma w]$ , as W-M remarks, is indicated by the marginal note.

8. Cf. Aristoph. Av. 274 οὖτος ὧ σέ τοι.

12. Cf. note on x. 1.

13. That νύχια or a kindred word stood in the text may be inferred from the adscript.

14. ποσσί is a remarkable form, which is, however, credited to Cratinus (Fr. 100, Kock).

15. Murray suggests that  $\epsilon \iota \pi \omega s$  is for  $\epsilon \iota \phi$ ,  $\delta s$  (cf. ii. 12), but alterations are undesirable with so doubtful a context. The purpose of the paragraphus below this line is obscure.

16–19. The slight remains of the letter before  $\mu \epsilon \tau$  suggest the base of  $\epsilon$  or  $\sigma$ , and are preceded by a diagonal stroke consistent with a,  $\kappa$ ,  $\lambda$ ,  $\nu$ , or  $\chi$ ;  $\beta$ , though imperfect, is almost certain.  $\beta[io]^{\nu}$   $\dot{\epsilon}\mu\dot{\epsilon}$   $\tau[\epsilon]$  or  $\beta$ . ]as  $\mu\dot{\epsilon}\tau[a]$  would suit. It is, however, difficult to obtain a suitable connexion with what follows, which I leave as it stands in the papyrus, though l. 17 is open to some suspicion.  $\sigma\nu\nu\alpha\mu\alpha$   $\theta\epsilon$ s was apparently originally written, the final  $\sigma$  being corrected to  $\sigma$  by the second hand, which completed the verse. If  $\sigma\nu\nu\dot{\alpha}\mu\alpha$  is right, this is the earliest instance of the word. Taken by themselves ll. 17–19 may be construed: 'Therewith let the friendly god end our toils, who has displayed clear samples of his gold,' i. e. their life would be eased by the attainment of the reward. It appears from this that the gold was actually exhibited on the stage.  $d\nu\dot{\epsilon}\tau\omega$  can come from either  $d\nu\dot{\epsilon}\nu\alpha$  or  $d\nu\dot{\epsilon}\nu\nu$ ; the latter, giving another dochmius, is perhaps preferable.

- 20-6. Sil. 'O ye gods, Fortune and the deity who guidest steps straight, grant me success in the quest whereon I am now to speed forth to track down the plunder, booty, spoil of Phoebus from whom the stolen kine have been ravished. If any man has seen or heard tidings of them, he would both earn my gratitude by telling it, and join in benefitting king Phoebus.'
- 20. ' $A\rho(\iota\sigma\tau o\phi \acute{a})\nu(\eta s)$ : there is some variation in the abbreviations taken to represent this name. Here the letters, if rightly read, are  $a\rho$  with  $\nu$  above. In vi. 8 and ix. 6 the  $\nu$  is on a level with  $a\rho$ , and has an  $\iota$  drawn through its middle; this might well stand for ' $A\rho(\iota\sigma\tau\acute{o})\nu\iota(\kappa os)$ , if he were known as a Sophoclean commentator. At vi. 5  $a\rho$  only is written, the  $\rho$  passing through the a, by which e. g. ' $A\rho\acute{\iota}\sigma\tau a\rho\chi os$  could be meant, as we supposed in the Pindar papyrus (cf. 841. ii. 61 note). But the annotator may have allowed himself a certain amount of inconsistency, just as he writes  $\theta\epsilon\omega$  and  $\theta\epsilon$  for  $\Theta\acute{\epsilon}\omega\nu os$ ; and I have therefore avoided a multiplication of the names.

25. εμοιγ, not εμοι τ, was apparently written, but the latter is probably to be read with

W-M, as well as φράσας for δρασας.

26. I substitute συντελής for προστελης, which does not occur elsewhere and may be due to a reminiscence of l. 15 aided by the recurrence of προσφιλής immediately above. For the dative cf. Eurip. H. F. 1252 εὐεργέτης βροτοίσι.

- 27. 'Moreover the informer shall be substantially rewarded' seems to have been the sense of this verse and the next; the very slight traces before  $a\mu a$  are sufficiently consistent with  $\lambda \delta[\gamma o] \nu \theta'$  which both W-M and Murray suggest.
- iv. 2–6. The Chorus apparently make an appeal for informers to come forward, and this is taken up by Silenus: 'Does any one profess knowledge or are all ignorant? Then we must act for ourselves'; e. g.  $\phi\eta\sigma$ ίν τις  $\dot{\eta}$  [οὐδείς  $\phi\eta\sigma$ ιν εἰδέναι τάδε;] ἔοικεν ήδη κ[αὶ πρὸς ἔργ' ὁρμᾶν με δεῖν. Cf. Eurip. I. T. 1072.

7. cla: cf. vii. 10, 1175. 91. 4. The aspiration is stated to be Attic by the Venetus Scholiast on Homer I 262; cf. Herodian, ed. Lentz i. p. 495.

9. The acute accent on  $\epsilon a \nu$  is doubled, probably because the first accent fell too close to the  $\epsilon$ .

10. W-M's δίπουs for διπλουs is plausible, but as usual I hesitate to accept emendations in a very defective passage.

- 13. In the present state of the text the merits of the variant  $\chi \rho \hat{\eta} \sigma \theta \alpha \iota$  can hardly be estimated. The paragraphus below this line seems to be due to the second hand.
- 14-v. 12. Half-Chor. 'A god, a god, a god, a god. Let be, let be! We seem to have them; hold; do not . . .

Half-Chor. These are the tracks of the kine. Half-Chor. Hush! A god is leading our colony.

Half-Chor. What are we to do, friend? Were we performing our task aright? What? How say those on this side?

Half-Chor. They say yes, for these marks of themselves give clear proof.

Half-Chor. See, see, here again is the very print of the hoofs!

Half-Chor. Look well! This is the exact measurement.

Half-Chor. Come quickly and . . . if any one's ear catches the noise of the kine.

A noise.

Half-Chor. I do not yet hear their voice clearly, yet here are the very footmarks and the track of those kine plain to view.

Half-Chor. Let be! By Zeus, the footprints are reversed! They look in the opposite direction again; see here! What is this? What is the manner of their arrangement?

The front has been changed to the rear, or again they are entangled in opposite directions. A strange confusion possessed the driver.'

14 sqq. As the paragraphi indicate, the Chorus is here divided into two or more sections, but the distribution of the lines in the papyrus seems to be sometimes at fault. In one place (l. 18) a paragraphus has been cancelled, but probably wrongly, by the second hand. I have adopted the arrangement suggested by W-M, with the slight difference that he would recognize a third section of the Chorus at l. 26. A still further multiplication of parts is quite possible, but smaller divisions than  $\eta \mu \chi \delta \rho m$  are not absolutely necessary.

14. [éa W-M.

15. The vestiges of the letter before  $\rho$ , which seems to have been partially rewritten, rather suggest  $\phi$ , but a  $\tau$  is not impossible. The imperative of a verb in  $-\tau\epsilon\omega$  or  $-\gamma\epsilon\omega$  is apparently required; it would not be satisfactory to suppose that  $\epsilon\tau\epsilon\iota$  was written for  $\epsilon\tau\iota$ .

17. The first three letters of the line were supplied by the corrector, and the sign in the margin no doubt has some reference to the original defect (cf. 1175, Fr. 3.7); the dash following the  $\gamma$  was presumably inserted to fill up a blank space.  $\frac{\partial \pi_0[\kappa(a]\nu}{\partial r}$ , which appears unavoidable, may be explained as a comic touch.

18. Here again the initial letters proceed from the second hand, but in this case something was previously washed out. The authority apparently quoted in the margin for the v. l.  $\tilde{\epsilon}\tau\iota$  was not  $\Lambda\rho\iota\sigma\tau a\rho\chi os$ . [ $\dot{\epsilon}\dot{\xi}|\dot{\eta}\nu\rho\mu\epsilon\nu$ , which was suggested by W-M, seems probable, though compounds of  $\dot{\eta}\nu\rho\nu$  have not previously occurred; the compound can be avoided, as Murray remarks, by writing  $[\ddot{a}\rho']$   $\ddot{\eta}\nu\rho\mu\epsilon\nu$ .

19. With punctuation after  $\tau i$ , as suggested by Murray, a sufficiently good sense can be extracted from this line.  $\tau o \iota \sigma[.]$  is hardly to be avoided;  $\tau o$  is followed by part of a vertical stroke like that of  $\iota$  or v, and  $\sigma$  has apparently been written by the second hand through the base of the next letter.

23. αὐτό seems preferable to αὖ τό; cf. l. 25. In the marginal note ἐπίσιμον, if that be meant, may be taken to signify 'devious course'; cf. ἐπισιμοῦν, ἀποσιμοῦν: ἐπίτιμον would give no sense. The abbreviated name consists of a N with a long I through the cross-stroke, and so may begin with either Nι or Iν. Of these the former is the more likely combination, e.g. Nicander or Nicanor, though neither of these grammarians is known to have commented upon Sophocles.

25.  $[\epsilon] \kappa \mu \epsilon [\tau \rho o \hat{\nu}] \mu [\epsilon] \nu o \nu$ : or perhaps  $[\epsilon] \kappa \mu \epsilon [\mu a \gamma] \mu [\epsilon] \nu o \nu$ , as Pearson suggests.

26. What was originally written in place of  $\delta\rho \rho\mu\omega\iota$ , which looks right, is doubtful; there does not seem to have been a dittography of  $\chi\omega\rho\epsilon\iota$ . The absence of a reference after  $\sigma\tilde{\nu}(\tau\omega s)$   $\tilde{\eta}\nu$  may imply that  $\delta\rho \rho\mu\omega\iota$  was in the archetype. After the lacuna  $]\omega\nu$  is possible; some traces of ink above and beyond  $\epsilon\chi \nu\nu$  are perhaps accidental.

27. This should be the last line of the column, but since the margin is broken off there is no certainty.

v. 1. The correction in the text is repeated as an adscript perhaps for the sake of greater clearness.  $\rho o i \beta \delta o i$  was originally written, and the  $\epsilon$  may be due to the second hand.

2. ροίβδος is a stage-direction; the context indicates that notes on the lyre are meant.

3.  $\pi\omega$  is very doubtful: the  $\pi$  may also be  $\gamma$  or  $\tau$ ;  $\tau\omega$ , e.g. is not impossible.  $[\tau o\rho\hat{\omega}]_{s}$  is due to W-M.  $\phi\theta[\epsilon\gamma]\mu\alpha\tau\omega$  was doubtless written with two gammas, as in viii. 26 Schol., x. 18, &c.; cf. the note on viii. 25-7.

4. The letters av of  $av\tau a$  were converted apparently from  $o\iota$  or  $\eta$ . I take  $\mathring{\iota}\chi[\nu\eta\ldots\sigma\tau\mathring{\iota}\beta\sigma]$  as the subject of  $\pi\mathring{a}\rho a$  and  $\mu a\theta \hat{\epsilon}\hat{\iota}\nu$  as epexegetic; W–M would place a stop after  $\sigma\tau\mathring{\iota}\beta\sigma$ and make τάδε the direct object of μαθείν.

7 sqq. Cf. Η. Herm. 77-8 ἀντία ποιήσας ὁπλάς, τὰς πρόσθεν ὅπισθεν, τὰς δ' ὅπιθεν πρόσθεν, κατὰ δ' ἔμπαλιν αὐτὸς ἔβαινε,

8.  $a\vec{v}$ : so the papyrus, apparently implying punctuation after  $\beta \hat{\eta} \mu a \tau a$ . If the accent were ignored and  $a\hat{v}\tau \hat{a}$   $\delta$ ' adopted, a stop should be placed after  $\delta \epsilon \delta o \rho \kappa \epsilon \nu$  instead of at the end of 1. 7.

An indistinct mark above the first e of e1018e might be taken for a grave accent, which would, however, be incorrectly placed.

9. τουτί: the deictic form, so frequent in comedy, has hitherto been regarded as alien from the tragic writers; cf. introd. p. 34.

11. For συμπ[επλεγ]μένα cf. Xenophon, Cyn. 5. 6.

13–15. The construction is somewhat doubtful. Possibly  $\pi \rho \delta \sigma \pi a \iota o \nu$  is an adverb and κεκλιμ[ένος] κυνηγετεῖν epexegetic to τέχνην [ἐξ]εῦρες; there would then be only a comma after  $a \tilde{b}$ , the mark of interrogation being transferred to  $\gamma \hat{g}$ .

13-vi. 6. Sil. 'What then is this art that you have found, what, I say? It is strange to hunt thus prone on the ground. What is your method? I do not understand. You lie fallen like a hedgehog in a copse, or stooping like an ape you vent your spleen. What is this? Where in the world, in what sort of place, did you learn it? Tell me, for I am ignorant of these ways.

Chor. Hu! Hu! Hu! Hu!

Sil. Why do you make this cry? Whom do you fear? Whom do you see? What terror do you behold? Why do you keep raving? There was a harsh sound hard by: do you desire to learn what it was? Why are ye silent, ye who were erst so loud?

Chor. Nay, be silent!

Sil. What is it there that you keep turning from?

Chor. Listen now!

Sil. How can I listen when I hear no man's voice?

Chor. Be persuaded by me.

Sil. You will never help my pursuit.

Chor. Listen again awhile to this thing, a noise such as no mortal ever heard, whereby we are here dumb-struck and confounded.'

17. ἀποθυμαίνεις, which stands in the papyrus, might perhaps, as W-M suggests, here have the sense of ἀποθυμαῖςς, flatum emittis; cf. ὁρμαίνειν and ὁρμᾶν. But there is no other trace of such a use, and the anapaest is very objectionable.  $\kappa i \beta \delta a$  appears to be sound, though the  $\delta$  was originally omitted; there is no authority for  $\kappa i \beta a$ . It is easy to restore metrical regularity by the omission of the preposition; but the sense is unsatisfactory, since the meaning of ἀποθυμαῖς is hardly to be attributed to the simple verb, and the reading of the papyrus remains unexplained. I have been tempted to suppose that the original text had ἀπιθμαίνεις, which might easily produce ἀποθυμαίνεις: cf. Hesych. ἱθμαίνων ἀσθμαίνων and ἱσμαίνει ἀναψύχει, ἀποψύχει, ὅζει. But the evidence for this verb is too doubtful to justify its insertion. I therefore print θυμαίνεις, but only faute de mieux. Pearson, to whom  $\kappa i \beta \delta a$  suggests some erotic term, proposes  $\pi o \theta o \mu a \nu i \beta c$ .

18. W–M is no doubt right in substituting  $\tau \acute{o}\pi \varphi$  for  $\tau \rho \acute{o}\pi \varphi$ , which may easily have been brought in from the next line.

20. Cf. vii. 12 and Aristoph. Plut. 895 where  $\hat{v}$   $\hat{v}$ , repeated six times, is used to imitate the sound made by a person smelling a feast.

  $\tilde{a}[\gamma\chi o\hat{v} \tau is \tilde{\eta}\chi\epsilon] \iota \kappa \epsilon \rho \chi \nu os i \mu \epsilon i \rho \epsilon is \mu a \theta \epsilon i \nu; \tau[i \delta \tilde{\eta}\tau a \kappa \tau \lambda.]$  The first  $\epsilon$  of  $\epsilon \iota \mu \epsilon \iota \rho \epsilon \iota s$  was probably deleted by the second hand; it has a dot over it besides being crossed through. The marginal of for  $\tilde{\omega}$  is no improvement in l. 24.

26. ἀπονοσ[φίζ]εις was suggested by W-M; cf. Soph. O. T. 480. The restoration of the first half of the line is facilitated by the crasis adopted in the text; the supplement adopted is of course only one of several possibilities.

vi. 3. Murray here proposed  $\epsilon \mu [\hat{\eta} \nu] \delta i\omega [\xi \nu]$ , but  $\eta \nu$  can certainly not be got into the lacuna, which is indeed strained to the utmost by the modification printed;  $\omega$ ,  $\omega$  or a single letter would be more satisfactory. The accented letter after  $\delta$  is probably either  $\iota$  or a, and the vestige succeeding is not inconsistent with  $\omega$ ;  $\gamma$  or  $\pi$  would also be suitable.  $\tilde{\iota} \mu$  [ $\tilde{\omega}$ ]  $\tilde{\omega} \pi [\iota \sigma \tau \omega] \gamma$  would be consistent with the palaeographical conditions, but is not otherwise convincing.  $\delta i \chi [a$  cannot be read. A small vestige before  $\hat{\omega}_s$  suits e.g.  $\mu$  or  $\lambda$ , hardly  $\pi$ .

4. For χρήματος cf. xiv. 23.

- 5.  $\epsilon \xi \omega \rho \gamma i \sigma \mu \epsilon \theta a$ , if that was the verb of the text, is less appropriate than the marginal  $\epsilon \xi \epsilon \nu i \sigma \mu \epsilon \theta a$ , although this use of  $\xi \epsilon \nu i \zeta \epsilon \iota \nu$  seems otherwise to be post-classical. The compound  $\epsilon \kappa \pi \lambda \alpha \gamma \epsilon \nu \tau \epsilon s$ , as read by Aristophanes, is also preferable to the simple verb.
- 7-vii. 11. Sil. 'Why, pray, are you afraid and fearful of a noise, unclean bodies fashioned of wax, vilest of beasts, who see a terror in each shade and are alarmed at everything, who render slack, heedless, illiberal service, mere bodies, all talk and lust, professing faithfulness, but if ever it is called for, flying from performance. Yet your father, ye vilest of beasts, is one by whose youthful prowess many trophies have been set up at the homes of his brides, who was not wont to turn in flight nor be subdued nor to cower at the noises of hill-fed herds, but did deeds of strength. And their lustre is now disfigured by you at some new cheating noise of shepherds, which you fear like children before seeing its source, abandoning the hope of golden wealth which Phoebus told of and secured, and the freedom which he promised both to you and me; this you neglect, and sleep. If you do not pursue and track down the kine and their driver to their hiding-place, you shall make a noise in lamentation for your very cowardice.

Chor. Father, be present with me and yourself be my guide, that you may know well if there be any cowardice; for you yourself shall learn, if you are present, that your words are nought.

Sil. I will myself be present and urge you on by my voice, sounding the whistle that speeds on the hounds. Come, take your stand at the cross-ways, and I will stay on the scene of action and direct you.'

7. The punctuation apparently indicated by the papyrus is quite defensible (cf. e. g. Aristoph. Acharn. 345  $\mu\dot{\eta}$   $\mu\rho\iota$   $\pi\rho\dot{\phi}\phi\sigma\nu$ ) but less natural than that adopted. It can hardly be doubted that a stop was intended, though the dot is not quite in the proper position, being too far from the  $\nu$  and close to the vertical stroke of  $\phi$ .

8. Aristophanes' reading is again preferable to that of the text.

9.  $\nu$  was written by the second hand over an original  $\mu$ . The masculine  $\delta\nu\tau[\epsilon s]$  is somewhat awkward with  $\kappa\delta\kappa\iota\sigma\tau a$ , but  $\delta\nu\tau[a \kappa\dot{a}]\nu$ , which Pearson would prefer, is not adapted to the lacuna, which barely accommodates three narrow letters.

16 sqq. Cf. Eurip. Cycl. 2-9.

- 17. οἴκοις νυμφικοῖς: i. e. the caves of the nymphs; cf. Homer, H. Aphrod. 262 (Pearson).
  18. δουλ[ο]υμένου is probably sound; δειλοῦν is rare and, so far as known, post-classical.
- 20. ἀ[κ]μαῖσιν: or perhaps α[ἰχ]μαῖσιν, and this is preferred by Pearson. For ἐξειργασμένου in the active sense, which gives a better antithesis than ἐξειργασμένα, cf. e.g. Soph. Ant. 262, 384.

- 21. ὑμῶν is clearly right. Neither ὑπορρυπαίνειν nor ἀπορρυπαίνειν occurs elsewhere.
- 22. κόλακ[ι] is an unexpected epithet, the meaning of which perhaps here approximates to that of γόης; cf. Moeris, p. 113 γόης 'Αττικοί, κόλαξ 'Ελληνες.

23. [őν] W-M.

- 24.  $\chi[\rho]$ υσόφαντος is apparently found only here.
- vii. 2. ἀνανοστήσαντες is another novel form, which here seems to mean 'pursue'; cf. Soph. Phil. 43 ἐπὶ φορβῆς νόστον. It could hardly signify 'returning from the error of your ways'.

5. συμποδηγείν is used by Plato, Pol. 269 c, 270 a, but συμποδηγετείν is not elsewhere attested.

7. The variant on  $\lambda \epsilon \gamma \omega [\nu]$ , which is doubtless right, appears unintelligent.

10. W-M suggests the easy emendation τρίζυγ' εἰς, but cf. Soph. Trach. 339 τοῦ με (?) τήνδ' ἐφίστασαι βάσιν;, which confirms the testimony of the papyrus, while this in turn may be cited in support of the view that ἐφίστασαι in Trach. 339 is intransitive. For the rough breathing on οἴμου W-M refers to Arcadius 199 (Herodian i. 546, Lentz) τὸ οἶμος, οἰμῶ δασύνεται.

12 sqq. The rhythm of this song, which is unfortunately defective nearly throughout, is largely anapaestic, the anapaests being often resolved into proceleusmatics; cf. Aristoph. Av. 327 sqq. and the Hyporcheme of Pratinas (Fr. 1, Bergk). Cretics are also used, while

l. 15 is apparently Glyconic.

12. ψ here is apparently used like ψίττα or ψύττα, 'Pst!'

13. ὑπέκλαγες is a novel compound, but ὑποκρίζειν is used by Aelian, N. A. 6. 19; for the form cf. the variant κρίγε for κρίκε in Hom.  $\Pi$  470, and the commentators thereon.

15. The second  $\omega$  of  $\pi\rho\omega\tau\omega$  has been rewritten.

16.  $\tilde{\epsilon}\chi\epsilon_{l}$  is the second person of the passive: 'I have you'; cf. l. 17.  $\eta$  of  $\epsilon\lambda\eta\lambda\nu\theta\epsilon\nu$  has been altered by the second hand from  $\epsilon$  in both instances.

18. The marginal reading is the more attractive; δευτερωι was probably due to the influence of  $\pi \rho \dot{\omega} \tau \phi$   $\tau is \delta \delta \epsilon$  in l. 15.

19. δράκις is an unknown form, which, however, in consideration of the adjacent γράπις it is rather hazardous to emend to δρακείς (Pind. Nem. vii. 3, Fr. 123. 2); W-M compares Δόρκις. An acute accent may have disappeared above the a. γράπις is described by Hesychius as εἶδος ὀρνέου.

22. The narrowness of the lacuna indicates that the letter lost before the final  $\nu$  was probably 0, but the word was apparently not  $\nu o \mu o \nu$ ;  $\nu o \mu o \nu$  is not impossible.

26.  $\delta \rho$  : or  $\delta \iota$  .

viii. 2.  $\delta \epsilon$  is cancelled by a stroke above the line; cf. x. 6 and 843. 142-3, &c.

- 8. The confusion between  $\eta$  and  $\epsilon \iota$  is common; the former here seems likely to be correct.
  - 9. Not  $o\lambda\beta$ : the letter after  $\lambda$  was probably o or  $\omega$ .

11. ϵἴσιθ': W-M would prefer ἔπιθ'.

13-24. Chor. 'Father, why are you silent? Did we speak the truth? Do you not hear the sound, or are you deaf?

Sil. Be silent; what is it? Chor. I shall not stay.

Sil. Stay, if you can.

Chor. I cannot; but do you search and track them down as you please, and enrich yourself by getting the kine and the gold . . .

Sil. But I will by no means allow you to leave me or to withdraw from this task, before we know clearly what is within this dwelling here.'

13–14. εἴπομεν and ψόφον were restored by W–M. If εἴπομεν is right, μῶν, for which οὐκ would rather be expected, may have an ironical sense, 'You don't mean that we spoke the truth?' But μῶν sometimes practically loses its negative force; cf. Stallbaum's note on Plato, Lys. 208 c. With the form of l. 14 cf. e. g. Eurip. Rhes. 565-6 Διόμηδες, οὐκ ἤκουσας,  $\mathring{\eta}$  κενὸς ψόφος στάζει δι' ἄτων, τευχέων τινὰ κτύπον;

15. Since ll. 13-14 and apparently 18-21 must be assigned to the Chorus, the verse contained in ll. 15-17 should be distributed into three parts instead of four as in the papyrus.  $\tau i \, \tilde{\epsilon} \sigma \tau \nu$  is therefore to be combined either with  $\sigma i \, [\gamma a]$  or  $o \tilde{\nu} \, \mu \epsilon \nu \hat{\omega}$ , and the former alternative is the more natural. W-M prefers  $\sigma(\gamma\hat{\omega})$ .

A quite different and in some respects not unattractive view of this passage is taken by Pearson. He would keep the arrangement given by the papyrus in ll. 15–19, assigning 16 τί ἔστιν, 18 μέν, εἰ θέλεις and 23 sqq. to the Chorus, 17 οὐ μενῶ and 19–22 to Silenus; the latter then becomes the person anxious to leave the scene, and would do so at l. 22, where the restoration ὡς ἐμοὶ δοκ]ε[ι] μὴ πλεῖστ[ον] ἔτι μ[έ]ν[οντα διατρίβειν] χρόνον is suggested exempli gratia. So sudden a volte face on the part of both Silenus and Satyrs might be comic, but it is hardly natural; moreover this theory also involves a departure from the original, where changes of speaker appear to be indicated by the paragraphi below ll. 24 (25) and ix. 1. Those paragraphi are not easily interpreted as marking the distinction between iambics and lyrics; cf. l. 12, where there is no paragraphus.

17–18. It is clear from the marginal note that 1. 18 ended  $\delta\pi\eta$   $\delta \delta \nu a$ . For this the annotator wished to substitute  $\delta\pi\eta$   $\theta \epsilon \lambda \epsilon \iota s$ , and there would be something to be said for his preference were it not for the awkwardness—which he apparently did not feel—of the repetition of  $\theta \epsilon \lambda \epsilon \iota s$ . W-M points out that this may be removed to the advantage of the sense by simply transposing the two verbs.  $\delta \dot{\nu} \iota a$  in 1. 17 is well suited to the reply of the Chorus  $\delta \dot{\nu} \iota a$  and  $\delta \dot{\nu} \iota a$  are retained as they stood in the papyrus,  $\mu \dot{\epsilon} \iota a$   $\theta \dot{\epsilon} \lambda \epsilon \iota s$  is perhaps best regarded as an unfinished sentence: 'Stay, if you wish (to share in the reward)'; 'Stay, if you please' would be too polite,—unless, indeed, the tone was ironical.

19. λαβών W-M.

20 sqq. Since the ends of these lines are on a different fragment, their length cannot be determined very accurately. Some standard of measurement is, however, provided by 1. 18, where the supplement is certain, though it is of course not certain at what distance the marginal note was begun from the conclusion of the line. Assuming an interval of average extent, I estimate that there would be about thirteen letters in 1. 20 between  $\chi\rho\nu\sigma\sigma\nu$  and ] $\epsilon$ , and the loss in the lines below has been calculated on that basis.

21.  $\pi \lambda \epsilon \iota \sigma \tau$  is hardly to be avoided;  $\pi \lambda \epsilon \iota \sigma \nu$  can certainly not be read. The letter after the lacuna is probably  $\epsilon$  or  $\sigma$ ; that after  $\tau \iota$  may be  $\mu$  or  $\nu$ .

22–4. The restorations of course only aim at giving the apparent sense. ἐξυπέρχεσθαι is unknown, but would be a not unnatural poetical variation of ὑπεξέρχεσθαι. In l. 24 Murray proposed ὅν[τιν'] ῆ[δ' ἔσω κρύπτει στέγη, which I have adapted to the requirements of the papyrus, the η of ῆ[δε being inadmissible. The letter in question, if not ε, should be ρ or possibly  $\beta$ .

25–7. The Chorus make an ineffective summons to the occupant of the cave.  $\mu\iota\sigma]\theta\delta[\nu$  was restored by W–M, who in the marginal note above proposes  $\hat{a}$   $\phi\nu\sigma[\hat{a}]s$ ; but the narrow space and the flourished form of the  $\iota$  are both against a and in favour of - $\epsilon\iota s$ . Possibly  $\hat{a}\phi\dot{\nu}\xi\epsilon\iota s$  stood in the text. I write  $\phi\theta\dot{\epsilon}\gamma\mu a$  according to the ordinary orthography, although as W–M remarks, the doubled  $\gamma$  which is found here and at x. 18, xi. 15, xii. 3, xiii. 4 was preferred by Herodian; cf. Crönert, Mem. Gr. Hercul. p. 69.

ix. 2-18. Sil. 'He will not appear to them; but I by making a noise upon the ground with many leaps and kicks will quickly compel him to hear though he be very deaf.

Cyllene. Beasts, why came ye rushing with many shouts to this green wooded hill, abode of animals? What is this device, what this change from the tasks wherewith you erst pleased your lord, who clad in fawn-skin and bearing the light thyrsus was ever wont to raise before you the cry evoe in the god's train along with the nymphs his offspring and the throng of his sons? But now I understand not the matter, whither the gusts of new frenzy whirl you. For it is a riddle! I heard a cry befitting hunters who have come near to the brood of an animal in their lair, and at the same time . . .'

2. τοίσιν after φαν[είτ] αι could hardly be taken as instrumental. For the demonstrative use cf. e.g. Soph. O. C. 742 ἐκ δὲ τῶν μάλιστ' ἐγώ.

3. πέδορτος, like κυνορτικός in vii. 9, is a ἄπαξ εἰρημένον.

5.  $\hat{\eta}$ : the third person is evidently required, and the correction is easy; cf. Soph. Ant. 710 κεί τις  $\hat{\eta}$  σοφός, and vi. 13 above.

For the redundant ωστε cf. e.g. Soph. O. C. 1350 δικαιῶν ωστ' ἐμοῦ κλύειν λόγους.

6. The marginal variant would have the effect of balancing the epithets, χῶρον ὑλώδη= πάγον ἔνθηρον, but does not seem very probable; possibly even χωρον is a mistake for χλωρον.

9.  $\epsilon \iota \pi \epsilon s$  is strange, and W-M's correction  $\epsilon i \chi \epsilon s$  is an evident simplification.

εὐπαλής and εὐπαλέως are used by Ap. Rhod. ii. 618, iv. 193.

12. For the middle form εὐιάζετ' cf. Eurip. Bacch. 67 Βάκχιον εὐαζομένα. The corrector's εὐίαζες, which is unintelligible, looks as if he had taken εὐιάζετ' for a second person plural active. It was presumably to this word that the marginal note  $\zeta \dot{\eta}(\tau \epsilon \iota)$  referred. alteration of the termination involved the transference of the accent, and that on a was cancelled by means of the dots on either side of it, as in 841. vi. 88, ix. 17, 1082. I.

 13. The emendation of ποδῶν to παίδων is due to W-M. 14.  $\nu \notin [\omega] \nu$ : the space seems almost too narrow for  $\omega$ , and would better suit  $\nu \notin [\sigma] \nu$ , which however is less apposite.

15. Theon's variant, with which of course there would be no stop after  $\gamma \acute{a} \rho$ , is less attractive.

16. The first o of ομου has been converted from ε, and in l. 18 also εμου was probably first written, though there the alteration is less obvious and may be due to the original

18-23. Though the wording of this passage is elusive, its purport is evident. After mentioning the sounds of hunters on the trail (ll. 15-17) the nymph says that she has also heard accusations of some theft (ll. 18-19), proclamations (ll. 20-1), and finally knocks and kicks on the door (ll. 22-3). In ll. 18-19 å $\nu$  . . .  $\epsilon^{2}\tau\epsilon^{i}\nu\epsilon^{i}$ , if correct, is iterative.  $\epsilon^{2}\nu^{2}$  a $\delta^{2}\tau^{2}$ might be read, but the  $\iota$  is more suitable, and there seems to be nothing for  $a\partial \tau \hat{\eta} | \nu$  to refer to except  $\tau \rho o[\phi]\hat{\eta}s$ , which is unsatisfactory, while to emend to  $a\partial h\hat{\eta}[\nu$ , as Murray suggests, is too precarious. The letter before  $a\iota$  (or as?) may well be  $\kappa$ , i. e.  $\kappa a\iota$ ;  $]\tau\iota a\iota$  is not possible.  $\epsilon \tau \epsilon \iota \nu \epsilon[\tau]$ is more probably third person singular passive than second person plural active, or ἔτεινε|ν could be restored, with the division a τις, ἔτεινέρν τ les being of course excluded on metrical grounds; there is not room for  $\epsilon \tau \epsilon i \nu o [\nu \tau' \epsilon] i s$ . It remains to find some word like  $\beta \epsilon \lambda \eta$  to be the subject of ετείνε[τ' or the object of ετείνε[ν and to go with γλώσσης. τόξ]α καί, however, is too long, while i a kai is hardly long enough, even if Sophocles were likely to have used the neuter form, which occurs only once in Homer. A vestige of ink above the lacuna might indeed be the remains of a diagresis on  $\iota$ , but it suggests rather a circumflex accent or an inserted letter. ].  $\epsilon \nu a \iota$  at the end of the line is doubtless a perfect infinitive, ]  $\kappa \epsilon \nu a \iota$  or  $\chi \epsilon \nu a \iota$ .

20. αὖτις: this form is now admitted as Attic beside αὖθις; cf. W-M's note in Sitzungsber. Preuss. Akad. 1907, p. 872.

22. I adopt Murray's σύν, which is perhaps not inconsistent with the remains, though not at all convincing. λακ[τίσματος depending on [κ]ληδών is an alternative.

24–7. The sense seems to be 'But for some other evidence I should have supposed (or, "In other circumstances I should suppose") from such a conflict of sounds that you were mad'. Given the probable  $\phi$  in l. 26,  $\tilde{\epsilon}$ ] $\phi\eta[\nu$ , as Murray suggests, is attractive; but I cannot reconcile the remains with  $\tilde{\epsilon}\phi\eta\nu$   $\tilde{a}\nu$ , and  $\phi a[i]\eta[\nu]$  is another possibility, e. g.  $ai\nu[a\tilde{a}\sigma]$   $\phi a[i]\eta[\nu]$   $a\nu$   $\phi \rho \epsilon \nu a\nu$   $\nu \alpha \epsilon \nu$   $\nu \alpha \epsilon \nu$   $\nu \alpha \epsilon \nu$   $\nu \alpha \epsilon \nu$   $\nu \alpha \epsilon \nu$  is inadmissible before  $\epsilon \nu \mu \alpha \epsilon$ , but  $\delta \alpha \epsilon \mu \alpha \nu$  might serve. In l. 24  $\epsilon \alpha \lambda \lambda \alpha \nu$ , if that is right (the  $\epsilon$  is extremely doubtful), may be followed by  $\epsilon \alpha \nu$  and the letter after  $\epsilon \alpha \nu$  can be  $\epsilon \alpha \nu$

27. I should like to read  $\tau i \nu \dot{\nu} \mu \phi \eta \dot{\gamma} \dot{\nu} \dot{\tau} \tau o \hat{\epsilon} \dot{\tau}'$ , but though the supposed  $\pi$  of  $\pi o \epsilon i \tau$  may well be  $\tau$  (or  $\gamma$ ),  $\pi$  for  $\tau i$  is not possible. A fair sense, however, is obtainable with  $\tilde{\epsilon} \tau i \pi o \epsilon i \dot{\tau}'$ ,

'What will you do next to an innocent nymph?'

x. I-xi. 19. Chor. 'Deep-girded nymph, stay this wrath, for indeed no strife of hostile conflict approaches thee, nor methinks would any unfriendly or vain words from us touch thee. Do not thou be forward in reviling me, but graciously disclose this thing, who is it who here below the ground uttered in such wondrous wise an awesome sound.

Cyll. This is now a gentler mood than before, and seeking thus will you more easily learn than by deeds of strength and attempts upon a hapless nymph. For it pleases me not thus to stir up shrill strife of words. Come, reveal and tell to me calmly what is the thing that ye chiefly need.

Chor. Queen of this region, mighty Cyllene, I will tell thee afterwards for what I came. But tell us of this voice which resounds and what mortal expresses himself therewith.

Cyll. You must know this clearly, that, if you reveal these words of mine, a penalty is in store for yourselves. For in the seats of the gods the deed is concealed in order that no tidings of the story may reach Hera. For Zeus came to the hidden dwelling of the daughter of Atlas... and in a lonely cave he begat a son, whom I nurse in my arms; for his mother's strength is shaken by illness. And I staying by the cradle prepare an infant's nurture, food and drink and rest, night and day. But he grows daily to a more than natural stature, so that I am seized by wonder and fear. For though he has been born not yet six days his limbs press on to the maturity of boyhood, and this shoot springs upward and tarries not. Such is the boy who is stored within; and he is still concealed by the command of his father. And the voice of which you ask, ringing out by an unseen instrument, and at which you were much amazed, he himself devised in a single day out of an upturned box; such is the vessel brimful of delight which he fashioned out a dead beast and makes resound below.'

x. 1-8. This short ode is no doubt in strophic correspondence with xi. 20-xii. 1, where the number of lines is the same and so far as preserved they are metrically equivalent, xii. 1, the one complete verse, coinciding with x. 8. The measure is predominantly cretic, with an iambic monometer (ll. 1, 2, 4, 6) or dimeter (l. 3) at the beginning of some of the lines; the last line ends with a brachycatalectic trochaic tetrapody (ithyphallic); cf. xiii. 5-13, xiv. 20-6. The supplements at the ends of ll. 1-4 were suggested by Murray; the restoration of l. 6 and partially of l. 7 is due to W-M.

1. νύμφη: cf. xi. 20 βοῆς, iii. 12 and xii. 1 γῆρυν, xiii. 5 ὀμφή, forms which stand in contrast with iii. 12  $\pi \alpha \tau \rho \iota \kappa \dot{\alpha} \nu$ , x. 3  $\mu \dot{\alpha} \chi \alpha s$ , 8  $\dot{\epsilon} \gamma \dot{\alpha} \rho \nu \sigma \dot{\epsilon} \ldots \dot{\alpha} \dot{\nu} \dot{\delta} \dot{\alpha} \dot{\nu}$ , xiv. 26  $\tau \dot{\alpha} [\sigma \delta]$ . I leave these inconsistencies unaltered.

2. v of τουδ' was a later insertion, i. e. the original text combined τόδ' with νείκος, which is quite intelligible.

6. δε of μηδε has been cancelled in the same way as in viii. 2 by a horizontal stroke over the letters.

8. This line, which was originally omitted, has been inserted by the corrector in the upper margin. Probably the note ἄνω (' see above ') was added at the end of l. 7.

9-13. The restorations printed of the ends of these lines are substantially Murray's. In l. 10 he proposed ἐκπύ[θοισθε ῥἆον ἄν, suggesting that θηρῶν was a mistake for θῆρες. But this is unnecessary if  $\theta\eta\rho\hat{\omega}\nu$  be regarded as the participle and the singular substituted for the plural; while I prefer μᾶλλον to ρ̂φον as softening the construction of the following genitives, which are equivalent to η with the dative (as e.g. Eurip. Cycl. 273-4 τωδε του Ραδαμάνθυος μάλλον πέποιθα). ἀλκασμάτων in l. 11 and ὀρθοψάλακτον in l. 13 are new words. For the former, to which the sign in the left margin is probably intended to draw attention, W-M suggests λακασμάτω, and this would be an easy correction; but since ἀλκάζειν is attested both by the Etym. Magnum and Hesychius, it is hardly necessary, and λάκασμα itself would be ἄπαξ εἰρημ., though λακάζειν is used by Aeschylus. The recurrence in this play of ψαλάσσειν or its derivatives is rather curious; cf., besides l. 5 above, xiii. 5. If ὀρθοψάλακτος is rightly restored in the latter passage,  $\partial \rho \theta \sigma$  would seem to have the sense of  $\partial \rho \theta \omega$ . [oi]k in l. 12 is very uncertain, but perhaps preferable to, e.g., οὐ] π[ρέπει.

14.  $\mu[\hat{\eta}]\nu\nu\epsilon$  [ $\mu\omega$  W-M and Murray.

16. It is questionable whether the speaker here and in the following dialogue is Silenus or the Chorus. W-M would prefer the former, chiefly on account of xiv. 15-17, where see the note; but xii. 2-3 and xiii. 14-16 distinctly point the other way. To give those lines to Silenus is practically to make him here Coryphaeus. It may also be noticed that in ix. 9-13 Silenus (if he is meant by δεσπότη) is apparently spoken of as if he were not present; and a comic effect would be produced if, after his valiant protestations, when Cyllene actually emerged he beat a temporary retreat and left the Satyrs to cope with the situation. Pearson would get rid of Silenus rather sooner; cf. the note on viii. 15.

18. The text is probably sound; Theon's v. l. looks like an attempted improvement.

19. δι[α]χαράσσεται here appears to have the metaphorical sense acquired by χαρακτήρ, &c., but I have found no other instance of such a use of the verb.

25-7. The general sense is evident, but its precise expression is beyond recovery. In 1. 25 the initial  $\zeta$  is quite doubtful and may be  $\tau$ ; and  $\gamma$  of  $\sigma \tau \epsilon | \gamma \eta \nu$ , which was suggested by W-M, may also be τ. At the end of l. 26 Murray proposes άβουλ είσατο, and the verse might then be completed e.g.  $[\tau \dot{\eta} \nu \delta] \tilde{\eta} \lambda \theta \epsilon$ ,  $\kappa d \xi \dot{\epsilon} \pi \rho a \xi \epsilon \nu$ .

xi. 2-3. Restored by W-M. Cf. Homer, H. Herm. 6-9.

5.  $[\kappa d\delta \epsilon \sigma \tau] \dot{\alpha}$  (W-M) is the natural correlation of  $\pi \sigma \tau \dot{\eta} \tau a$  and need not occasion surprise in the case of such a prodigy.  $[\kappa \dot{\alpha} \sigma \theta \hat{\eta} \tau] a$  would be preferable for a more ordinary infant of six days.

6. λικνίτιs is a ἄπαξ εἰρημένον. On the use of the λίκνον as a cradle cf. Miss Harrison's article in J. H. S. xxiii. pp. 294 sqq.

 Compounds of εὐθετίζειν seem not to occur; [έξευθ]ετίζω is well-adapted to the space and, as W-M remarks, has the analogy of εξευτρεπίζειν, which is used by Euripides in El. 75.

8.  $\delta$  8, which is the obvious supplement, is admissible on the supposition that the  $\epsilon$  was unelided; otherwise the space would not be filled.

9. A stop may have disappeared at the end of the line.

10–11. οὔπω and [γυίοι]s were restored by W–M. The latter, however, does not produce a very satisfactory line, since παιδόs, which has to be constructed with what follows, is awkward, and some supplement on which παιδόs would depend, like  $i\sigma\chi$ ύs or δέμαs, would have decided advantages. But it seems difficult to obtain this without altering ἐκπεφασμέν[ο]s, for I cannot regard Murray's suggestion [πρίστη]s for πριστήρ δδούs as probable; neither is Pearson's [μέτροι]s (cf. Eur. Ion 354) convincing. By the marginal note a variant ἔκτην ἡμέραν πεφασμένοs is presumably implied; but there is no reason for preferring this to what stands in the text.

12-13. [κάξορ]μενίζει . . . [βλάστη] = Soph. Fr. 294, preserved in Athen. ii. p. 62 f. and without the name of the play in Eustath. II. p. 899. 17, in both places with the reading ἐπισχολάζεται, for which Meineke proposed κοὖκ ἔτι σχολ., a conjecture now confirmed by the papyrus. Of the variants  $\sigma \tau \dot{\epsilon} \gamma \epsilon \iota$  and  $\tau \rho \dot{\epsilon} \phi \epsilon \iota$  the former seems preferable.

14. [δυσεύρε]τος, which Murray suggests, gives a good sense, though the supposed s is a little too far apart from the o. It is necessary to write [τ', not [δ', in order to account for the accent, which is clear. [ἐγκλησ]τέος (Pearson) does not suit the remains.

15-19. The restoration of this first account of the lyre is very problematical. W-M's supplement in l. 18 and  $\delta[o\nu\epsilon\hat{i}]$  at the end of l. 19 look probable; and a relatival construction in l. 15, as desired by Murray, seems well suited to the run of the sentence. For the rest I only aim at an indication of the sense. At the beginning of l. 15 the supposed tail of the  $\phi$  might be taken for an acute accent on the a below, but this is less likely, and  $a\phi[$  or  $a\psi[$  is practically certain. In l. 16  $\kappa ai$  is followed by an upright stroke suiting  $\gamma$ ,  $\kappa$ ,  $\nu$ ,  $\pi$ , or  $\tau$ . The word beginning with  $\kappa[$  in l. 17 is rather puzzling; neither  $\kappa[i\sigma\tau\eta s, \kappa[i\lambda\eta\eta s]$

(Murray), nor κ[όγχης is convincing,—any more than ἄ[γγος in 1. 19.

A word must be added concerning the arrangement of the latter part of this column. The beginnings of ll. 15-26 are on a detached fragment, and since the papyrus is broken immediately below the  $\epsilon$  of  $\epsilon[\kappa\theta a\nu\delta\nu]\tau os$  (?), there is the bare possibility that there was another line below this  $]\epsilon[$ , in which case the beginnings of ll. 15-26 would have to be moved a line lower down,  $\dot{a}\phi[$  corresponding with ]s  $\dot{\eta}\mu\dot{\epsilon}\rho\dot{a}$   $\mu\dot{a}$ , and so on. An additional verse in the much compressed account of the lyre might be thought no disadvantage, and the close conjunction of  $\pi a\hat{\imath}s$  and  $\pi a\imath\delta o[$  in ll. 20-1 would also be obviated. On the other hand the top of the column would not be level with Col. x but would protrude above it, and I am satisfied that the arrangement adopted is correct.

22. The supposed high stop may be the top of an inserted i.

24. ] ov is perhaps the end of the line. 26.  $\epsilon \kappa \theta a v \delta v \tau \sigma s$ , W-M; cf. l. 18.

xii. 2-16. Cyll. 'Be not now faithless; faithful are the words of a goddess which greet your ear.

Chor. How can I believe that the voice of what is dead sounds so loudly?

Cyll. Believe, for the beast received a voice by death, but in life was speechless.

Chor. What was his shape? Long, or curved, or short? Cyll. Short like a pipkin, curved, with a dappled skin. Chor. Is he to be compared to a cat or to a panther?

Cyll. Something between, for he is round and short-legged.

Chor. Does he not resemble a lizard or a crab?

Char Well is his shape that of a horned bestle of Three?

Chor. Well, is his shape that of a horned beetle of Etna? Cyll. Now you have nearly guessed what the animal most resembles.

Chor. Tell us what is the part that sounds, the inside or the outside.

Cyll. It is . . . of . . . skin, akin to a shell.

Chor. By what name do you call it? Supply it if thou hast ought further to tell. Cyll. The boy calls the beast a tortoise, and the part that sounds, a lyre.'

2 sqq. This use of iambic tetrameters in dialogue is unique in Attic drama. The neglect of diaeresis between the two halves of the verse is a noticeable feature. Murray observes that the same metre is possibly to be recognized in Soph. Fr. 672. With the enigmatical description of the tortoise cf. the griphus of Pacuvius, ap. Cic. De Divin. ii. 133:

Quadrupes tardigrada, agrestis, humilis, aspera, Capite brevi, cervice anguina, aspectu truci, Eviscerata, inanima, cum animali sono.

See introd. p. 34.

4. Cf. Nicand. Alex. 56 1 αὐδήεσσαν ἔθηκεν ἀναύδητόν περ ἐοῦσαν. των is obviously an error for ζῶν, which is rightly supplied by the marginal note. How this continued is uncertain; νη[ῦδος, which is suggested by Mr. Allen, is plausible, but the form is unknown; νε[ may also be read.

6. There is not much to choose between χυτρώδης and the v. l. τροχώδης; the former occurs only here. ρικνοῦσθαι is cited from the Ichneutae by Photius and Suidas (Soph. Fr. 295), the reference perhaps being to the present passage, although their interpretations of the word are inapposite here.

7. αἰέλουρος was known to be a Sophoclean form from the Berlin MS. of Photius lately edited by Reitzenstein, Anfang Lex. Phot.

The use of  $\tau \omega_s$  for  $\dot{\omega}_s$ , which here does not admit of the same easy remedy as in ii. 12, is very remarkable.  $\tau \dot{\omega}_s = \ddot{\omega}_s$  is common in Epic poetry and also occurs in the lyrics of Aeschylus and in Soph. Aj. 841, a passage generally regarded as spurious. Of  $\tau \omega_s = \dot{\omega}_s$ , ut, the only examples adduced are Aristoph. Ach. 762 (Doric) and Aesch. S.c. Th. 637.

9. W-M's substitution of the nom. for the datives after ωs is plainly necessary. προσφερής ωs does not apparently actually occur, but cf. e.g. the use of δμοῖος with ωσπερ, ώστε, &c.

- 11. Αἰτναῖος: cf. Soph. Fr. 165 ἀλλ' οὐδὲ μὲν δὴ κάνθαρος τῶν Αἰτναίων πάντως, and Aristoph. Pax 73 Αἰτναῖον μέγιστον κάνθαρον with the scholia thereon, whence the Sophoclean fragment is derived.
- 14. ] ορινη seems to be a compound of ρίνος formed in the same way as κοσκινόρινος, which is cited by Hesychius, although a compound of this kind would not be expected to have three terminations. ορείνη was written by the copyist, but over the ε there is a clear dot which was presumably intended to cancel it; ὀρείνη would be a suitable epithet of the tortoise itself (cf. e g. H. Herm. 33 χέλνς ὅρεσι ζώουσα, 42 ὀρεσκώοιο χελώνης) but hardly of its shell in this context, and a reference to the shell is expected from the question in l. 13. At the end of the verse neither the text nor the marginal variant is intelligible; the former, as W-M remarks, looks like a mixture of τῶν ὀστράκων and ὀστρέων, and, with ]ορίνη, it appears probable that τῶν ὀστράκων was the original reading; cf. H. Herm. 32-3 πόθεν τόδε καλὸν ἄθυρμα αἰόλον ὅστρακον ἔσσ(ο); If on the other hand the verse be supposed to refer to the whole animal and not only the shell, ὀρείνη and ὀστρέων will make the better antithesis.

15.  $\pi\lambda[\epsilon]o\nu$ : or possibly  $\pi\alpha[\rho]\delta\nu$ .

16. [τὸν . . . χέλυν Murray.

18. sqq. Cf. the description of the lyre in H. Herm. 47 sqq., Lucian, Deor. Dialog. 7. 4. δέρμα probably refers to the cow's hide; cf. xiii. 21-4 and xiv. 24. For the next word κ[ω] στρ[ακον, which W-M suggests, is possible.

Where the stichomythia stops is uncertain; it may extend a few lines beyond this point.

19. κλαγγά[νειν is used by Soph. Fr. 874. 4 of birds.

24. ]  $\alpha \mu \mu \alpha \tau \omega$  [ might well be  $\dot{\alpha} \mu \mu \dot{\alpha} \tau \omega$  [ν, for which the corrector wished to substitute  $\dot{\alpha} \mu \mu \dot{\alpha} \tau \omega$  [ν. Too little of the a is preserved to show whether there was a deletion.

xiii. I-16. Cyll. '... And this is an assuagement of pain and refreshment to him alone, and he delights in the mad joy and in singing an accompaniment of song; for he is exalted by the cunning device of the lyre. Thus did the boy design a voice for a dead heast Chor. A loud voice goes forth over the land, and through its tones culls clear images of the scene (?). But the point to which step by step I bring the matter is, know that the deity, whoever he is, who invented this, he and none other is the thief, lady, for sure. But be not enraged nor wrathful at this.

Cyll. What delusion possesses you? Whom do you revile for theft?

Chor. By Zeus, lady, I would not vex thee. Chor. Do you call the son of Zeus a robber?'

1. ἄκεστρον as a synonym of φάρμακον is attributed by Hesychius to the Palamedes of Sophocles (Fr. 439); παραψυκτήριον is not otherwise attested.

2-3. The nymph does not seem to have taken much pleasure in Hermes' musical efforts. Homer makes the audience more appreciative: H. Herm. 60 ἀμφιπόλους τε γέραιρε καὶ ἀγλαὰ δώματα νύμφης, though there too (54, 420) the lyre σμερδαλέον κονάβησε. For καὶ . . . ξύμφωνον cf. ibid. 54-5 θεὸς δ' ὑπὸ καλὸν ἄειδεν ἐξ αὐτοσχεδίης πειρώμενος. At the end of the line W-M's μέλος is better than ἔπος, of which I had thought.

3. αἰόλισμα: cf. Soph. Fr. 826 μηδ' αἰόλιζε ταῦτα (Schol. Theocr. i. 56), and Bekk.

Anecd. 361. 2 αἰολίζειν τὸ ποικίλλειν οὕτω Σοφοκλης. The substantive is found only here.

4. Cf. H. Herm. 38 ην δε θάνης, τότε κεν μάλα καλον αείδοις.

5-7. Lines 5-11 evidently correspond to xiv. 20-6, as x. 1-8 did to xi. 20-xii. 1, and the metrical scheme is of the same character as before. In l. 5 οψαλακτος is a vox nihili, and a comparison of xiv. 20 indicates that a syllable is missing. W-M suggests ἀπροψάλακτος, Murray ὀρθοψάλακτος, of which I adopt the latter partly because there is already evidence for that compound (x. 13), partly because it would perhaps lend itself rather more readily to the corruption. A further defect is disclosed at the beginning of l. 6, where the papyrus gives a spondee instead of a cretic. The mark of length on πρεπτά, which was accordingly constructed with ὀμφή, is thus suspect, and becomes further discredited through W-M's apt reference to Hesych. πρεπτά φαντάσματα, εἰκόνες, which appears to relate to this very passage. I have therefore inserted δ' αδ, which removes the asyndeton and might rather easily have dropped out before διά.

But though metrical regularity may be restored without difficulty, ll. 6-7 remain not a little obscure. ἐπανθεμίζειν does not occur, but ἀνθεμίζεσθαι is used by Aeschylus, Suppl. 73 γοεδνὰ δ΄ ἀνθεμίζομαι, which the scholiast explains τῶν γόων τὸ ἄνθος ἀποδρέπομαι. 'The song plucks local images' might be interpreted as meaning that the scenery was depicted by the song; if Hermes was singing as well as playing, this mode of description is perhaps not incredible. It is hardly to the point to cite P. Hibeh 13. 31-2 οὐδὲ αἰσχυν[όμενο]ι ἐξειν[εῖν] τῶ[ν] μελῶν τὰ μὲν δάφνης ἔξειν [ἔδιών] τι, τὰ δὲ κιττοῦ, for the Satyrs who are hearing music for the first time could not be credited with perceptions of this kind. Or possibly ἐπανθεμίζει is intransitive and repeats the idea of κατοιχνεῖ, 'fantasies flit over the scene' like a bird or bee from flower to flower. In any case the active form, and not Theon's variant ἐπανθεμίζεται, is shown by xiv. 23 to be correct.

Line 6 originally protruded slightly beyond II. 7 sqq. and the irregularity has been removed by the corrector, who washed out  $\pi$  and converted the  $\rho$  to  $\pi$ , interlineating another  $\rho$ . Why the scribe wrote the line thus is not clear. The simplest explanation perhaps is that he inadvertently ranged it with  $\chi_0(\rho \delta s)$  instead of with  $\phi \psi a \lambda a \kappa \tau \sigma s$ , and then observing the mistake put the rest of the ode in its right position. The objection to this is that the first hand is not elsewhere responsible for the dramatis personae. Owing to a hole in the papyrus at this point both the hand and the reading are uncertain.

8. v of ουπερ has been enclosed, by the second hand no doubt, between two dots, but a long syllable is demanded by the metre. It is perhaps unnecessary to emend to  $oi\pi\epsilon\rho$ ; cf.

Kühner-Gerth, i. p. 545.

9-10. The construction is changed, the sentence having begun as if ὄντα τὸν κλοπέα was to follow.

12-13. Line 13 is unsatisfactory both metrically and because  $\mu\eta\delta\epsilon$  is expected. One easy method of correction is to insert μη between εμοί and δέ, which produces an iambic dimeter + a cretic (cf. x. 3) followed by an ithyphallicum. W-M however prefers to emend εμοί δε to μηδέ, regarding ll. 12-13 not as forming part of the strophe but as a catalectic jambic tetrameter closing the foregoing tetrametric series. The question is not decided by the antistrophe in Col. xiv, since the papyrus is defective after the line corresponding to l. 11. δυσφορηθŷs (not  $-\sigma ys$ ) is noticeable; cf. the v. l. δυσφορούμενοs in Xen. Cyr. ii. 2. 5.

15. Restored by W-M; the slight remains of the letter before ειρα are quite consistent with a β. For χειμάζειν cf. Ammon. p. 146 χειμάζειν οὐ μόνον τὸ παραχειμάζειν άλλὰ καὶ τὸ ένοχλείν, ώς Μένανδρος Ήνιόχω. W-M points out that εὐδίαν ἔχων in xiv. 4 reverts to the same

16. Cf. xiv. 7. W-M suggests as an alternative [τὸν ἐκ Δίος δὲ φύ]ντα, which, however, is hardly long enough to fill the space. In the spelling  $\phi_i \lambda \dot{\eta} \tau \eta \nu$  the papyrus repeats a common error; cf. 1084. 3, note.

17. κλο $\int \pi \hat{\eta}$  here perhaps has a concrete sense similar to that given to the plural by Eurip. Hel. 1675 ἐπεὶ κλοπὰς σὰς ἐκ δόμων ἐδέξατο (om. σάς LG, add. l., κλοπαίαν σ' Herwerden). If so, something like [ὅν γ' ἐντυχὼν λάβοιμ'] ἄν might be restored.

20-4. The first 20 lines of Col. xiv are occupied by a speech of Cyllene, but at what point this commenced is uncertain. There is no clear evidence that the stichomythia extends beyond l. 19.  $\kappa \kappa \kappa \lambda_0 ] \phi \epsilon \nu a \iota (?) \sigma a \phi ['oi\delta' \ \epsilon \gamma \omega (?)] in l. 20 may be attributed to either the$ Chorus or Cyllene, according as the sentence is supposed to have been positive or negative. Lines 21-4 apparently relate to the cowhide as evidence of the theft, and if the hide had been referred to in Col. xii (cf. note on xii. 18), all these lines might perhaps belong to the Chorus; but in any case Cyllene's long speech is not likely to have begun more than a line or two before xiv. 1.

In l. 24 the supposed  $\phi$  is very doubtful; what has been taken to represent the top of it may be e.g. part of an acute accent.

xiv. 1-3. W-M supposes the meaning of these lines to have been 'I now see that I was wrong in supposing that I was being made the object of just a harmless jest'. This however is uncertain, for an admission of error is not necessarily implied by the context, and the sense may be more simply 'I see that you are merely amusing yourselves at my expense; that is all very well, but don't include the boy'.

4-26. 'For the future with tranquillity so far as regards me, if it gives you pleasure or you think to gain, laugh and make your heart glad as you will. But mock not at the boy, who is of a surety the son of Zeus, bringing a novel tale against a new-born child. For he inherits not from his father a thievish nature, nor does theft prevail in his mother's stock. If then there is a theft, seek the thief in a man who is needy and poor; but in the boy's house is no hunger. Look at his birth, fasten the crime wherever it is due, but on him it is not meet to fasten it. Nay, you are ever a child; for though you are a young man with beard full-grown you revel as a goat in the thistles. Cease courting pleasure with your bald pate. Will not the utterer of foolish jests anon be caused by the gods to weep? So I think.

Chor. Turn and twist with thy tales, find what polished legend thou wilt; for of this thou wilt not persuade me, that he who wrought this hide-fastened thing stole the skin from other kine than those of Loxias. Draw me not away from this path.'

4-10. A restoration exempli gratia of ll. 5-10 has been made by W-M, and I have added a provisional completion of l. 4. The supplements in ll. 7 and 9 were also proposed independently by Murray. In l. 4 εὐδίαν ἔχων is the opposite of χειμαζόμενος: the jest may run a free course if it is confined to Cyllene. In l. 8 I have substituted ποι]ῶν for W-M's $\pi \lambda \acute{a}\sigma \sigma \omega_{\nu}$ , which is too long with  $\sigma κ \hat{\omega} \pi \tau \epsilon$ .

12.  $\pi a v \hat{a}\iota$  is unintelligible, and W–M plausibly emends this to  $\pi \epsilon \iota v \hat{q}$ , i.e.  $\pi \epsilon \iota v \hat{\eta}$ , according to the Attic spelling. With the corrector's δ' for  $\tau$  a good sense is thus obtained; his rough breathing instead of a smooth was perhaps a mere slip. Pearson suggests as an alternative  $\tau o \hat{\iota} \delta \delta \delta$ ,  $o \hat{\iota} \pi \langle \lambda \rangle a v \hat{q} \delta \delta \iota u \langle \nu \rangle s$ ,  $[\delta \kappa v] \epsilon \iota$ , which is rather less forcible.—Cf. Philostr. Imag. i. 26 ο  $\delta \tau \iota$  που  $\tau a \hat{\iota} \tau a \pi \epsilon \nu \iota q \delta \rho \hat{\iota} u \nu \delta \sigma \delta \delta \delta s$ .

13-14. Restored by W-M. For πρώς ... ήκει cf. Aristoph. Plut. 919 είς εμ' ήκει της πόλεως τὰ πράγματα. δ before oux is written over an almost effaced τ.

would substitute  $\pi \acute{a}\lambda a\iota$ , which is certainly more consistent with the tenor of the sentence as well as with l. 17.  $\nu\acute{e}os$  could have come in as a gloss on  $\pi a \acute{a}s$ ; that some difficulty was felt about it might possibly be inferred from the erratic punctuation. But a young Satyr may very well be  $\pi \acute{a}\nu \gamma \omega \nu \iota \, \theta \acute{a}\iota \lambda \lambda \omega \nu$ , and baldness, though no doubt a characteristic of the Papposilenus (cf. Eurip. Cycl. 227), is in Satyrs not necessarily a sign of age; it will suffice to refer to the well-known Brygos vase (Brit. Mus. E 65). Miss Harrison, to whom I am indebted for some information on this point, writes 'Practically the young Satyrs are as often bald as haired'. Cf. also Eurip. Cycl. 434. I have therefore considered it safer to leave the text as it stands, more particularly since this is consistent with what appears to be the more natural attribution of xii. 3 sqq. and xiii. 15 sqq.; cf. the note on x. 16.

Whether the short horizontal stroke at the end of this line has any significance is doubtful.

16. Cf. Soph. Fr. 764 σφαδάζεις πώλυς ως εὐφορβία. The inferior spelling κνίκος is found in MSS. of Theophrastus and elsewhere.

- 21.  $\theta$ ελοις was the reading of the first hand; the corrector has written  $\epsilon\iota$  over the  $\sigma$  and turned the  $\iota$  into s, deleting the original s both by a dot above and crossing the letter through.  $d\pi \dot{\phi} \psi \eta \kappa \tau \sigma s$ , 'well-groomed,' i. e. elaborate, is a new adjective, as is also  $\dot{\rho} \iota \nu \sigma \kappa \delta \lambda \lambda \eta \tau \sigma s$  below.
- 23. The correct reading is again given in the margin. An additional syllable required at the beginning of line to restore correspondence with xiii. 8 is easily obtained by writing ὅπως (so W-M and Murray).

25. η 'πό W-M.

xv. 1-6. This small detached fragment is apparently stichomythic and is suitably placed in the upper part of Col. xv. Perhaps II. 6 and 7 should be combined. In I. 2 the vestige from the bottom of a letter before a suits a  $\pi$ , but is very indecisive. The restorations in ll. 3-6 attempt to indicate the purport of the passage.

15. The scanty remains suggest  $\pi o[v]$  rather than  $\pi \omega[s]$ .  $\beta o \varepsilon s$  might well be read, but  $v \dot{\epsilon} \mu o v \tau a u$  would then be expected rather than  $v \dot{\epsilon} \mu o v \sigma t$ , and the top, which is all that remains, of the doubtful letter is perhaps not inconsistent with an a; but the form  $\beta \dot{\delta} a s$  is also questionable. In front of this line there are some inkmarks which may be read as e. g. a  $\sigma$  with a dot above, but their meaning is quite dubious.

18. The alteration of 68' to 6s, which is proposed by both W-M and Murray, is an improvement.  $\delta$   $\delta$  is a correction by the second hand from  $\tau \circ \delta$ .

19. There is no reason for preferring the v. l. παύου to παῦσαι. W-M's emendation of τοῦ to τόν produces a normal attributive genitive. Parallels to τοῦ here are however not altogether wanting, e. g. Hdt. i. 2 τοῦ βασιλέος τὴν θυγατέρα, Thuc. ii. 85 τὴν γῆν τῶν Κυδωνιατῶν. 20. ἔ[ξελᾶν θέλοι (W-M) is one of several possible supplements, e. g. ἔ[ξάγοι ποτέ.

21. After completing this line, for the form of which cf. Soph. Antig. 573 ἄγαν γε λυπείς καὶ σὸ καὶ τὸ σὸν λέχος, I was glad to find that the same supplement had occurred to both W-M and Murray.

22. Perhaps  $[\vec{a}\pi\sigma]\lambda\epsilon\hat{i}\sigma\epsilon$ , as Murray suggests. The letter following is either  $\gamma$  or  $\pi$ , and the next possibly  $\eta$ . Between  $\nu[$  and  $\epsilon]\xi\epsilon\lambda\alpha\nu\nu$  there would only be room for a narrow letter, e.g.  $\sigma$ .

- xvi. The position of the fragment containing the remains of Cols. xvi and xvii is unfortunately a matter of doubt. After some hesitation I have rejected the hypothesis, to which I was at one time inclined, that Cols, xv and xvi should be combined. What chiefly suggested that view was the coincidence that |pos in the third line of the scholium is on a level with xv. 18, where τοδ has been altered to ο δ; and hence a marginal variant ἐγκεκλημένος on an original ἐγκεκλημένον would be very natural. The further possibility then presented itself that the mutilated first word in xv. 16 might be  $\pi \epsilon \lambda \epsilon \theta o \nu s$ , to which l. 1 of the scholium would refer. To this, however, there are grave palaeographical objections, for even if the exiguous traces were consistent with  $e\theta$ , as  $\overline{I}$  think they are not, the space between these letters and  $\pi$  is too narrow for ελ as ordinarily written. That π]ελέθοις βοῶν would stand slightly below 1. 16 is a minor matter. When to these external considerations are added (1) the wide difference which would have to be supposed between the variant and the text, if π | ελέθοις βοῶν referred to 1. 16, and (2) the difficulty urged by W-M, that more than the 10-11 lines which would intervene between xv. 22 and xvii. 5 seem to be needed to bring about the discomfiture of the nymph, who is still stoutly maintaining her position at the end of Col. xv and might be expected to make a speech of some length before her disappearance,—the case for the combination of Cols. xv and xvi cannot seriously be defended. Whether more than a single column of text intervened between Col. xv and Col. xvii is indeterminable; but it is well to make the gap as slight as possible, and quite legitimate to suppose that Cols. xv and xvi were consecutive.
- xvii. 1-4. Enough of the margin above l. 5 is preserved to show that the four preceding lines were indented like ll. 8-9.

5-7. So far as they go these lines correspond metrically with 10-12. Their rhythm is like that of x. 1 sqq. and xiii. 5 sqq.

In l. 5 some vestiges of ink above the letters deleted after the second  $\omega v$  are regarded as representing a paragraphus, but they might be remains of letters inserted above the line. The mark following the interlinear  $\tau$  in l. 6 might be taken for  $\omega$ , but a dot is expected on both sides of the  $\tau$ , and  $\tau i$  here would be difficult. A short oblique stroke between  $\phi \eta$  and the next letter (which may be  $\gamma$ ) is possibly meant for a high stop.

13.  $[\tau i] \nu \hat{v} \nu$  [ is improbable.

19-20. Some inkmarks in the margin here are very likely accidental.

- Frs. 1-10. These small pieces accompanied the earlier columns of the papyrus and are shown to come from the lower portions by their worm-eaten appearance; they are likely to belong for the most part to Cols. i-ii.
- Fr. 1 being part of a dialogue must be from the bottom of Col. ii, and is to be referred to ll. 24-5 or 25-6, if the small fragment containing the letters  $\tau a$  is rightly placed in l. 23.
- Fr. 2. This fragment cannot, I think, be placed so that the ö in l. 2 forms part of the first o of ὅσσοισι in ii. 20.
- Frs. 11-18. Col. ix rather than Col. x is probably the source of these small decayed fragments.
- Fr. 21. If  $\gamma \nu \nu$  is the vocative  $\gamma \dot{\nu} \nu$  a, as its position near the end of the line suggests, this fragment may well belong to Col. xv, more especially if it is the top of a column. The stop after  $\epsilon$  in l. 2 is doubtful, and might be part of a  $\nu$  which need not be the end of the line.
  - Fr. 22. Col. xvii is rather suggested by the appearance of the fragment.
- Frs. 23 (a) and (b). These two fragments are brought into connexion by the scholium in the upper margin, but there is no direct junction.
- Frs. 26-7. I am unable to find a likely place for either of these pieces, both of which are from the top of a column, in Col. iii.
- Frs. 34-5. These fragments do not appear to belong to any of the choral parts in Cols. i-xv. In Fr. 35.  $3 \tau \cos \theta a v \cos \theta v \cos \theta$  is possible, but it is improbable that the fragment came from the bottom of Col. xi.

1175. SOPHOCLES, Eurypylus.

Fr. 5  $14.2 \times 32.5$  cm. Late second century. Plates III–IV (Frs. 3, 5, 6, 79, 80, 91, 94).

These fragments of a tragedy, as explained in the introduction to 1174, come from a MS. which was apparently designed to be uniform with that papyrus. The height of the columns is the same, the hand though varying sometimes in size is identical, accents, &c., have been inserted in the same manner, and the same corrector has added variants similar in character to those in 1174. That the two dramas were included in a single roll is however unlikely, since this would involve a roll of abnormal length, if the tragedy was of ordinary compass. The columns of Fr. 5 contain one or two lines more than is usual in 1174, but this is due to a reduction in the size of the script. The ink also in those columns is blacker than generally in the Ichneutae papyrus, but in other fragments, e.g. Frs. 4, 6, 9-40, it is of the same reddish-brown colour as there.

There is thus a prima facie probability that the tragedian is Sophocles; and internal evidence raises the probability to a practical certainty. The style is hardly to be mistaken, and to clinch the argument a coincidence occurs at Fr. 5. i. 9 with an extant Sophoclean fragment. But that fragment is not referred to any particular play, and to determine this is not quite so easy. Its subject however is evident: it was concerned with the Trojan War and related the death of Eurypylus at the hands of Neoptolemus. This event is reported by a messenger in Fr. 5, and his account is addressed to a woman (ii. 11 φυρτάν, cf. 6), who laments her loss and blames herself for the occurrence. She must therefore be Eurypylus' mother Astyoche, sister of Priam and wife of Telephus, who had been induced by the gift of the golden vine to allow her son to go from Mysia to the assistance of the Trojans (Schol. Homer A 520, Quintus Smyrn. vi. 135 sqq.; cf. v. Wilamowitz, Hom. Untersuch. p. 152). Of the known titles of plays by Sophocles, though there are several, e.g. the Phrygians, which vaguely imply a Trojan theme, only one is at all suggestive of this particular story, the Mysians. So far as the papyrus goes, a Mysian Chorus is quite possible. But one of the extant fragments of the Μυσοί (377) indicates that the scene of that play was laid in Mysia, whereas in the papyrus the scene, as would rather be expected, appears to be Troy (see below). To suppose that the queen accompanied her son thither would fall in with the tradition which represents her as taken into captivity with the other daughters of Laomedon at the end of the war (Tzetzes, Lyc. 921. 1075). If, however, a new title has to be found, the most obvious is the name of the hero whose death was such a prominent incident. Moreover, there is already some slight independent evidence for the attribution of an Eurypylus to Sophocles. A play so called is mentioned by Aristotle, Poetics, p. 1459 b, among others based upon the Little Iliad (cf. Schol. Eurip. Tro. 822); and a guarded suggestion that the author was Sophocles was put forward by T. Tyrwhitt, Arist. Poet. p. 191, on the strength of Plutarch, De cohib. ira, c. 10 (Soph. Fr. 768), which proved that a play of his dealt with the combat of Eurypylus and Neoptolemus; cf. the note below on Fr. 5. i. 9-10. But this shrewd guess (the reference to which I owe to Wilamowitz) rested on rather slender foundations, and has received scant attention; Nauck passes it unnoticed. Nevertheless it seems to have hit the truth; at any rate the Eurypylus is a most suitable title for the fragments before us, and this accordingly is provisionally adopted.

The papyrus is in a deplorable condition, which is the more unfortunate because the remains indicate a play of much originality and interest. Of one peculiar feature there is no doubt, the division of the messenger's report into two parts, divided by a short interlude in which Astyoche expresses her grief, and is answered in brief lyric passages by the Chorus (Fr. 5. ii. 2-20). Fr. 6 with little doubt followed on the conclusion of the messenger's speech, and seems to be part of a longer and more elaborate commos between the Chorus and the bereaved queen. In Frs. 7 and 8 references may be recognized to arrangements for the burial of Eurypylus (Fr. 7. 3-7, Fr. 8. ii. 8), and those pieces with Fr. 9, which may well belong to the same context (ll. 5, 7), are suitably assigned to a succeeding scene. A few fragments on the other hand may be supposed to precede Fr. 5, though their position is more hypothetical. In Frs. 1 and 3 there is a rapid dialogue, and Wilamowitz suggests that the speakers are Eurypylus and Neoptolemus (cf. Fr. 1. 8 Σκύρου), engaging in the altercation which was the usual antecedent of the heroic duel (cf. Quintus Smyrn. viii. 138 sqq.). This, if correct, would seem to involve another singularity of structure, for Eurypylus and Neoptolemus could hardly meet except on the battlefield, whereas Astyoche would naturally be kept in the city. It is, however, quite uncertain that Neoptolemus was introduced here. The reference to Scyros can easily have been made by some other person, and Fr. 3 is capable of a quite different interpretation; cf. the note on ll. 4-6. Fr. 2 is doubtfully grouped with Frs. 1 and 3. Fr. 4 is perhaps concerned with the preliminaries of the contest (ll. 10-11). Further back the papyrus fails to carry us. In the Tabula Iliaca the representation of the death of Eurypylus is preceded by a scene in which two men stand before an altar. Wilamowitz has conjectured (Isyllos, p. 488) that the hero is there promising deliverance to the Trojans, and something of the sort may be supposed to have occurred in the earlier part of Sophocles' drama; but this is only guesswork.

In the arrangement of the remaining fragments, whose contents provide no real clue to their order, the main principle has been their appearance. Frs. 9-40, with Frs. 4, 6, and 7, are distinguished by a comparative smallness in the size of the letters and the light colour of the ink; Frs. 76-7, which were found separately, are akin to that group. In Frs. 41-75 and 78, as in Frs. 1-3 and 8, the hand tends to be larger and the ink blacker. A further increase in size, accompanied for the most part by a brown ink, is seen in Frs. 79-107, Frs. 91 sqq. being marked off by the uprightness of the writing; Fr. 64 should perhaps be put in the latter class. That all these belong to the Eurypylus is by no means certain or even probable. Some of them, as stated in the introduction to 1174, may come from the Ichneutae, others from another source. The only substantial piece, apart from those already considered, is Fr. 91. In l. 4 some one is told to start with speed on some errand; subsequently a lady of rank (Astyoche?) is addressed by the Chorus, and an allusion made to the departure of a stranger.

Further on Agamemnon is mentioned, apparently as waiting in the distance (II. 22-3); and Wilamowitz suggests that he was expecting the stranger, now recognized to have been a spy. The situation might thus have been something like that of the Rhesus, and there is no difficulty in attributing such a scene to the present play, for which the story of the death of Eurypylus by itself perhaps hardly provided sufficient material. On the other hand, since the connexion of the scene with that story is not clear, and the evidence of the script is indecisive, the attribution of Fr. 91 and the associated smaller pieces to the Eurypylus must be made with a certain reserve. Fr. 95, which contains some colourless reflections on the instability of fortune, gives no assistance.

In addition to the lection-signs noted in connexion with 1174, a curved ligature connecting parts of words is twice used (Fr. 5. ii. 3, iii. 11; cf. e.g. 841, 852, 1082). This is the complement of the diastole, employed to separate words, which occurs in several places (Fr. 3. 4, Fr. 5. iii. 10, 11, Fr. 6. 12). An oxytone word is sometimes given an acute accent on the final syllable instead of a grave on the penultimate (Fr. 5. ii. 24, iii. 11; cf. 1082. Fr. 3. ii. 2).

Fr. 1. On the arrangement and supposed contents of this and the three following small fragments cf. introd. p. 88.

6.  $\epsilon_{iT}$ : or  $\epsilon_{i}[\rho]\gamma$ . The following letters are cancelled by a horizontal stroke drawn above them; cf. 1174. viii. 2, x. 6. A very slight vestige of the letter after  $\omega \nu$  suggests  $\alpha$  or  $\delta$ .

11. The remains in the margin belong to a note referring to the previous column.

14. The letters ].  $\gamma a$  and the succeeding lines are on a detached fragment, which is most probably part of this column, though whether it is rightly placed as above is uncertain. A paragraphus may be lost below the beginning of the line.

18. There are some small traces of ink in the margin opposite this line.

Fr. 2. I have had some inclination to assign this fragment to 1174 on account partly of its appearance and partly of the variant  $\tau o v \tau i$  in l. 4, for which cf. 1174. v. 9. Line 2 is not decisive, since  $T \eta \lambda i \phi v$  would be doubtful even if  $\phi v v$  were certain, which it is not;  $\phi v v$  is possible. Above the v (or  $\mu$ ) in l. 4 is a dot which may represent another interlinear letter, but this cannot be brought into connexion with the overwritten  $\iota$ , from which it is separated by the high stop.

Fr. 3. 4–6. κόραξ . . . θυηλη[: W–M suggests that the reference is to the rapacity which did not respect sacrificial offerings; cf. Aesch. Suppl. 751–2 κόρακες ὅστε, βωμῶν ἀλέγοντες οὐδέν, Babrius 78. Murray, understanding the fragment differently, suggests as a restoration of ll. 3–6 (Εὐρ.) ἐδεξάμην τ[ὸ ῥηθέν· ὡς ἄριστος ὡν] κόραξ ἐπάδ]ει μάντις . . . ('Αστ.?) ἄριστος, ὡ δύσ[τηνε; δύσφημον μὲν οὖν] κράζει θυηλή[ν "Αρεος ὡς ὀλωλότων. The remains are really too slight to give any clear clue to the situation.

7. The sign in the margin is like that at 1174. iv. 17, a line in which an insertion was made by the corrector.

8. 71 may of course be indefinite.

10.  $[\phi i]\lambda\omega\nu$ : or  $[a\lambda]\lambda\omega\nu$ .

Fr. 5. i. 8. δ] $\iota \alpha \beta \epsilon \beta \lambda \eta \mu [\epsilon \nu ...]$  if right, may be constructed with  $\mu \epsilon \tau \alpha \iota \chi [\mu \iota ...]$  but perhaps $\mu a \beta \epsilon \beta \lambda \eta \mu [\epsilon \nu ... \text{ should be read.}]$

9-10. The coincidence with Soph. Fr. 768 was perceived by W-M. The fragment is preserved in Plutarch, De cohib. ira, 10, p. 458 e καὶ τὸν Νεοπτόλεμον ὁ Σοφοκλῆς καὶ τὸν Εὐρύπνλον ὁπλίσας ἐκόμπασ' ἀλοιδόρητα, φησίν, ἐρρηξάτην ἐς κύκλα χαλκέων ὅπλων. ἐκόμπασ' ἀλοιδόρητα was emended by Badham to ἄκομπ' ἀλοιδόρητά τε. Other conjectures were proposed by W. Headlam, Class. Rev. xvii, p. 288, who maintained that with Badham's restoration the meaning must be not, as usually taken, 'They burst without vaunt or reviling into the ring of armed men' but 'they dealt unvaunting, unreviling blows upon their enemies' round brazen shields'. W-M however would understand  $\epsilon \rho \rho \eta \xi \dot{\alpha} \tau \eta \nu$ ...  $\delta \pi \lambda \omega \nu$  in the ordinary way. It is now clear that Plutarch manipulated the quotation to some extent, since  $\mathring{\alpha} \kappa \rho \mu \pi'$   $\mathring{\alpha} \lambda \omega \delta \delta \rho \eta \tau a$  does not immediately precede  $\epsilon \rho \rho \eta \xi \dot{\alpha} \tau \eta \nu$ ; the simplest course is to transfer the words to the next verse, although its conclusion is difficult.  $\sigma$ , though the base is lost, is practically certain and can hardly be  $\epsilon$ ; for the next letter  $\pi$  is most suitable, but  $\epsilon$ . or  $\sigma$ . is possible, hardly  $\gamma$ . At the end  $\theta$  are  $\theta$  seems the only likely word, though the  $\theta$  may be  $\theta$ . There is an undeniable high dot after the  $\theta$ .

15. στενάζειν in the middle voice appears to be novel. The passive occurs in Lycophr.

412 ούμος έστεναγμένος γάμος.

20.  $\mu \delta(\nu o \nu)$   $\dot{\epsilon} \nu$   $\dot{\epsilon}$  could also be read, but cf. Fr. 13. i. 7. In a fragment of another text  $\dot{\epsilon} \nu$   $\beta'$   $\mu \delta(\nu \phi)$  occurs; cf. Fr. 5. ii. 11, note.

24 sqq. The reference is to the spear of Achilles, which had healed Telephus and now in the hands of Neoptolemus slew Telephus' son; cf. Fr. 6. 10-12.

28. Perhaps κείνους.

ii. I. The remains of this line are puzzling. The accent and mark of elision, as well as the interlineated letters, were inserted by the corrector. Since the  $\epsilon$  is enclosed between two dots this should be a variant and not merely explanatory of the elision; hence  $\sigma$  might well be the article, i. e. a choice would lie between  $\kappa \alpha \theta \epsilon i\lambda$  δ  $\sigma \omega \tau$  . . . and  $\kappa \alpha \theta \epsilon i\lambda \epsilon$   $\sigma \omega \tau$  . . . But then  $\sigma \omega \tau \dot{\eta} \rho$  becomes inevitable, and though this would not be out of place in the context (cf. Fr. 6. 12 δ  $\lambda \delta \gamma \chi \alpha$   $\sigma \dot{\omega} \tau [\epsilon \iota \rho \alpha]$ ) the slight vestige after  $\tau$  does not suggest  $\eta$ . The substitution of  $\epsilon$  for  $\eta$  before  $\nu \rho$  would be natural in the aorist of  $\epsilon \dot{\nu} \rho \dot{\iota} \sigma \kappa \epsilon \nu \nu$ , which however is hardly to be worked in. W–M proposes  $\kappa \alpha \theta \epsilon i\lambda$   $\ddot{\epsilon} \sigma \omega$   $\tau \dot{\alpha}$   $[\pi \lambda] \epsilon \nu \rho \dot{\alpha}$ , and this has been provisionally adopted, though the genesis of the corruption remains obscure. The vestige following  $\rho$  is not inconsistent with  $\alpha$  but is more suitable to a  $\nu$ , and I have been tempted to suppose that the name  $E \dot{\nu} \rho \dot{\nu} \nu \lambda \sigma s$  stood here, but that hypothesis has led to no satisfactory result.

3 sqq. The paragraphus below this line is not clear, but the base of the  $\delta$  is thickened and this may be supposed to be due to the partial coincidence of the paragraphus. If this is correct, a paragraphus is missing below 1.6, since 11.7-8 obviously belong to the Chorus. Moreover, since  $\gamma a \rho$   $\delta a \nu$  can hardly be separated from the following words, it becomes necessary to suppose a change of speaker within the line, against the usual practice of this scribe (cf. 1174. viii. 15-17). Presumably double dots were used, but an accompanying paragraphus would be expected. W-M would make a similar division in 1. 3, but this is not essential.

4. πατρό[s: i. e. Telephus. The word at the end of the line was perhaps συμφο]ράν or μοί]ραν.

5. Πρία μος ίδε τέκνων is a dochmius; cf. l. 8.

6. Cf. the note on l. 3.  $\tau \rho i \tau \eta \nu$  of course refers to  $\delta \iota \pi \lambda o \hat{\nu} s$  in l. 3. The apparent  $\gamma$  of the papyrus is possibly due to scaling of the ink; it is certainly curious that the corrector should not have observed the error. " of " au may be ".

7. This verse seems to be a catalectic iambic trimeter, like II. 10 and 18, but I have not found a satisfactory restoration. The letter after  $\omega\delta$  may be  $\rho$  or  $\eta$ , and  $\iota\gamma$  may be e. g.  $\pi$ ;  $\delta\iota a \iota \nu \epsilon\iota s$ , to which  $\delta ] a \kappa \rho \iota \epsilon \epsilon\iota s$  in the margin refers, is preceded either by  $\nu$  or  $\rho$ . W-M suggests  $\delta\delta\delta$   $\tilde{\iota}[\nu]$  or  $\tilde{\delta}$ . . .  $[\tilde{\sigma}\pi\sigma]\nu$  (not  $\tilde{\delta}$   $\delta\iota \sigma\tau\eta\nu\epsilon$ );  $\delta\delta\tilde{\iota}[\nu]$  would also be appropriate.

8. κτησίων, as W-M remarks, is perhaps equivalent to  $i\delta i\omega v$ , οίκείων; cf. Aesch. Ag. 1008 χρημάτων κτησίων, Soph. Tr. 690 κτησίου βοτοῦ. But φρένες and tangible objects like χρήματα are in rather different categories, and Murray's suggestion that κτησίων here means 'covetous', with a reference to the golden vine, is not unattractive.

9-23. (Astyoche.) 'O Fortune, evil Fortune, that has shorn me.

Chorus. Thou speakest face to face, for misfortune stands not aloof in dragging thee headlong.

(As.) Justice will pull me down.

(Chor.) Yea, justice. (As.) Then soonest best.

(Chor.) Alas, what shall we say, what shall we speak?

(As.) Who will not with justice smite my head?

(Chor.) Fortune has shorn thee, but Fortune judges thee not.

(As.) Have the Argives departed adding to the woe violence and mockery of the very corpse?

(Messenger.) They went not so far as insult, since the bodies of them which had fought together in combat lay but a little apart . . .'

9. Cf. e. g. Homer ψ 97 μητερ εμή, δύσμητερ, Eurip. I. I. 203 δυσδαίμων δαίμων.

11.  $\phi\nu\rho\tau\alpha\nu$  was originally written, but the  $\tau$  was afterwards washed out and  $\delta$  substituted, perhaps by the second hand, though this is uncertain; the  $\delta$  was then enclosed between dots and  $\tau$  restored over the line on the authority of another copy, as recorded in the margin.  $\dot{\epsilon}\nu$   $\dot{\epsilon}\tau(\dot{\epsilon}\rho\phi)$  is not to be read here, since the stroke above the line is completely preserved and cannot be the cross-bar of a  $\tau$ . The lost letter was therefore a figure, and I restore  $\beta$  on the analogy of the fragment referred to in the note on i. 20.

13. δίκα: the substitution of the nominative for the dative is evidently necessary, if the nom. is retained in the preceding line.

14. ἡ ταχίστη (sc. ὁδόs) ἀρίστη is an explanatory note; the phrase has a proverbial cast.
18. δικὰ might be regarded as the future of δικάζειν, but the contracted form, though used by Hdt. i. 97, is not found in Attic, nor does δικάζειν take an accusative of the person.
W-M prefers to postulate a present δικὰν; possibly the same verb rather than δικεῦν (Herwerden) is to be recognized in the inscription from Eleusis published in Ἐφημ. ᾿Αρχαιολ.
1900, p. 79 δικηθήσεται τῷ ταμείφ διπλῆν εἶσπρᾶξαι.

To interpret δικαι as δίκα produces a weak repetition of  $\delta al\mu\omega\nu$ , as well as an inconsistency with ll. 12–13. The Chorus may no doubt be supposed to change its opinion, but this change seems overabrupt.

19–20. γελωτ' ἔχ[ο]ντες is used like γέλωτα ποιεῖσθαι, τίθεσθαι, &c., e. g. Nauck, Fr. Adesp. 458. 9 γέλωτα δή με ποιοῦνται κόροι. a[ὐτ]όν (W–M) is hard but seems to be the most likely restoration.

22-3. Eurypylus is represented as having fallen close to one or more of his own victims. Nireus (Quint. Smyrn. vi. 372, Dictys iv. 17, Hyginus 113), Machaon (Pausan. iii. 26. 7, Quint. Smyrn. vi. 408, Hyg. 113), Peneleos (Pausan. ix. 5. 15, Quint. Smyrn. vii. 104 sqq., Dictys iv. 17) and others (Quint. Smyrn. vi. 615-6, viii. 111-13) are named as having been slain by him.

24.  $\delta[o] κητόs$  seems almost inevitable, for an adjective  $\delta[\iota] κητόs$ , which might be derived from the supposed form  $\delta\iota κ \hat{a} \nu$  (cf. note on l. 18), is not likely here, nor, I think, is  $\delta[a] κ \eta$ τόσ' ('wounds') which Pearson suggests.  $\delta[o] κ \eta τ \delta s$  may perhaps mean that Eurypylus was so little disfigured that death appeared more of a semblance than a reality, in contrast to his adversary, who was, e.g.,  $\tau \delta \tau \hat{a} \hat{a} \nu \hat{\beta} \kappa \iota \sigma \hat{\mu} \hat{\nu} \nu \delta s$ ,—though that verb could hardly be got into the space.  $\tau i s$  might be read instead of  $\tau \delta s$ , but would be still more difficult. At the end of the line  $\delta s$  can well be  $\delta s \delta s \delta s \delta s$ .

26-8. Restored exempli gratia by W-M. The η in l. 26, though unconvincing, is sufficiently suitable; in 1. 28  $\gamma$  could be read in place of  $\pi$ .

iii. 6. An iota adscript inserted after ω would no longer be visible.

10-25. 'Such was the murmur of many mournful lips, and much fine linen and many webs of Istrian women were cast upon the man, useless offerings to the dead. And Priam clinging to his wounded side, though not his father, speaking a father's words, wept for the kinsman of his children, the boy, the youth, the aged man, calling upon him not as Mysian nor the son of Telephus but as of his own seed: "Alas, my child, I have betrayed thee, in whom I had the last great hope of safety for the Phrygians. Thou wert a short-lived guest, but wilt leave a memory lasting many years with the remnant spared by Ares, who hast given us sorrow such as Memnon or Sarpedon never gave, albeit they were mighty warriors and . . .".

10. λυγρό]ν (W-M) is better adapted to the space than οἰκτρόν. πικρόν (cf. Anl. 424 πικρά ὄρνις) would also be suitable.

11. The transference of the accent from the second to the first syllable of  $\sigma\iota\nu\delta\omega\nu$  no doubt implies a desire to interpret the word as the genitive plural of Σίνδοι parallel to Ἰστρ[ι]ανίδων; but  $\sigma\iota\nu\delta\omega\nu$  is assured by  $[\pi]ολλή$ . Ἰστριανίς is attested by Steph. Byz. s. v. "Ιστρος; and according to Hesychius the name of the artificers was transferred to the product:

'Ιστριανίδες' αί Σκυθικαὶ στολαί; similarly 'Ιστρίδες are described as έσθητές τινες.

13. W–M considers this verse to have been interpolated from some other source, perhaps through a misunderstanding of the genitive ἀνδρός, which however can be constructed correctly enough with ἐρριπτ[ά]ζετο; cf. e. g. Eurip. Cycl. 51 ρίψω πέτρον τάχα σον, Bacch. 1097 αὐτοῦ χερμάδας κραταιβόλους ἔρριπτον. The anacoluthon in διδόντες is undoubtedly awkward, but not more violent than in Soph. Ant. 259–60; cf. Hdt. viii. 74 πολλὰ ἐλέγετο . . . οἱ μὲν ὡς . . . , Aesch. P. V. 202 στάσις τ' ἐν ἀλλήλοισιν ὡροθύνετο, οἱ μὲν θέλοντες . . . I therefore allow the line to stand provisionally, though it must be regarded with suspicion. οὐδὲν ὡφελονμένη occurs in Ant. 550.

15. The punctuation of the original evidently needs amendment.

17.  $\gamma'\epsilon\rho\rho\nu\tau a$  is strange, since Eurypylus cannot be supposed to have been a really old man. But the text seems to be sound and  $\gamma'\epsilon\rho\omega\nu$  may possibly here be taken to imply merely a stage beyond that of the  $\nu\epsilon\alpha\nu'as$ . Murray and Pearson suppose the meaning to be that Eurypylus combined the qualities of different ages, being to Priam a son, a counsellor, and a warrior, and compare e.g. Pindar, Nem. iii. 72-3. This may be right, but is open to the objection that  $[\pi]ai\delta a$  in antithesis to  $\gamma'\epsilon\rho\nu\nu\tau a$  and  $\nu\epsilon\alpha\nu'[ia]\nu$  should indicate a quality corresponding to youth rather than to birth, childishness not sonship.

21. ἐλπίδων σωτη [ρία] $\nu$ , = 'the means of salvation existing in our hopes', comes practically to mean 'our hope of salvation'.

22-3. [ἐτῶν and λ[ελειμμέν]οις were restored by W-M, who further proposed δ[ορός (cf. Aesch. Ag. 517). A δ however is inadmissible after ]οις; λ would be the most suitable letter, but a or  $\chi$  is also possible, and I suggest "A[ $\rho\epsilon\omega s$  on the analogy of  $\delta \rho \rho \delta s$ .  $\lambda [\epsilon \lambda \epsilon \iota \mu \mu \epsilon \nu] o \iota s$  is a somewhat long supplement; perhaps  $\lambda \epsilon \lambda \iota \mu \mu \epsilon \nu o \iota s$  was written. Pearson would prefer  $[\kappa a \lambda \hat{\omega} \nu] to [\epsilon^{\dagger} \tau \hat{\omega} \nu]$ ; cf. Soph. Fr. 534.

25-6. The restorations are largely due to W-M. The Sophoclean ημιν occurs again in Fr. 12. 11.

27.  $\epsilon\sigma\chi a\tau$  or  $\epsilon\sigma\chi\epsilon\tau$  was presumably written. Dots were placed over the deleted letters and the  $\tau$  is also crossed through. Of the doubtful a following hardly enough remains to show whether this also was cancelled or not.

Of the two small fragments (a) and (b), which were with Fr. 5, the second is likely to belong to Col. iii.

Fr. 6. W-M thinks it unlikely that Astyoche took part in these lyrics; but the coronis below ll. 6 and 9 point to changes of speaker rather than strophic divisions in a choral ode; and ll. 3-6 and 10-12 are eminently appropriate in the mouth of Astyoche. The reversed coronis below l. 9 was inserted or rewritten by the second hand.

1. W-M is no doubt right in restoring Πριαμίδας; a reference to Midas here is unlikely.

5. ἔπεισεν: i. e. by the gift of the golden vine.

6. έ[ργο]ν W-M.

7-9. The idea is perhaps similar to that of Fr. 5. iii. 22-3; if so the Chorus is trying to administer comfort. Cf. Fr. 7. 4.

12.  $\sigma \dot{\omega} \tau [\epsilon \iota \rho a$ , which was restored by W-M, refers to the healing properties of Achilles' spear, now the instrument of death.

Fr. 7. 6. κοινόθακος is a new compound, and an adjective λάξοος is also novel, λαοξόος or λαξόος occurring only as a substantive. The marginal note  $\lambda a$  no doubt refers to λάξοα. The allusion seems to be to the tomb of Eurypylus.

10. Possibly  $\tau \epsilon \kappa [\nu o \nu$ .

Fr. 8. ii. 6. There is a small dot between a and  $\mu$ , but a stop here seems unlikely.

Fr. 9. I. e. g.  $\sigma \tau ] \nu \gamma \nu \hat{\omega} [$  or  $\epsilon ] \dot{\nu} \gamma \nu \omega [\sigma] \tau [$  .

9. Somewhat to the right of the î there is a vestige of ink which probably represents another insertion, e.g. a mark of elision.

Fr. 10. 6. νοσ]ηλεύσας W-M.

Fr. 11. 11. e. g.  $[\tau] \rho \iota \sigma \sigma \hat{\omega}$  or  $[\phi] \rho \iota \sigma \sigma \omega$ .

Fr. 12. Some at least of these lines are lyrics.

Fr. 14. 4. The acute accent is uncertain and may be a smooth breathing or an interlinear letter.

Frs. 35-40 are much wormeaten. The combination of Frs. 36 and 37  $\sigma\omega|\mu a$  is not probable. In Fr. 40. 1 the supposed top of a letter after  $\nu$  may be a high stop; in 1. 3 ] $\delta\omega$  possibly ends the line.

Fr. 47. 4.  $\pi \rho \hat{a} \xi \nu$ : cf. l. 6, where however the reading is somewhat doubtful.

7. The rough breathing on o is probable but not certain. The same may be said of the accent on  $\eta$  in l. 9.

Fr. 48. 1. There is a short blank space before  $\eta$ , but this is no doubt due to the junction, which is clearly visible below, of two selides, of which the upper one has at this point disappeared.

- Fr. 50. This fragment appears not to belong to the same column as Fr. 1. Εὐρύ $[\pi\nu\lambda\sigma]$  is not to be read in l. 5.
- Fr. 57. 3. A speck of ink to the left of the line may be the remains of a marginal note.
  - Fr. 58. o was preceded by a straight stroke, e.g. άρ μόσας.
  - Fr. 69. 7. The supposed stop is doubtful.
- Frs. 76-7. These two fragments, which were found together, may well belong to the same column. Fr. 77 is probably the bottom of the column, and Fr. 76 perhaps goes immediately above it.
  - Fr. 82. 3. The supposed vestige of a letter after  $\sigma$  may be a medial stop.
  - Fr. 84. 2. For Nt() cf. 1174. iv. 23, note.
  - Fr. 85. 6.  $\tau$  after  $\nu$  has apparently been crossed through.
  - Fr. 91. On the subject of this fragment cf. Introd. p. 88.
- 3. W-M suggests of  $\frac{1}{7}$  or  $\frac{1}{7}$  of  $\frac{1}{7}$  of  $\frac{1}{7}$  on supposing the time to be night; cf. Fr. 98. 3. Lines 1-7 look like the beginnings of iambic verses, but if so they were not ranged evenly with ll. 21-2, and the trochaics must be supposed to have projected by the space of four or five letters into the left margin.
  - 4. For the rough breathing on ela cf. note on 1174. iv. 7.
- 8. W-M thinks that the Chorus was here divided into two parts, and would give 1. 10 as restored by him to the second division. This may be correct, but the indications are inconclusive.
- 12. The lacuna at the end of the line is too narrow for  $\omega$ , but there is perhaps room for  $\alpha$ , and  $\lambda \alpha \gamma \acute{e}\tau [\alpha]$  suits the metre, which is a combination of cretics and trochaics, better than  $\lambda \alpha \gamma \acute{e}\tau [\iota]$ ; the form  $\lambda \alpha \gamma \acute{e}\tau \iota s$  moreover is unattested.  $\mathring{a}\iota \delta [\rho \acute{o}s]$  was restored by W-M.
  - 18.  $\epsilon$  of  $\epsilon \pi \lambda \eta \xi$  is unsatisfactory, but  $\sigma$ , which would be the easiest reading, gives no word;
- an o (]ονοπλήξ?) seems hardly possible. ι at the end of the line may be η.
  - 20. ἄζεται: or ἄζεται, which might be said of a corpse exposed to the sun.
  - 22. is W-M.
- 23. For δοκάζει cf. Hesych. δοκάζει μένει, ἐπιτηρεῖ, δοκεῖ, προσδοκᾳ. ἐδόκαζεν ἀπεδέχετο, Sophron Fr. 6 πλόον δοκάζων.
- Fr. 94. 2–5. A restoration of these lines is suggested exempli gratia by W–M:  $\epsilon$ γω [πάλαι τὰ θνήτ' ἀθρήσας] εὖρον οὐδεπώποτε [ἡμῖν γένοι]τ' ἀν παῦλα καὶ κακών [λύσις. τῶν γὰρ με]γίστων ἡ τύχη μεθίσ[ταται φρονημάτω]ν τάχιστα' τοῦ λόγου [δέ τᾶν τὸ πιστὸν ε]ἰδείημεν, εἰ θρασύν [τινα... Α γ in l. 5, however, is hardly suitable. In l. 7 either ]ι δ' εῖημεν or ε]ἰδείημεν is possible, but the form is strange in either case, the only analogous instances cited from the Attic poets being Eurip. Ion 943 φαίημεν, Damoxenus Fr. 2. 67 δοίησαν. εἴη μέν however seems unlikely.
  - Fr. 105. 3.  $\tau o[\iota]o[$  is indicated by the narrow space.

1176. SATYRUS, Life of Euripides.

Fr. 39  $14 \cdot 2 \times 75 \cdot 5$  cm. Second century. Plate V (Fr. 39, Cols. xvii–xxiii).

The identity of this work is fortunately determined by the title preserved in the last column of Fr. 39, from which we learn that the roll contained the sixth book of the 'Lives' of Satyrus, and that the book dealt with the three great tragedians. Euripides as the youngest of the three naturally came last; and to him, so far as can be judged, relate all the fragments of the roll which have survived.

These fragments fall into two main groups. Frs. 37-9, which form the nucleus of the whole, are closely associated, Fr. 38 perhaps joining Fr. 39 immediately, and Fr. 37 preceding at not more than a short interval; Frs. 40-57 are some scraps which accompanied these larger pieces. Nos. 1-36, on the other hand, are miscellaneous fragments which were found sporadically some time before the main group made its appearance. Since Fr. 39 contains the end of the roll, Frs. 1-36 will naturally precede. Frs. 1-8 are put together as apparently all concerned with the style of Euripides. In Fr. 8. ii. 9 sqq. this subject is dismissed and the writer passes on to consider his character, which is also the subject of Fr. 9 and perhaps of Frs. 10-11 also. The arrangement of the rest is for the most part arbitrary; Frs. 33-6 are more akin in external appearance to Frs. 37-8 than the preceding pieces, the colour of which is generally lighter.

The MS. appears to date from the middle or latter part of the second century. It is in a small upright hand of the informal type shown also in 221, 853, the Herodas papyrus, and especially 666, which has other points of resemblance to 1176 (see below); all these probably belong to about the same period. There is some tendency to cursive forms, e.g. in the letters  $\epsilon$  and  $\omega$ . A curious feature is the frequent doubling of strokes, which may be partly due to the use of an inferior pen. The common angular sign is often added at the end of short lines, while in longer ones the final letter is sometimes interlineated. Stops in three positions (low rarely) are used besides paragraphi, and there are two or three accents (Fr. 2. i. 14, Fr. 33. i. 21, Fr. 39. xv. 37) and a doubtful rough breathing (Fr. 33. i. 21). All these signs, as well as the few corrections which occur, are to be credited to the original writer; there is nowhere any indication of a second hand. This absence of revision is regrettable, since the text is clearly erratic. In two places suspicious blanks occur (Fr. 39. x. 34, xi. 6-7), while serious corruption is shown in some quotations which are already extant (see especially Fr. 39. xi. 20 sqq.). No doubt these mistakes are often older than the papyrus, but it is impossible to acquit of carelessness a writer who does not even spell the title correctly (Fr. 39. xxiii. 2). Such aberrations greatly increase the difficulty of reconstructing defective passages.

The columns are extremely narrow, measuring no more than about 3 cm. across, and are set very close together. Their height cannot be accurately ascertained, since their ends are missing throughout the larger fragments; in fact Fr. 20 is the only bottom of a column remaining. Apparently the loss is considerable. The best indication of its extent is given at Fr. 30. Cols. xx-i. where the story of the killing of Euripides by the dogs of Archelaus is begun in the former column and continued in the latter. This story is also told in the extant Γένος Εὐριπίδου, the source being almost certainly Satyrus; and on the reasonable assumption that the narrative of the original was not more compressed than that of the excerptor, some twenty lines at least would be required between xx. 35 and xxi. 1. An absence of cohesion between other columns bears out this conclusion, which is confirmed by a consideration of a quite different kind. When the title of a work is written in a separate column, it seems usually to have been placed somewhere about the centre of the papyrus; cf. e.g. 843 (Part V, Plate VI), and the Berlin Hierocles papyrus (Schubart, Das Buch bei den Griechen, p. 90). The colophon in Fr. 39. xxiii is opposite 11. 26-33 of Col. xxii, from which fact I should suppose that the amount lost in Fr. 39, iv-xxii is not much less than what is preserved. This roll would then have been on a scale similar to that of 666, where the columns, as here, are very narrow and closely packed and extend to about fifty-seven lines. The scripts of that papyrus and of 1176, as remarked above, also show a strong resemblance.

Concerning the author little is known. He is described as a Peripatetic (e.g. Athen. xii. p. 541 c), and lived not later than the reign of Ptolemy Philometor (B. C. 181-146), since his Lives were epitomized by Heraclides Lembus (F. H. G. iii. p. 169), who is stated by Suidas to have lived under that monarch. It may be noted as a curious coincidence that Heraclides, whom Suidas calls 'Οξυρυγχίτης, probably resided in the city from whose ruins the present papyrus was obtained. Besides the Lives, which were Satyrus' best-known work, a book Περὶ χαρακτήρων, of which a single fragment is preserved (Athen. iv. p. 168 e), is with probability credited to him. Wilamowitz (Hermes xxxiv. pp. 633-4) has shown reason for referring him to the third century B. C. rather than the second, and would identify him with the writer of the treatise on the Alexandrian demes (Theophil. ad Autolyc. ii. p. 94), which is apparently a product of the reign of Philopator. This date for the biographer is accepted by Leo (Griech,-Röm. Biogr. p. 118), and there is nothing in the new fragments at all inconsistent with it. If it is correct, he is to be distinguished from the 'Αριστάρχου γυώριμος nicknamed Ζητα, διὰ τὸ ζητητικὸν αὐτοῦ (Ptol. Hephaest. ap. Westermann, Mythogr.

But whatever the other writings of Satyrus may have been, the biographies, which are repeatedly cited by Athenaeus and Diogenes Laertius, were the work to which he chiefly owed his reputation. These biographies are commonly alluded to as οί βίοι; the more formal title is given by the papyrus, Βίων ἀναγραφή. They included monarchs (Dionysius the Younger, Philip), statesmen and generals (Alcibiades), orators (Demosthenes), philosophers (the seven sages, Pythagoras, Empedocles, Zeno of Elea, Anaxagoras, Socrates, Plato, Diogenes, Anaxarchus, Stilpo), and poets (Sophocles, and, as we now know, Aeschylus and Euripides). A division into books was proved by references to the fourth book, which dealt with philosophers—though these may well have occupied more books than one. The sixth book, as the papyrus shows, treated of poets, and further books perhaps followed. Most of the extant citations, which have been collected, though not quite exhaustively, by Müller (F. H. G. iii. pp. 160 sqq.; cf. Wilamowitz, op. cit., p. 6333, Leo, op. cit., pp. 120 sqq.), are quite short, but two considerable verbal excerpts are given by Athenaeus (Sat. Frs. 1 and 3), and indicated a writer with considerable pretensions to literary style. While confirming this impression, the papyrus reveals an unexpected and surprising fact: the life of Euripides is in the form of a dialogue. The fact is indubitable, although the copyist has failed to bring it out by distinguishing clearly the parts of the interlocutors by means of the double dots which are commonly employed in works of a dramatic cast. There are at least three speakers, of whom two, Diodorus (Fr. 39. iii. 19, xv. 13), and Eucleia, a woman (Fr. 39. xiv. 31), are named. These latter persons play a subordinate part; the name assigned to the chief speaker, into whose mouth the main narrative is put, is not mentioned. Presumably the present Life is a fair sample of the others, and the inference is to be drawn that they had a similar shape. The method is a singular one to apply to biography. It emphasizes at the outset the nature of Satyrus' work, which, like that of other biographers of the Peripatetic school, was essentially popular in its aim, and endeavoured to supply interesting information in an attractive shape.

Another formal feature, which is not less characteristic of the writer's school (cf. Wilamowitz, l. c., p. 633, Leo, l. c., pp. 104 sqq.), is the wealth of quotations, both from Euripides and elsewhere. It is easy to understand why in the next generation, with the growth of a more strictly scientific spirit, the biographies of Satyrus were reduced by Heraclides to an epitome: they were much too diffuse for a handy book of reference. Their style is smooth and pleasant, and care is shown in a general avoidance of hiatus, though the rule is by no means consistently observed. Very likely the apparent exceptions are less the fault of the author than of his transcribers, but drastic measures would be required to climinate some of them (e. g. Fr. 39. xiv. 30-1), and the safer course is to allow them to stand.

The account given of Euripides was evidently comprehensive. Besides the main events of his life, his style and position in the development of tragic art (Frs. 1-8, Fr. 39. vii), his character (Fr. 8. ii. 20 sqq., Frs. 9-10, Fr. 37. i), his philosophical, religious, political, and ethical opinions (Fr. 37. i. 22 sqq., Fr. 38. Fr. 39. i-vi), and his views about women (Fr. 39. x-xiii) are discussed at considerable length. There is little semblance of original research, for which a successor of Philochorus could hardly have felt much need. The story of the cave at Salamis, reported in Fr. 39. ix. 4 sqq., is expressly attributed to Philochorus by Gellius (N. A. xv. 20). A fondness for anecdote, which Satyrus shares with his kind, and which was a product of the prevailing interest in individual character and personal traits and details, does not necessarily imply an uncritical turn of mind. The tales are commonly prefaced with the warning 'as they relate', 'as is said', and the like; in one place a more exact reference is given (Fr. 39. xx. 29-32), while in another it is not improbable that some scepticism was expressed (cf. the note on Fr. 39. xii. 1-16). A fanciful interpretation of a lyric passage is propounded with proper reserve (Fr. 39. xviii. 7-20). Diog. Laert. vi. 80 (Sat. Fr. 17) shows our author disputing the authenticity of the work bearing the name of Diogenes. If there were any such critical consideration of the plays attributed to Euripides, this must have been given in the lost earlier portion of the treatise.

In the anonymous life of Sophocles which is extant there are three allusions to Satyrus, but he is not mentioned in the similar account of Euripides (cf. Schwartz, Schol. Eurip. pp. 1–7), although this cites Eratosthenes, Philochorus, and Hermippus. Nevertheless it now seems plain that Satyrus too was among the sources of the anonymous compilation, the language of which is sometimes very close to that of the papyrus; cf. Fr. 39. ix. 4 sqq., x. 23 sqq., xii. 21 sqq., xx. 1–15, xxi. 1 sqq., with the parallel passages of the Γένος Εὐριπίδου quoted in the notes ad loc. These related passages, however, do not stand in the sequence of their apparent source, and the want of cohesion conspicuous in the  $\Gamma \epsilon vos$  becomes still further evident.

But not only is authority now assignable for several statements about the poet which were previously anonymous and their antiquity definitely ascertained; the papyrus also makes some contributions of its own to the material. Thus we are told that Euripides was prosecuted for impiety by Cleon (Fr. 39. x. 15–20, and note), that his retirement from Athens was partly due to irritation with certain poets, whose names are given (Fr. 39. xv. 26 sqq.), and that he composed the exordium of the Persae for Timotheus (Fr. 39. xxii. 27–30). There are moreover some substantial additions to the Fragments of his poetry, as well as a few improvements in the text of others already extant.

Fr. 1. 3. Cf. Γέν. 2 πολλὰ προσεξεῦρε, . . . ἡητορείας, 3 ἡητορικώτατος δὲ τῆ κατασκευῆ. Above the ε at the end of the line there is a horizontal stroke which might be supposed to represent the final  $\nu$ , but that method of abbreviation is not elsewhere used by this writer, who interlineates  $\nu$  at the end of a long line, e. g. Fr. 8. ii. 20, Fr. 39. vi. 26, &c. Moreover, this line would not be of undue length with  $\nu$  written in the ordinary position. Cf. Fr. 39. vii. 2-3.

7. Murray suggests  $\tau \delta \nu \psi [\pi \delta \delta i] \kappa \eta s$ , which would suit the space.

- ii. 3. Since a pause in l. 2 is marked by the paragraphus, the new sentence may well begin, as W-M remarks, with où  $\mu[\acute{\eta}\nu$ .
- Fr. 3. This fragment might be placed beneath Fr. 2 so that the supposed  $\iota$  in i. 1 formed the second upright of  $\nu$  in Fr. 2. i. 17; but I do not think that the combination is convincing.
- ii. 5. A diagonal stroke is drawn through the first limb of  $\pi$ , but that the letter was thereby intended to be deleted is hardly certain.
  - Fr. 5. 3-4. Perhaps  $\pi a \rho [\rho \eta \sigma \iota] a \zeta o \mu \epsilon \nu [$  ; cf. Fr. 9. 11.

- Fr. 8. ii. 1-27. '... in emulation of the beauties of Ion developed and perfected [tragedy] so as to leave no room for improvement to his successors. Such were the man's artistic qualities. Hence Aristophanes wishes to measure his tongue "By which such fine expressions were expunged". And he was almost as great of soul also as in his poetry. For he contended, as we have said . . .'
- 1-3. Restored by W-M. The subject of course is Euripides; cf. Fr. 39. vii. 20-2. 17-19. This citation is novel and the reading is rather doubtful.  $[\epsilon \xi \epsilon \sigma] u \eta \chi \epsilon \tau \sigma$ , which was proposed by W-M, seems certain, but his  $\lambda [\epsilon \sigma] \tau \dot{\alpha}$  is more questionable, since the initial vestige suggests a round letter like  $\sigma$  or  $\phi$ . The top of  $\lambda$ , however, as of  $\delta$  and  $\chi$ , is sometimes turned over, and a slight exaggeration of this feature might produce the curve found in the papyrus.

20 sqq. There is some resemblance between this passage and Fr. 37. i. 15 sqq.; cf. the conjunction of φυσιολογίας with  $\dot{\rho}\eta\tau$ ορείας in Γέν. 2. But the two fragments cannot be brought into close connexion.

- 25 sqq.  $[\pi\rho\sigma\sigma]\epsilon\mu\dot{\alpha}\chi\epsilon[\tau\sigma]$  suits  $[\pi]\rho\dot{\alpha}s$  in l. 30, and the absence of a genitive is against  $[\dot{\nu}\pi\epsilon\rho]\epsilon\mu\dot{\alpha}\chi\epsilon[\tau\sigma]$ . In ll. 27–8  $\pi\rho\sigma]\epsilon\epsilon\mu\dot{\alpha}[\kappa]a[\mu]\epsilon\nu$   $\dot{\epsilon}\nu$  might be read, but the next word is then a difficulty;  $\nu$  is followed by an upright stroke consistent with e.g.  $\eta$  or  $\iota$ , or perhaps  $\lambda$  or  $\mu$ , but not with  $\tau$  or  $\pi$ . Reconstruction of the latter part of this column is the more conjectural on account of the fact that ].  $\nu\epsilon\nu$  with the beginnings of the succeeding lines, and the final letters ]a,  $]\nu$ , &c., are respectively contained on two detached fragments whose position here, though, I think, probable, is not free from doubt.
  - iii. 5-7. Σοφ[οκλη̂ς . . . Εὐριπίζοη seems likely.
- Fr. 9. This fragment, the restoration of which is largely due to W–M, relates to the character of Euripides; cf. Γέν. 5 σκυθρωπὸς δὲ καὶ σύννους καὶ αὐστηρὸς ἐφαίνετο καὶ μισόγελως, and Suidas σκυθρωπὸς δὲ ἦν τὸ ἦθος καὶ ἀμειδὴς καὶ φεύγων τὰς συνουσίας. In ll. 10–11 Murray proposes [ώς ἔοι]κεν [οὐδέν.
- Fr. 10. i. Murray suggests that ]ωνος in l. 9 is 'Απόλλ]ωνος, and that the reference is to the frequent attacks of Euripides upon Apollo.  $(\tau \dot{\alpha})\pi \dot{\alpha}\lambda\lambda$ ]ωνος might be read, but the restoration is not readily carried through on this hypothesis. In all probability ωνοσ ended the line. In l. 14 he would see an allusion to the poet's large library (Athen. i. 3 a, Aristoph. Frogs 943, 1409), and [βιβλι] would be a supplement of the right length, though rather precarious in so obscure a context;  $\dot{\nu}\pi$ ]οθήκην is an easy alternative. The supposed stop in l. 4 is uncertain.
- Fr. 13. Restored by W–M. ] is in l. 1 may well be ] $\eta s$ , i. e. another adjective parallel with  $\partial \mu a [\theta \eta s]$ .
  - Fr. 16. i. 2.  $[\sigma \kappa \eta] \nu \hat{\eta} s$  is not supported by what follows.
- Fr. 17. This fragment rather resembles in appearance Fr. 18, and possibly contains the tops of those two columns; but the fibres of the verso do not confirm the combination.
- Fr. 18. i. 2-5. 'H $\sigma$ io[ $\delta$ o]s in l. 3 seems inevitable, but the rest of the sentence is difficult. In l. 5  $\kappa$  may be  $\nu$  and a be  $\lambda$ ; ] $\nu\nu\nu\nu$  or ] $\kappa\nu\nu\nu$  is unlikely.
  - Fr. 26. 4. The mark before  $\phi$  may well be a stop instead of part of a letter.
  - Fr. 29 is probably not to be joined on above Fr. 19.
  - Fr. 32. It is not certain that this fragment belongs to 1176.

Fr. 33. i. 5.  $|\omega\theta\eta\kappa|$  or  $|\pi\omega\theta\eta\kappa|$  would be possible; cf. note on Fr. 10. i.

14-17. Perhaps  $\tau \hat{\eta}$  [...] $\eta$  (or [...]a) δυνα[τὸς μάλ] $\iota \sigma \tau a$  [...  $\epsilon \iota$ ] $\nu$ .

21.  $o\tilde{v}$  is a doubtful reading. What has been regarded as the horizontal stroke of a rough breathing might be taken for a small  $\tau$  over the v, but an abbreviation of  $o\tilde{v}\tau\omega s$ , though it would suit  $\phi\eta[\sigma \iota$ , is unlikely, and the curved stroke above, which suggests only a circumflex accent (cf. Fr. 39. xvi. 37), would be unexplained. At the same time the supposed rough breathing must be admitted to be clumsily formed. The v has apparently been altered or rewritten.

Fr. 37. i. The number of lines lost at the top of this and the following columns can be estimated fairly accurately by means of the worm-holes which persist in Frs. 38 and 39.

20-1. If the reconstruction is correct the dot at the end of l. 20 is accidental or erroneous. The  $\gamma$  in l. 21 may equally well be  $\tau$ .

22 sqq. Cf. Γέν. 2 προσεξεῦρε . . . φυσιολογίας . . . . ώς δὴ ἀκουστὴς γενόμενος ᾿Αναξαγόρου, 3 σχολάσαντα δὲ ᾿Αρχελάφ τῷ φυσικῷ καὶ ᾿Αναξαγόρα, Suidas διήκουσε δὲ καὶ ᾿Αναξαγόρου τοῦ Κλαζομενίου, ἐπὶ τραγφδίαν δὲ ἐτράπη τὸν ᾿Αναξαγόραν ἰδὼν ὑποστάντα κινδύνους δὶ ἄπερ εἰσῆξε δόγματα. The influence of Anaxagoras on Euripides is traced in the following columns; cf. iii. 17. For modern discussions of this subject see Wilamowitz, Her. i. 25, Anal. Eur. 163 sqq., Parmentier, Euripide et Anaxagore.

ii, 19-28 = Eurip. Fr. 593, from the Pirithous. Line 19 is difficult. The last two letters seem to be va, which strongly suggest  $a\dot{v}\tau o\phi v\hat{a}$ , but that word can only be restored on the assumption of a deep corruption; moreover, there is barely room for  $\epsilon\tau$  between  $\sigma$  and  $\sigma$ . Perhaps then the quotation began at  $\tau \delta v$  in 1. 20.

21. ρύμβφ: so Hesych., Eustath., Schol. Apoll. Rhod.; ὅμβρφ Clem. Alex., ρόμβφ Euseb., Schol. Eurip. Or.

iii. 7–8.  $\dot{a}\pi o$ ]λο[γο] $\dot{\nu}\mu\epsilon$ [νος, which W–M suggests, is not very suitable.

9-14. Eurip. Fr. 912. χλόην in l. 11 confirms Bergk's conjecture for χοήν, given by the MSS. of Clem. Alex., from whom alone the passage was known. Clement has ϵἴτ' ᾿Αίδης, and ὀνομαζόμενος στέργεις. Satyrus' ὀνομάζη is clearly inexact.

18-20. διά]κοσμον and περι[όδοις were restored by W-M; the latter is somewhat long.

26-9 = Eurip. Tro. 886.

Fr. 38. i. A loss of two columns between this and the preceding fragment is made probable by the worm-holes; cf. the notes on Fr. 37. i and Fr. 39. iv.

11-16. The quotation in ll. 16 sqq. expressing a belief in divine power is in opposition to the Anaxagorean tenets exemplified in the foregoing citations, and therefore  $[\partial \nu \tau] \lambda \dot{\epsilon} \gamma \epsilon \iota$ , as proposed by W-M, may well be right in l. 16. But the restoration here depends upon that of ll. 13-14, which at present remain a problem. W-M suggests  $\tau \dot{\eta} \nu$  [A $\dot{\nu}$ ] $\eta \nu \dot{\epsilon} \pi \iota \dot{\phi} \nu o \mu \dot{\epsilon} \nu \eta \nu$ , but this can certainly not be read.  $\tau \eta \nu$  is clear, and though  $\alpha \nu \gamma \eta \nu$  might easily be corrupted to  $\alpha \nu \tau \eta \nu$ , the dative in ll. 14-15 suits  $\tau \dot{\eta} \nu$  [a $\dot{\nu}$ ] $\dot{\tau} \dot{\eta} \nu$  very well. The last letter of l. 13 is probably  $\sigma$  or  $\epsilon$ :  $\gamma$  or  $\tau$  is much less likely. Between this and  $\phi$  there may be one or two letters, e.g.  $\theta$ ,  $\epsilon$ ., a. In l. 14 the letter before  $\eta \nu$  had a vertical stroke, e.g.  $\tau$  or perhaps  $\nu$ . Heracles may have been brought in, as W-M remarks, as one of Euripides' exponents of a pure religion; cf. H. F. 1345-6.

16-30. This fragment is cited by Clement, Strom. v. p. 732 (Eurip. Fr. 913) ὁ τοίνυν μὴ πειθόμενος τῆ ἀληθεία, διδασκαλία δὲ ἀνθρωπίνη τετυφωμένος δυσδαίμων ἄθλιός τε καὶ κατὰ τὸν Εὐριπίδην 'δς τάδε λεύσσων θεὸν οὐχὶ νοεῖ, μετεωρολόγων' κτλ. ὅς was altered by Cobet to τίς (so Nauck), but this is now shown to be wrong, τίς having preceded. What followed τίς is uncertain.

The vestige before o suits e.g.  $\kappa$ ,  $\lambda$ ,  $\mu$ ,  $\chi$ , and neither  $\mu \omega \delta \theta \epsilon o s$  nor  $\epsilon \chi \theta \rho \delta \theta \epsilon o s$  will do;  $[a\tau] \mu \delta \theta \epsilon o s$ . which Murray suggests, might be read, but, as W-M remarks, an adverb of comparison seems needed, and something like τίς δ' δδ' ἄθεος would be expected. This, however, was certainly not written, and to restore it in opposition to the papyrus is somewhat arbitrary, although the inferiority of the text is exemplified in the next line, where παραδαιμων (an unknown form) appears to have stood for  $\beta a \rho \nu \delta a i \mu \omega \nu$ .  $20-3. o\dot{v} \dots \dot{\eta} [\gamma \epsilon \hat{i}] \sigma \theta a : \theta \epsilon \dot{o} \nu o \dot{v} \dot{\chi} \dot{\nu} \nu \epsilon \hat{i}$  Clement. The discrepancy is curious.

23. μετεωρολόγων is confirmed against Nauck's conjecture μετεωροπόλων.

27. τολ[μηρά, which was restored by W-M, is a variant for Clement's ἀτηρά (ἀτειρά MS.); cf. note on ll. 20–3. τολμηρά is perhaps the more apposite epithet.

29. The ink after the second lacuna may represent an angular sign filling up the line.

- ii. The remains of this column are occupied by a lyric citation, the partial coincidence of which with Eurip. Fr. 960 was perceived by W-M. Lines 6-14 are not clear and there is possibly some defect in the text. In ll. 8-14 the meaning may be 'Let the man who works and who is known to be the friend of the good  $(\kappa \epsilon \kappa \lambda \hat{\eta} \sigma \theta a \iota \phi \hat{\iota} \lambda o s) \mathring{\omega}_{\nu})$  be called my friend', but, if so, it is obscurely expressed. Lines 12-14 give an Anacreontic verse which perhaps terminates a strophe.
- 14 sqq. 'Why, mortals as you are, have you acquired great wealth for nought, why think you to produce virtue by means of riches? What though you possessed Etna's mount or the marble of Paros wrought in gold in your ancestral halls? Not then, unless you are [good] of heart [are you deserving of honour], but you sit unblessed in the midst of wealth.
- 14-29. Cf. Plut. De aud. poel. 14, p. 36 c καὶ πάλιν ὑπὸ τοῦ Εὐριπίδου παραπλησίως ' ἐγὼ δ' ούδὲν πρεσβύτερον νομίζω τᾶς σωφροσύνας, ἐπεὶ τοῖς ἀγαθοῖς ἀεὶ σύνεστι' (Fr. 959), καὶ τὸ ' τιμᾶν τὰν τέτασθε, πλούτω δ' άρετὰν κατεργάσασθαι δοκεῖτ', εν εσθλοῖς δε καθήσεσθ' ἄνολβοι (Fr. 960). It is now clear that Plutarch has greatly compressed the quotation, which Satyrus gives more fully. τί μάταν, which W-M had already restored in Plutarch before I read it in II. 14-15, is obviously the original of the corrupt  $\tau \iota \mu \hat{a} \nu$ . Of the variants  $\tau \dot{\epsilon} \tau a \sigma \theta \epsilon$  and  $\pi \dot{\epsilon} \tau a \sigma \theta \epsilon$  the former is perhaps the superior, but either may stand. In l. 19 the MSS. of Plutarch have κατεργασάσθω, which was corrected by Jannotius to κατεργάσασθαι; the future, as in the papyrus, seems preferable. In l. 21 τιν not τον is clear; after Αἴτνας W-M suggests the insertion of τε, which may be right. The words εν εσθλοῖς δὲ κάθησθ' (so Nauck for καθήσεσθ') ανολβοι were presumably the latter part of the apodosis to μη πεφυ[κότες in l. 29, i. e. the sense was something like οὔτοι τότε, μὴ πεφυ[κότες ἀγαθοί, τιμῆς ἄξιοί ἐστε], ἐν ἐσθλοῖς δὲ κτλ. τοτε, not ποτε, was apparently written. Perhaps Plutarch's preceding quotation (Fr. 959) is from the same context; τοις αγαθοίς recalls ll. 10-11, and σωφροσύνας... σύνεστιν corresponds metrically with τῶν τ' ἀγαθῶν . . . λεγέσθω.

iii. 8 sqq. Some iambic lines, which are not elsewhere extant, are here quoted in further illustration of the theme of the foregoing column, the vain pursuit of wealth. Lines 8-9 were restored by W-M; the purpose of the oblique dash prefixed to l. 9 is not clear.

12-15. 'Watching waves as high as heaven' is the sense. ἀστροσκοπία is found in late Greek, but the verb has apparently not occurred previously.

17. [ελθ]οῦσαν μα[κράν] W-M. The asyndeton of l. 15 and the difficulty of obtaining a substantive to accompany the participle in l. 17 indicate that the verses are not continuous; cf. Fr. 39. v. 12 sqq., vi. 1-15, notes.

18-19. χρυσους is an unexpected epithet of "Ιστρος, but I do not see how it can be avoided. The Ister is naturally coupled with the Bosporus. ουτε would be an easy mistake for ουδε.

iv. The combination of this column with Fr. 39. i is made with some hesitation. Two points are in its favour, (1) the coincidence in l. 20 of the stop after  $\nu$  with the paragraphus, (2) the fact that if Fr. 38 is placed thus, certain worm-holes in Col. ii will come at the right distance from the corresponding pattern in Fr. 39. ii. On the other hand a high dot at the end of l. 23 is unexplained; but this is not a fatal objection since similar superfluous dots occur elsewhere, e.g. after  $\delta\eta\pi\sigma\nu$  in Fr. 39. vii. 16; cf. Fr. 37. i. 20. The difficulty of restoring this column satisfactorily is no argument against the proposed combination, because that difficulty is not produced by the remains of Fr. 39. i.

19. If  $ai[\sigma\chi\rho\delta\nu$  is right, the  $\nu$  must have been written above the line. 20.  $\delta' \dot{\epsilon}\lambda(\lambda)\delta\gamma\iota[\mu\sigma]\nu$ , as W–M remarks, is preferable to  $\delta\dot{\epsilon}\lambda\delta\gamma\iota[\mu\sigma]\nu$ .

23.  $\chi[.]o\nu$  is very doubtful;  $\lambda \eta \nu$  or  $\mu \eta \nu$  could well be read.

26. For Σω[κρά]τη, which was restored by W-M, cf. Fr. 39. ii. 17 and Γέν. 2 δοκεί (δέ) αὐτῷ Σωκράτης ὁ φιλόσοφος συμπεποιηκέναι τινά, ὧς φησι Τηλεκλείδης, Suidas μαθητής . . . Σωκράτους δὲ ἐν τοῖς ἠθικοῖς καὶ φιλοσόφοις. The supposed cross-bar of τ in l. 27 might be taken for a paragraphus.

- 27 sqq. There is no apparent connexion between this and the preceding sentence,  $\epsilon \pi \sigma \iota \eta [\sigma a] r^i$  in 1. 34 lacks a subject and  $[a \dot{v}] r^i \sigma v$  is undefined; some corruption is therefore to be suspected. The passage of the Danaė here referred to is, as W-M suggests, probably Fr. 324 & χρυσέ, δεξίωμα κάλλιστον βροτοίς κτλ. Socrates might be supposed to have excepted this passage in a general approval of Euripides' doctrine about wealth; or to have excepted Euripides from his condemnation of poets, though disapproving of this passage. But no such sense can be extracted without the assumption of a considerable dislocation in the text.
- Fr. 39. ii. 7-27. '... in the following way: '(A) When this is done in secret, whom dost thou fear? (B) The gods, who see more than men." Such a conception of the gods will be Socratic; for in truth what is invisible to mortals is to the immortal gods easily seen. Moreover, the hatred of tyranny and the [condemnation of] democracies and oligarchies...'

7.  $[\tau] \dot{\delta} \nu \delta [\epsilon \tau] \dot{\delta} \nu W-M$ .

8-14. These lines are not elsewhere extant. v of rovs has been rewritten.

15. A conjunction seems a desirable addition and will also obviate the hiatus,—which, however, is repeated immediately afterwards in τοιαύτη ὑπόνοια; cf. Introd. p. 127.

- 24-7. The restoration proposed by W-M is attractive (cf. Col. iii), but not altogether satisfactory, since, though the vestige before o in l. 24 is consistent with  $\sigma$ , there is barely room in front of it for  $\mu\iota$ . The  $\theta$  also in l. 25 is questionable. An infinitive such as  $\iota l \pi \sigma \delta \sigma \kappa \iota \mu d \zeta \epsilon \iota \nu$  is to be supplied after  $\delta \lambda l \gamma l \omega \nu$ .
- iii. '... and especially to raise none of the citizens above a proper level, nor make him tyrant, and to give bad citizens no admission to honours. For the greatest disease in a State is a worthless orator promoted beyond his worth. Nevertheless, Diodorus, concerning the general imprudence and negligence (?) of the Athenians . . .'

1-2.  $[\epsilon i]\pi[\delta]\nu\tau\iota$  . .  $[\delta \eta]$  W-M.

5. Restored by W-M.

15-17. ἡήτωρ δημαγωγόs is a redundancy, and W-M seems right in rejecting the latter word as well as in substituting προαγόμενοs for παραγόμενοs.

23-5. Perhaps κα[λ ἀμελ[είας. ε]ρα πά[λιν, as W-M suggests; but the traces at the end of l. 23 though slight do not suggest a, and the preceding space is barely sufficient.  $\pi a |\rho a \pi \lambda| \dot{\eta} \sigma \iota a$  cannot be read.

iv. 1-38. '... not in this wise, but we are not also guilty of baseness when we put full trust in somebody whatever he says, speaking not what is base but having recourse to what is weak, and then each one accuses the assembly of which he was a member.

(Di.) The comic poets, it seems, have said much both with severity and like statesmen.

(A) Yes, of course. Euripides again admirably incites the youths to valour and courage, urging Spartan efforts upon them and emboldening the people thus: "Gain glory in the time to come by performing every day a labour...".

I-I5. The purport of this quotation from a comic poet, which is not extant, is apparently to excuse the Demos, which allows itself to be guided by demagogues; we are weak, he says, but not base.  $\delta\tau$ ] $\epsilon$  in l. 5 is due to W-M, who would prefer  $\tau\hat{\varphi}$ ...  $\delta s$  to  $\tau\varphi$ ...  $\delta s$ . In ll. 8-9 he suggests  $\lambda \epsilon \gamma ov\taus$  où  $\pi ov \eta \rho$  '  $d\pi$ ] $d\tau[\eta$   $\delta \epsilon$   $\chi \rho \omega [\mu \epsilon \theta a$ , (or  $\chi \rho \omega [\mu \epsilon \nu ov)$ , 'his words are specious and we allow ourselves to be deceived.'  $a\pi [a\tau[\eta \iota$ , however, can certainly not be read, though perhaps should be restored. The letter after a (which could be  $\lambda$  or  $\delta$ ) must be either  $\lambda$  or  $\mu$ ; it is not unlikely that the scribe wrote  $\kappa a \lambda o \iota s$ .

33 sqq. The citation is new. A diaeresis should perhaps be recognized on the v of υστεροισιν, but it does not appear to occur elsewhere in this papyrus.

38. [πόν]ον W-M. For the conjunction of πόνος and εὔκλεια cf. e. g. Eurip. Fr. 474 πόνος γάρ, ως λέγουσιν, εὐκλείας πατήρ.

V. 11. ]σεις: or e. g. ]ψεις.

12-27. "The flute-girls smile at you at the street corners. You ask who the astynoma are: you mean the men who clip the wings of liberty. If a man gains wealth, Pamphilus, you regard it not as property but as power."

12 sqq. These lines from a comic poet are also unknown. They seem disjointed, but that is very likely due to a desire on Satyrus' part for brevity; cf. vi. 1–15 note, viii. 17 sqq. note, xii. 1–16. W–M, to whom is due the restoration of ll. 14 and 24–6, suggests that the idea running through them may be that the astynomi, by regulating the tariff, placed rich and poor on a certain equality with regard to αὐλητρίδες.

19–20. ] $\lambda_{0i}$  is difficult; the first letter though imperfect is apparently  $\lambda$ , not  $\mu$ . The vocative of a feminine name does not seem probable, and a corruption may be suspected, perhaps caused by the compression of the citation.  $\pi[\tau\epsilon\rho\sigma]\kappa\sigma\pi\sigma\hat{v}\nu[\tau]$  as W-M; cf. Callim.

Epigr. 46. 8 κείρευ τὰ πτερά.

24.  $\Pi \acute{a}\mu \phi [\iota] \lambda \epsilon$  looks probable, but the  $\mu$  is rather cramped.

28.  $\gamma$  could be read in place of  $\pi$  and  $\iota$  in place of o.

29.  $\eta\iota$ : or  $\pi\iota$ ; possibly  $]\epsilon\pi\iota$ .

vi. 4-29. "…and most bitter against the father who begat them. For men who have come to the passion for rule over others are most hostile to their closest friends. Small children are sweeter to an aged father." So one would say, doubtless, auguring ill of the majority now badly brought up. For such persons are eager to carry out their father to burial with all speed, and to dispose of his property.'

I-15. The verses, which presumably are from Euripides himself, are again unknown. As in Col. v, they appear not to form a consecutive passage; ll. 12-15, at any rate, have no evident connexion with the preceding lines. In l.  $7 \delta a \mu \omega \nu$  must be corrupt; ἄλλων, which I have suggested, might easily have a very similar appearance.

2. If  $\epsilon$  and  $\tau$  are right, the intervening letter should be  $\iota$  on account of the narrow space; but  $\tau$  may be  $\gamma$ , e. g.  $\gamma \hat{a} | \rho$ .

15–16. According to the copyist the quotation ended at  $\pi \alpha \tau \rho i$ , and it seems safer to follow him than to place the stop after  $\tilde{\alpha}\nu$  and make  $\mu[a]\nu\tau\epsilon\nu\delta\mu\epsilon\nu\sigma$  refer to Euripides himself.  $\tau_{15}$  may mean one of the characters in the play.

19-20.  $[\nu \hat{v}]\nu \dots \hat{\eta} \gamma \mu \hat{\epsilon} \nu \omega \nu$  W-M; there is barely room for  $[\nu \hat{v}]\nu$ .

28-9. τ ην έκφο ράν W-M.

vii. '[... the husband] against the wife, and the father against the son, and the servant against the master; or in the reversals of fortune, violations of virgins, substitutions of children, recognitions by means of rings and necklaces. For these are the things which comprise the New Comedy, and were brought to perfection by Euripides, Homer being the starting-point in this and in the colloquial arrangement of verses (?). And Philemon rightly gives him credit for this in the passage, "So says Euripides, who alone can speak..."

1-6. The restoration is substantially due to W-M. Why the a of  $\kappa a = 1$  in ll. 2 and 3 has a horizontal stroke drawn above it is obscure; cf. the note on Fr. i. 3.

23-6. W-M objects to Homer being brought in here, and suspects a corruption of e.g. ὅτι μὴ...; but I have no doubt that 'Ομήρον stands in the papyrus. The principle of ἀναγνωρισμός at any rate is to be found in Homer as well as an approximation to dramatic dialogue, if that is what is meant by σύνταξις λεκτική. But possibly there is some omission towards the end of the sentence;  $\sigma τίχων γε(νόμενος ...)$ , for instance, suggests itself.

28 sqq. The admiration of Philemon for Euripides is referred to in Γέν, 6 οὖτω δὲ αὐτὸν Φιλήμων ἡγάπησεν ὡς τολμῆσαι περὶ αὐτοῦ τοιοῦτον εἶπεῖν 'εἰ ταῖς ἀληθείαισιν οἱ τεθνηκότες αἴσθησιν εἶχον, ἄνδρες, ὥς φασίν τινες, ἀπηγξάμην ἃν ὥστ' ἰδεῖν Εὐριπίδην'. The citation in ll. 32–6, the restoration of which I owe partly to W-M, is not elsewhere extant.

viii. 11. κρίσιν rather than ὑπόκρισιν seems to be the appropriate word. η might be read in place of  $\rho\iota$ .

17 sqq. The quotation is from the first oration against Aristogiton § 40. Lines 30–3, which were restored by W-M, are an abbreviation of the ordinary text, which is τίνα γὰρ τῶν ρήτορων οὖτος εἴργασταί τι κακὸν τοσοῦτον ἡλίκον τοὺς ἰδιώτας, περὶ ὧν ψηφίσματα γράψας ἐάλω; τίνα δ', ἐξ οὖ νῦν πάλιν λέγει, κέκρικεν ῥήτορα; οὐδένα. A high stop is possibly to be recognized at the end of l. 21. That in l. 29 is not certain.

ix. 3. λειον: or δειον.

- 4-32. 'He was the owner of a large cave there with the mouth towards the sea, and here he passed the day by himself engaged in constant thought or writing, despising everything that was not great and elevated. Aristophanes at least says, as though summoned as a witness for this very purpose: "As are his characters, so is the man." But once when witnessing a comedy he is said . . .'
- 4 sqq. Cf. Γέν. 5 φασὶ δὲ αὐτὸν ἐν Σαλαμῖνι σπήλαιον κατασκευάσαντα ἀναπνοὴν ἔχον εἰς τὴν θάλασσαν ἐκεῖσε διημερεύειν φεύγοντα τὸν ὅχλον. Aulus Gellius, N. A. xv. 20, cites Philochorus as the authority for this statement: Philochorus refert in insula Salamine speluncam esse taetram et horridam, quam nos vidimus, in qua Euripides tragoedias scriptitarit.

7. Analogies for the spelling ἀναπνοίην for ἀναπνοήν are found from the third century B. C.; cf. Mayser, Gram. d. griech. Papyri, p. 110.

19. The stop is uncertain.

25-8. The quotation, which is apparently in trochaic metre, is not otherwise known. For the sentiment W-M well compares Aristoph. Thesm. 149-50 χρη γὰρ ποιητην ἄνδρα πρὸς τὰ δράματα α δεί ποιείν πρὸς ταῦτα τοὺς τρόπους ἔχειν. In l. 25 τοια seems to have been written for οια.

31. λ[έγεται W-Μ.

x. 'Every one disliked him, the men because of his unsociableness, the women because of the censures in his poems. And he incurred great danger from both sexes, for he was prosecuted by Cleon the demagogue in the action for impiety mentioned above, while the women combined against him at the Thesmophoria and collected in a body at the place where he happened to be resting. But notwithstanding their anger they spared the man, partly because of their admiration for his poetical gifts . . .'

3-5. On the δυσομιλία of Euripides cf. Fr. 9 and note.

15–22. This prosecution by Cleon, which the extant accounts of Euripides do not mention, was perhaps referred to in the columns lost between Frs. 37 and 38. A charge of ἀσέβεια was involved in the property-suit which is mentioned by Aristotle, Rhel. iii. 15. 8 (p. 1416 a 28) ὥσπερ Εὐριπίδης πρὸς Ὑγιαίνοντα ἐν τῆ ἀντιδόσει κατηγοροῦντα ὡς ἀσεβής, ὅς γ' ἐποίησε κελεύων ἐπιορκεῖν ἡ γλῶσσ' ὀμώμοχ', ἡ δὲ φρὴν ἀνώμοτος '. But it is quite credible that the accusation was made more than once.

23 sqq. Cf. Γέν. 5 αί δε γυναίκες εβουλήθησαν αὐτον κτείναι εἰσελθοῦσαι εἰς το σπήλαιον εν φ γράφων διετέλει, 6 λέγουσι δε καὶ ὅτι αἱ γυναίκες διὰ τοὺς ψόγους, οὖς εποίει εἰς αὐτὰς διὰ τῶν ποιημάτων, τοῖς Θεσμοφορίοις επέστησαν αὐτῷ βουλόμεναι ἀνελεῖν. εφείσαντο δε αὐτοῦ πρῶτον μεν διὰ τὰς μούσας, ἔπειτα δε βεβαιωσαμένου μηκέτι αὐτὰς κακῶς ἐρεῖν, εν γοῦν τῆ Μελανίππη περὶ αὐτῶν τάδε φησίν μάτην ἄρ' ες γυναῖκας εξ ἀνδρῶν ψόγος κτλ. (Fr. 499).

34. A blank space, in which there is no sign of writing, precedes εφε[; cf. xi. 6-7.

35. For the crasis τἀν[δρό]ς cf. xviii. 14.

37.  $[\dot{\alpha}\gamma]\alpha\sigma\theta\epsilon\hat{\alpha}\sigma\alpha$ : two letters hardly fill the space, and  $\delta_i[\dot{\alpha} \tau \dot{\alpha}s] \mu \alpha \dot{\alpha}\sigma s$  might be read, as in the  $\Gamma\epsilon \dot{\nu}\sigma s$  (cf. the note on II. 23 sqq.); but I can find no suitable word to precede  $\delta_i[\dot{\alpha}]$ .

38. There may be a high stop after μούσας; if so, αμα δέ followed in the next line.

39. Por or possibly loss.

xi. This column is occupied by a long quotation from the Melanippe Desmotis of Euripides. The lines are also found in the Florilegium recently published in Berl. Klassikertexte, V. ii. p. 123 sqq. with some slight variations partly perhaps due to Satyrus himself. The Melanippe was no doubt quoted in the papyrus, as in  $\Gamma \acute{e}\nu$ . 6 (cf. note on ll. 23 sqq.), in illustration of the poet's supposed promise  $\mu \eta \kappa \acute{e} \tau \iota \ a \mathring{\iota} \tau \grave{a} s \kappa \kappa \kappa \kappa \hat{\kappa} \hat{\kappa} \hat{\epsilon} \hat{\epsilon} \hat{\epsilon} \hat{\nu}$ .

I-4. The supplements suggested are derived from the Berlin papyrus, where the two verses which precede that ending  $a[i\sigma\chi']\nu\eta\nu$   $\tilde{\epsilon}\chi\epsilon\iota$  (ll. 7-8) conclude ] . . κα οὐκ ἀρν[ο]υμέναι and άλλήλας πίόνους.

6-7. There is a blank space at the end of 1. 6 and at the beginning of 1. 7, perhaps indicating an omission, though in x. 34, where a similar blank occurs, nothing seems to be wanting.

7-8. ] θ . . αισχ . . . φέρει P. Berl., the editors suggesting οὐ θεν αἰσχύνην φέρει, which is now partially confirmed.

10–11.]. ωτοs ... [......]νη P. Berl., but W-M informs me that  $\epsilon κβa[λ\epsilon \hat{\iota}$  can now be recognized. Something like a l σ χρούs λόγουs was apparently the object of the verb.

11-12 = Eurip. Fr. 492. 6-7 (Athen. p. 613 d). νέμουσι: οἰκοῦσι Athen., which is less attractive; the word is lost in P. Berl.

16-19. ] ἐρημία γυναικὸς οἶκος δυσπινής ὅγε ὅλβι[ο]ς P. Berl., which will neither scan nor construe. W-M suggests that the original may have been ἐν δ' ἐρημία . . . δυσπινής οὐδ' ὅλβιος; the papyrus however perhaps gives the verse as Satyrus wrote it,—though the mistakes in the following lines do not inspire confidence.

20. ά δ' είς θεούς P. Berl.

21.  $\pi\rho\omega\tau a$  was written twice by mistake.

25-6. Φοίβου and δόμοις P. Berl.

30-1.  $d\mu\phi\ell$  θ' is correct; [...] δ' P. Berl., restored by the editors  $[\tilde{\epsilon}\nu\theta a]$  δ'. But  $\delta\omega\mu\dot{\alpha}\tau\omega\nu$  is evidently a corruption for  $\Delta\omega\delta\dot{\omega}\nu\eta s$ , which is given by P. Berl. The σ before  $\beta a\theta\rho a$  may be a survival of the termination of  $\Delta\omega\delta\dot{\omega}\nu\eta s$ , but  $[\eta]s$  would hardly fill the space.

33-8. The restorations in ll. 33-5 are derived from P. Berl., which continues γένος πορεύει τοῖς θέλουσιν Ἑλλάδος. This, however, is not reconcileable with the clear θ of l. 36, and apparently the text of the papyrus was again erratic.  $\sigma$  in 1. 37 may be  $\epsilon$  or o.

xii. 1-16 = Aristoph. Thesm. 374-5, 335-7. These passages were evidently cited by the interlocutor in connexion with the story of the women's attack upon Euripides, perhaps, as W-M suggests, as the actual source of the story.

2. Τιμόκλεια Aristoph.; the papyrus had some other name, e. g. 'Αρχίκλεια.

13-14. Εὐριπίδη Μήδοις MSS. of Aristoph.,  $\tau$  being added by Scaliger. There is not room for Μήδοις between  $\omega$  and  $\tau$ .

16-35. 'You have clearly comprehended my meaning and absolved me from developing it. He was embittered against the sex for this reason. He had, it seems, in his home a young man born in the house named Cephisophon; and he detected his wife in misconduct with this person.'

21 sqq. Cf. Γέν. 6 ἔσκωπτε δὲ τὰς γυναίκας διὰ τῶν ποιημάτων δι' αἰτίαν τοιαύτην. εἶχεν οἰκογενὲς μειράκιον ὀνόματι Κηφισοφῶντα. πρὸς τοῦτον ἐφώρασε τὴν οἰκείαν γυναῖκα ἀτακτοῦσαν.

34.  $[d]_{\tau\alpha\kappa}[\tau\sigma]\hat{v}[\sigma\alpha\nu]$  is warranted by  $\Gamma\epsilon\nu$ . 6 (cf. the previous note), though  $[\tau\sigma]$  hardly fills the space.

xiii. 1-38. '... bearing the outrage [calmly], as is related, directed the woman to live with the young man. When he was asked "What is the meaning of this?", he said "In order that my wife may not be his, but his mine,—for that is just,—if I wish". And he continued to oppose the whole sex in his poetry.

(Di.) Quite absurdly! For why is it more reasonable to blame women because of a seduced woman than men because of the man who seduced her? As Socrates said, the same vices and virtues are to be found in both.'

1. Some adverb such as ράδίως or εὐχερῶς preceded.

9-11. Restored by W-M. It seems necessary to assume some error in Il. 9-10.

23. This use of  $\nu\dot{\eta}$  is very questionable, and  $\langle\Delta ia\rangle$  should perhaps be inserted, or  $\nu ai$  substituted.  $\nu\dot{\eta}$  without an accusative is only found in Lucian in the phrase  $\nu\dot{\eta}$  kai  $\sigma\dot{\nu}\gamma\epsilon$  (Tim. 46, Dial. Deor. 20. 7, 22. 1, Dial. Mort. 20. 3).

24 sqq. Cf. Berl. Klassikertexte, V. ii. p. 126 ψόγος μάταιος ἀνδρών . . . ψέγειν γυναίκας, εί μι [ε] ὑρε[θ]η κακή, πάσας ὁμοίως and, for 31 sqq., Plato, Rep. p. 455.

34-5. W-M's emendations are clearly right.

40. The letter before  $\theta$  can be  $\chi$ .

xiv. 4.  $\nu$  is very doubtful and there is perhaps room for another letter, e.g.  $]\theta\eta\sigma[\theta]a$ .

6.  $\delta \rho o s$  is possible  $(\tau [dv] \delta \rho o s ?)$ .

8-35. '... that she was drugging Hystaspes with love potions. So she sent for the woman, but when on her approach she saw her stature and beauty, "Welcome, woman," she said; "I see that the accusations were false. For you have the drugs in your face and your eyes".

(A) Capital, best of women, and rightly named Eucleia, since you remember such traits of character . . .'

8 sqq. This story about Hystaspes seems to be new.

17. c of kac is corrected.

21. [δια] βολαί W-Μ.

- xv. '... so long they prevailed over their adversaries; for in my view this is to be reckoned the victory of the women. The men so far as depended upon themselves were worsted.
- (A) Perhaps, Diodorus. But let this be the defence of the women and let us return to Euripides. He partly in vexation at the malice of his fellow-citizens and partly in anger at his frequent association with Acestor and Dorilaus and Morsimus and Melanthius—(Di.) By Zeus, whom do you say? Were they poets?

(A) Yes, poets, who . . .

1-12. Owing to the loss of the context this passage remains obscure.

21-6. Cf. Γέν. 3 ἐπέκειντο δὲ καὶ οἱ κωμικοὶ φθόνω αὐτὸν διασύροντες. ὑπεριδών δὲ πάντα εἰς Μακεδονίαν ἀπηρε, 5 ύπὸ γὰρ ᾿Αθηναίων ἐφθονείτο.

35-9. Restored by W-M.

- xvi. 1-17. A quotation from a comedian, apparently giving a receipt for a dish of poetry: 'Take some of Sophocles and Aeschylus, but put in a whole Euripides,' i.e. you will want the whole in order to extract a flavour. It is clear from the sequel that Euripides was being depreciated. Lines 6-10 ought to be restored. In l. 10 the first letter is perhaps  $\alpha$ ,  $\beta$ , or  $\delta$ , and that before  $\epsilon\sigma\theta$  can be  $\kappa$ ,  $\lambda$ ,  $\mu$ ,  $\sigma$ , or  $\chi$ .  $\beta o[\hat{\nu}]\lambda \epsilon \sigma \theta'$  is hardly suitable;  $\tilde{\alpha}\lambda[\iota]_{S}$   $\tilde{\epsilon}\sigma\theta'$  is possible, though unconvincing.
- 17-31. (A) 'The verses have the appearance of being by one of his competitors, as you say. But here too the comedian's attack on Euripides is mischievous. In the following winter...'

19. a[vti] W-M.

- 30-1. If the words are rightly restored, they are of interest as showing that Satyrus was acquainted with the dates of the plays mentioned.  $\delta$  seems to have dropped out in 1. 30, as in ii. 15.
- xvii. "... whatever part of the body it has taken for its habitation, in the hands, the inwards, or by the eyes," added mockingly to this, "where the dog as she sleeps puts her nose". These then, as I said, in their expression of views sought popular favour. He however, after putting in, so to speak, an obstructive plea, renounced Athens.

(Di.) What was the plea?

- (A) It was entered in the following choral ode: "Wings of gold", &c.'
- I-7 = Eurip. Fr. 403. 3-4 (Stob. Flor. 38. 8) from the Ino. The first two lines of the fragment are: τίς ἆρα μήτηρ ἢ πατὴρ κακὸν μέγα βροτοῖς ἔφυσε τὸν δυσώνυμον φθόνον. At the beginning of the third line Stob. gives ποῦ καί ποτ' οἰκεῖ, which has been variously emended. The papyrus confirms ποτ' οἰκεῖ, and ὅπου gives some support to ποῦ. ὅπου cannot be right, since an interrogative is required.

7-13. The poet who added the line in the Doric dialect is unidentified.

30 sqq. = Eurip. Fr. 911, from Clem. Alex. Strom. iv. p. 642. The play is unknown, but ll. 21-5 show that it was among the latest works of Euripides, presumably one of the Orestes group.

34. πτε[ρόεν]τα: so rightly Grotius; ἐρόεντα L.

36. άρμόζεται is bracketed by Nauck, whose suspicions prove to be ill-founded.

37. 8': r' L. The insertion of els with Clement (es L, els Bergk) is desirable on metrical grounds.

- 37–9.  $al\theta \epsilon \rho a \pi o \lambda \dot{\nu} \dot{a} \epsilon \rho \theta \epsilon \dot{\iota} s$  L, which has been mistakenly emended; Nauck adopts Gomperz's  $al\theta \dot{\epsilon} \rho \iota o \nu \dot{a} \rho \theta \epsilon \dot{\iota} s$ . The true correction is now given by the papyrus. The quotation continued  $\sigma \nu \mu \mu \epsilon \dot{\iota} \dot{\xi} \omega \nu \dot{\delta} \rho \mu \dot{a} \nu$ ; cf. xviii. 7–8.
  - xviii. '... began the songs. Or do you not know that it is this that he says?

(Di.) How then?

(A) In saying "to mingle my flight with Zeus" he metaphorically designates the monarch and also magnifies the man's power.

(Di.) What you say seems to me to be more subtle than true.

- (A) Take it as you like. Anyhow, he migrated and spent his old age in Macedonia, being held in much honour by the sovereign; and in particular the story is told that . . .'
- 3–6. The suggested restoration, to which W–M and Murray have both contributed, gives a fairly good sense, though there is some awkwardness in making the speaker assume a knowledge of Euripides' meaning. olohoho, however, is better adapted to the space than  $\epsilon \tilde{v} \delta \eta \lambda o \nu$ , which W–M suggests as an alternative. In l. 4  $\lambda$  or  $\nu$  could be read in place of a, and  $\phi$  for  $\sigma$  in l. 5.

7-8. Ζηνὶ προσμείξων Clement, omitting ὁρμάν.

13.  $\ddot{a}(\mu)a$  for  $a\lambda\lambda a$  W-M. For an analogous interchange of  $\mu$  and  $\lambda\lambda$  cf. vi. 7.

18.  $\phi aiv \in [\iota \text{ seems demanded by the sense}; a slight thickening of the cross-bar of the <math>\epsilon$ , which rather suggests that a  $\tau$  followed, may be deceptive.

21. ἄπερ is very awkward, and W-M's emendation is an evident improvement.

25. κατεγήρασε conveys a somewhat false impression, since Euripides was over seventy when he went to Macedonia, and only survived there about a year and a half. The date of his death is given by the Parian chronicle as 407–406, and this is confirmed by Aristophanes' Frogs.

27 sqq. Cf. Suid. 'Αρχέλαον . . . παρ' ὧ διῆγε τῆς ἄκρας ἀπολαύων τιμῆς, Γέν. 2 παρὰ 'Αρχέλαον γενόμενος . . . μάλα έπραττε παρ' αὐτῷ, ὅτε καὶ ἐπὶ τῶν διοικήσεων ἐγένετο.

xix. (A) 'That is not badly said; for the appreciation of the people at Athens is not worth mention, who only afterwards learnt from Macedonians and Sicilians the genius of the poet. The story at least is that at the time of Nicias' expedition against Sicily, when numbers of Athenians were captured, many of them owed their release to the poems of Euripides, any, that is, who remembered some of his verses and taught them to the sons of those who had taken them captive; so great was the admiration of the whole of Sicily for Euripides. Moreover by Archelaus he was . . .'

2. A paragraphus may be lost below this line.

11 sqq. This story is also told by Plutarch, Nic. 29 ἔνιοι δὲ καὶ δι' Εὐριπίδην ἐσώθησαν. μάλιστα γάρ, ὡς ἔοικεν, τῶν ἐκτὸς Ἑλλήνων ἐπόθησαν αὐτοῦ τὴν μοῦσαν οἱ περὶ Σικελίαν . . . τότε γοῦν φασι τῶν σωθέντων οἴκαδε συχνοὺς ἀσπάσασθαι τὸν Εὐριπίδην φιλοφρόνως, καὶ διηγεῖσθαι τοὺς μὲν ὅτι δουλεύοντες ἀφείθησαν ἐκδιδάξαντες ὅσα τῶν ἐκείνου ποιημάτων ἐμέμνηντο.

34-5. Restored by W-M.  $\chi$  in l. 35 is very doubtful; the remains suggest rather a  $\tau$ .

xx. "... his mouth is ... and extremely malodorous." "Hush, boy," he interrupted,

"what mouth has there been such or could be sweeter than that from which proceed songs and words like his?"

- (Di.) He resembled the man who . . . to the poet, as you have admirably said in . . . (A) Well, these were the events of Euripides' life. The death he met was very violent and peculiar, according to the version of the oldest Macedonian story-tellers.
  - (Di.) What is their account?
    (A) There is in Macedonia . . .
- I-I5. Cf. Γέν. 5 μειρακίου δέ τινος ἀπαιδευτοτέρου στόμα δυσῶδες ἔχειν ὑπὸ φθόνου αὐτὸν εἰπόντος, ' εὐφήμει,' ἔφη, ' μελιτος καὶ Σειρήνων γλυκύτερον στόμα.'

4. ύ πολαβών W-Μ.

19. The text must be defective; perhaps the original was  $\epsilon \nu \tau \hat{\varphi} \langle \dots \tau \hat{\varphi} \rangle \dots \alpha \kappa \hat{\sigma} \tau$ , the error being due to a lipography. The supposed iota adscript is rather long and may be  $\rho$ ,  $\phi$ , or  $\psi$ .

23.  $\theta$  of  $\tau a v \theta$  was corrected from  $\tau$ .

- 34-6. Cf. Γέν. 4 έν τη Μακεδονία κώμη έστι καλουμένη Θρακῶν, whence ἐν [Μακεδονία is restored here by W-M. The vestiges at the beginning of the next line hardly suggest κ[ώμη.
- xxi. '... and he begged them off. Some time afterwards Euripides happened to be alone by himself in a grove at a distance from the city, while Archelaus went out to the chase. When they were outside the gates the huntsmen loosed the hounds and sent them on in front, while they themselves were left behind. The dogs fell in with Euripides unprotected and killed him, the huntsmen arriving on the scene later. Hence they say the proverb is still in use among the Macedonians "Justice even for a dog".'
- I sqq. Cf. Γέν. 4, the language of which is very close to that of Satyrus, ἐν ταύτη ποτὲ τοῦ ᾿Αρχελάου Μολοττικὴ κύων ἦλθεν ἀποπλαυηθείσα. ταύτην Θρῷκες ὡς. ἔθος θύσαντες ἔφαγον. καὶ δὴ ὁ ᾿Αρχελάους ἐξημίωσεν αὐτοὺς ταλάντω. ἐπεὶ οὖν οὐκ εἶχον, Εὐριπίδου ἐδεήθησαν ἀπολύσεως τυχεῖν δεηθέντος τοῦ βασιλέως. χρόνω δὲ ὕστερον Εὐριπίδης ἐν ἄλσει τινὶ πρὸ τῆς πόλεως ἡρέμει, ᾿Αρχελάου δὲ ἐπὶ κυνηγέσιον ἐξελθόντος, τῶν σκυλάκων ἀπολυθέντων ὑπὸ τῶν κυνηγῶν καὶ περιτυχόντων Εὐριπίδη, διεσπαράχθη καταβρωθεὶς ὁ ποιητής. ἦσαν δὲ ἔκγονοι οἱ σκύλακες τῆς ὑπὸ Θρᾳκῶν ἀναιρεθείσης κυνός, ὅθεν καὶ παροιμία ἐστὶ παρὰ τοῖς Μακεδόσι 'κυνὸς δίκη '.

35-7. The general sense is shown by the last sentence quoted in the previous note. After σκυ[λάκων the clause perhaps proceeded ἀ]πό[γονοί τινες ἦσαν τῆς κυνός . . . or ἀ]πώ[λετο έκγύνων όντων της κυνός.

- xxii. 'When Timotheus was unpopular in Hellas because of his innovations in music and was so exceedingly depressed that he had determined to make away with himself, Euripides alone taking a contrary view ridiculed the spectators and, perceiving the quality of Timotheus in his art, consoled him with most encouraging words, and even composed the proem of the Persae; and Timotheus owing to his victory soon ceased to be despised . . .'
- I sqq. This anecdote about Euripides and Timotheus is narrated by Plutarch, An seni sit ger. r.p. 23, p. 795 d Τιμόθεον Εὐριπίδης συριττόμενον ἐπὶ τῆ καινοτομία καὶ παρανομεῖν εἰς τὴν μουσικὴν δοκοῦντα θαρρεῖν ἐκέλευσεν ὡς ὁλίγου χρόνου τῶν θεάτρων ὑπ᾽ αὐτῷ γενησομένων. The supposed meeting might have occurred at the court of Archelaus, which Timotheus also is said to have visited (Plutarch, De Alex. fort. ii. 1, p. 334 b).

5. καινοτομίαν is Plutarch's word (cf. the preceding note) but the reading is not particularly satisfactory. The letter after o may well be π, but neither καινοποιίαν nor καινοπραγίαν suits.

27-9. This statement that the proem of the Persae was written by Euripides is very surprising. The time of its composition is not precisely fixed, but fell somewhere between the years 412 and 395 (cf. von Wilamowitz, Timotheos, pp. 56–61), and though there are reasons for putting the date nearer the lower than the upper limit, the statement of Satyrus is not chronologically impossible. The poem itself shows that at the time of writing detractors had not yet been silenced (Persae 219 sqq.). Of the Προσίμιον only the first line is known (from Plutarch, Philopoem. 11, p. 362) κλεινὸν ἐλευθερίας τεύχων μέγαν Έλλάδι κόσμον.

30-5. The alteration of  $\tau o \nu$  to  $\tau \hat{\phi}$  and the supplements in ll. 33-5 were proposed by W-M. In l. 33 the doubtful o may be e. g.  $\epsilon$  or  $\sigma$ , and the initial letter, of which only the top of a tall vertical stroke remains, can be  $\psi$  instead of  $\phi$ .

- Fr. 40. A connexion between this fragment, which contains a lyrical citation, and Fr. 37 is suggested by the similar blackening of the verso. In l. 3 the  $\iota$  of  $[\beta a \rho \epsilon] \bar{\iota} a \nu$ , which with  $d\nu \epsilon [\rho] \omega \nu$  in l. 5 was suggested by W-M, is questionable, but the general sense at any rate is probably not misrepresented.  $\delta i \kappa a \nu$ , if right, will mean 'after the manner of';  $a \hat{\iota} \sigma a \nu$ , which W-M wishes to substitute, cannot be read. The stop in l. 8 most likely marks the end of the quotation.
- Fr. 41. This fragment, in which there seems to be another quotation, may well come from Frs. 37 or 38; but there are no decided indications of its position.

Frs. 48-57. These small pieces were associated with the larger fragments, Frs. 48-9 with Frs. 37-8, Frs. 50-4 with Frs. 39. i-xi, Frs. 55-7 with Fr. 39. xv-xxiii. The discolouration of Frs. 49, 51, and 55-7 indicates that they come from near the ends of the columns.

III. EXTANT CLASSICAL AUTHORS

1177. EURIPIDES, Phoenissae.

11.2 × 7 cm.

Early first century.

The copy of the Phoenissae of which this fragment gives the bottoms of two columns was written on the verso of the papyrus in a somewhat crabbed and irregular upright hand which is clearly quite early in date. On the recto is some cursive writing apparently of the first century B. C., and above this for the sake of support strips of other documents have been pasted, one of which is dated in the reign of Augustus. This evidence combines with that of its own script to place the literary text of the verso somewhere near the commencement of the Christian era. When verses were divided between speakers, the several parts were written in separate lines, as in 1174. Lyrical verses seem to have been distinguished by slight indentation. A high stop apparently occurs at the end of l. 12. The copyist was not very accurate, but the age of the papyrus gives it some weight, and readings of interest occur in ll. 1, 5, 11, and 20.

by Valckenaer. The papyrus, however, agrees with tradition in giving  $Ka\pi a\nu\epsilon \dot{\nu}s$  to Antigone and not to the  $\pi a\iota \delta a\gamma \omega \gamma \dot{\nu}s$ —a needless alteration suggested by Geel and adopted by Murray.

1178. EURIPIDES, Orestes.

Fr. (a)  $11.8 \times 8.9$ . Early first century B. c. Plate I.

Remains of two columns written in an upright somewhat informal hand which must go back at least to the earlier decades of the first century B.C. The columns originally consisted of 24 lines each, but these are fairly widely spaced, so that the height of the roll was not less than some 20 cm. No lection signs occur beyond the paragraphi, which are used to indicate alternations in the dialogue. Verses divided between speakers were put into a single line and not split up, as in 1177, into two or more; the point of division was probably marked in the usual way by double dots. Two small illegible fragments remain unidentified.

For so early a copy, the text can hardly be called a good one. There is an obvious blunder in l. 1345, besides other probable errors. The arrangement of ll. 1347 sqq. is noteworthy; cf. note on l. 1348.

1324.  $\epsilon \nu$  dopools: Hartung's  $\epsilon \nu$ do $\theta$  |  $\epsilon$  |  $\nu$ , which Wecklein accepts, is also possible.

1335. ανευφημείς (?) δομ]οις: ἀνευφημεί δόμους originally a and perhaps A, ἀνευφημεί δόμος others, edd.

1342.  $\epsilon$  of  $\epsilon\iota s$  was converted from a straight stroke, i.e. probably the scribe at first wrote  $\iota\theta\iota$  unelided.

1345. l. σωθηθ.

1346. φιλοι: so MSS. except F, which has ἄνδρες.

1348. The papyrus is broken below the  $\eta$  of  $\eta[\mu\nu]$ , but if a paragraphus had been written it should be partially visible. In this text therefore  $\sigma\iota\gamma\hat{a}\nu$ ...  $\sigma\omega\tau\eta\rho\hat{a}$  were assigned to the speaker of ll. 1349-52, in agreement with Lachmann, who gave  $\sigma\iota\gamma\hat{a}\nu$ ...  $\sigma\omega\tau\eta\rho\hat{a}$  to Electra.

1350. βαλον τες: so Ea, &c., Wecklein; βάλλοντες AL, Murray.

1359. που: του MSS. (τοῦ ELG). In this hand a τ may be easily mistaken for π.

1179. APOLLONIUS RHODIUS ii.

8.4 × 11.5 cm. Early third century. Plate I.

This small fragment offers another example of the 'biblical' type of uncials upon papyrus. The hand closely resembles those of 664 and P. Rylands 16, and may be assigned with some confidence to the earlier decades of the third century, if not to the end of the second; cf. also 1166, which represents a somewhat later stage of the same style. Accents, breathings, and marks of elision and quantity appear to be a subsequent addition, but the punctuation in ll. 3 and 4 is probably original. The text so far as it goes agrees with that of Wellauer.

1180. THUCYDIDES v.

17.3 × 8.4 cm.

Third century.

This fragment contains the lower portion of a column with slight remains of the two adjacent columns, written in sloping uncials of the third century. The shortness and horizontal position of the third stroke of the  $\kappa$  are noticeable. A rather deep margin, of about  $5\frac{1}{2}$  cm., was left at the bottom of the columns. A coronis at l. 33 probably marks the end of a chapter. The papyrus shows the antiquity of the reading  $\pi \rho l \nu \eta$  in 61. I; but the text is not very correct and is of comparatively small interest.

30–6. The relation of Col. it to Col. ii indicates that the remains of Col. iii are to be looked for at about the end of Chap. 62, a conclusion which is confirmed by the marginal coronis below 1. 33. A slight obstacle, however, occurs at 1. 31 where the division  $\iota_0|\nu|_{\tau\epsilon_s}$  is irregular. The  $\nu$  might well be  $\mu$ , but that letter cannot be worked in here, and the arrangement adopted seems to be the most probable that can be suggested.

1181. XENOPHON, Anabasis vii.

 $8.9 \times 6.9$  cm.

Early third century.

A small fragment containing a few lines from the Anabasis, written in careful upright uncials of medium size and dating perhaps from the earlier decades of the third century. Two short dashes inclined to each other at a slight angle appear to be used as a mark of punctuation in 1. 2; but the papyrus is broken, and the interpretation suggested is therefore uncertain.

1. The supplement is rather longer than would be expected.

3. Κοιρατάδης: so the better MSS.: Κοιρατάδας edd.

5. Leg. εκαλλιερει, διε[μ]ετρησεν is the reading of the better MSS.; διεμέρισεν dett.

1182. Demosthenes, De Falsa Legatione.

27 × 22.6 cm.

Second century.

To the copyist of 1093, the Contra Boeotum, are also to be referred the four well-preserved columns following from the Dc Falsa Legatione. His hand is here somewhat less inclined to cursive, but its identity is evident. The two MSS., however, were not quite uniform, for, though the columns of 1182 are of the same breadth as those in 1093, the latter are shorter, notwithstanding the greater height of the papyrus. The elaborate punctuation of 1093 is however repeated, and here too may be to some extent a later addition. On the other hand it is not clear that the corrections are by the same person in both papyri. The marginal insertion in 1093. xii. 17, at any rate, shows no resemblance to the interlineations, e.g., at 1182. 122, 127. Perhaps more than one revisor should be distinguished in 1093. The complementary symbol at the end of short lines is more angular here than in the latter papyrus.

Textually the characteristics of 1182 are similar to those of 1093: agreements with S preponderate, but the opposite scale is not left empty. No peculiar readings of moment occur; three valueless variants are contributed by the corrector.

43. ποιησουσιν: so FYO, Bl. Butch.; ποιήσωσιν SA. The first ι seems to be a later insertion.

v of  $v\mu as$  has been corrected, but was most probably the original reading. The corrector perhaps substituted  $\eta$  and then changed his mind and restored the v.  $\eta\mu as$  is found e. g. in O.

54. The final  $\nu$  of  $\epsilon[\iota]\rho\eta\nu\eta\nu$  was converted by the first hand from  $\sigma$ .

56. εγγονοιε is the spelling of SL, and so Bl. and Butch. αυτου which has been added above the line is not otherwise attested.

115. εα[υτους: αύτους MSS.

117. ε[γχει]ρισαντες: so most MSS. and edd.; έγχειρήσαντες SQ.

122. The interlinear variant  $\eta$ , i. e.  $\eta$ , is novel. 123. outes, the corrected reading, is that of the MSS.

127. There is no support for  $\epsilon \chi \epsilon \iota$  after outws, which like autou in 1.56 is an addition of an explanatory character.

134. A high and a low stop have apparently both been written; the latter is the punctuation expected; cf. e. g. l. 43.

1183. ISOCRATES, Trapeziticus.

27.6 × 20.5 cm.

Late first century.

Three columns written in a hand similar in scale and type to that of 844 (Part V, Plate vii), but showing a somewhat earlier stage of development. I should refer this example of the round upright style to the first century. As in 844, the final letters of a line are sometimes much reduced in size in order to keep the column even, and with the same object the common angular sign is added when lines would otherwise be short. A pause in the sense is marked by a slight blank space, which may or may not be accompanied by a marginal paragraphus. A doubtful stop occurs in 1. 67.

The text is interesting on account of the strong support given to the eleventh-century Codex Vaticanus ( $\Lambda$ ) against the older Urbinas ( $\Gamma$ ). Slight variations from both these authorities are noticeable in ll. 41, 42, and 70. My collation is based on the edition of Drerup.

1184. PSEUDO-HIPPOCRATES.

32.2 × 22.5 cm.

Early first century.

One complete column inscribed on the verso of 1210 in a rather large and clear cursive hand, which is probably of the reign of Tiberius, if not of Augustus, and could not be placed later than the middle of the first century. A document with which this papyrus was found is dated A. D. 24–5. 1184 is thus much the oldest MS. authority for these Pseudo-Hippocratean letters, being considerably earlier than the two Berlin papyri published by Kalbfleisch in Berliner Klassikertexte, III. pp. 5–9. And it possesses several unique features. As originally written, Ep. 3 (ll. 1–10) was shortened at the end, the ordinary termination being appended as an adscript. Ep. 4 (ll. 11–16) appears in a double shape, a greatly compressed version of the longer form, and the shorter form which is found in a group of mediaeval MSS, and is here added in the margin; P. Berlin 7094 has only the shorter form. Between Ep. 4 and Ep. 5 three editorial lines (ll. 17-19) are inserted which do not occur elsewhere. Of Ep. 5, of which in P. Berlin 7094 the shorter form follows the longer, the shorter form, with some peculiar variations, is alone given (ll. 20-7). Lastly, whereas in both the Berlin papyri Ep. 5 is immediately followed by Ep. 11, in 1184 there succeeds (ll. 28-33) a letter to Gorgias which apparently occurs nowhere else but has coincidences of phraseology with Ep. 6, which is addressed to Demetrius. The papyrus illustrates afresh the instability of the tradition regarding these letters.

The hand of the alterations and additions is probably not to be distinguished from that of the body of the text, and is at any rate contemporary. For the collation given below, Littré's edition has been used.

The marginal adscript coincides with the shorter form of the letter, except for the absence of the words  $\gamma\rho\dot{\alpha}\psi\sigma\nu$  où  $\nu$   $\pi\rho\dot{\delta}s$   $\tau\alpha\dot{\nu}\tau\eta\nu$  ( $\tau\alpha\dot{\nu}\tau\alpha$   $\phi$ , P. Berl. 7094,  $\alpha\dot{\nu}\tau\dot{\nu}\nu$ ) after  $\sigma\sigma$ . The papyrus agrees with  $\phi$  P. Berl. in omitting  $\sigma$  before  $\beta\alpha\sigma\iota\lambda\epsilon\nu$ s and placing  $\iota\nu\alpha$  before  $\kappa\alpha\tau\alpha$   $\tau\alpha\lambda\sigma$ s, and with  $\phi$  in reading  $\sigma\sigma\nu$  for  $\sigma\epsilon\sigma$ , and  $\pi\epsilon\pi\sigma\nu\mu\phi\alpha$  for  $\epsilon\pi\epsilon\mu\psi\alpha$ . For  $\epsilon\sigma$   $\beta\alpha\sigma\iota\lambda\epsilon\alpha$  P. Berl. gives  $\pi\rho\sigma\sigma$   $\beta\alpha\sigma\iota\lambda\epsilon\alpha$ ; other MSS. omit,  $\phi$  substituting  $\tau\dot{\nu}\nu$   $\sigma\dot{\nu}\nu$   $\dot{\sigma}\dot{\nu}\nu$   $\dot{\nu}\nu$   $\dot$

IV. DOCUMENTS OF THE ROMAN AND EARLY BYZANTINE PERIODS

(a) OFFICIAL.

1185. LETTER OF A PRAEFECT, ETC.

9.9 × 14.9 cm.

About A.D. 200.

Though the writer of this papyrus was merely amusing himself or practising his hand, its contents are of some interest. On the recto sentences have been copied out from four distinct documents: (1) the commencement of a petition from Ammonion to the praefect Magnius Felix Crescentillianus (ll. 1, 2, 4); (2) a letter, or part of one, from the same praefect to the strategi of the Heptanomia relating to the offices of gymnasiarch and agoranomus (ll. 3, 5-8); (3) a proverbial saying (ll. 10-12); (4) the opening formula of a letter from Ammonion to Diogenis (l. 13). On the verso is a partial copy of another letter from Felix to the strategi of the Heptanomia and Arsinoïte nome, referring to their failure to pay the proceeds of the eight-drachma tax, which had been made over to him, and ordering the centurions in the nomes to go to Alexandria in order to celebrate 'the Emperor's festival'.

The papyrus bears no date, but apparently belongs to a period of joint rule (l. 21), and since it was accompanied by a document of the reign of Septimius Severus, it is most probably to be referred to the time of his association with Caracalla, a date which suits the handwriting. In the list of praefects most of those years are already accounted for, but there is a blank between 197 and 201, and to this Magnius Felix Crescentillianus, who is not otherwise known, may be conveniently referred. The tax of eight drachmae, the name of which occurs here for the first time, is evidently the same as that which in 916 and one or two other texts is represented by the abbreviation  $\eta$  or  $\eta^+$ . 916 shows that it was levied upon land per aroura, and that the praefect Aemilius Saturninus, who may have been the immediate predecessor of Felix, had issued instructions regarding it; possibly his interest was of a similar direct kind. What the centurions had to do with this is not clear. Military officers are not ordinarily associated with the collection of taxes, but the special circumstances of this impost may have rendered their co-operation desirable (cf. Wilcken, Ost. i. 621).

'A little boy must eat bread, nibble besides some salt, and not touch the sauce; but if he asks for wine, give him your knuckles.'

'Greeting, lady Diogenis, I, Ammonion, address you.'

'Magnius Felix to the strategi of the Heptanomia and the Arsinoïte nome, greeting. I would have you know that the most divine sovereigns granted to me the money from the so-called eight-drachma tax, and you have not yet up to the present made any payment. If then the centurions are in your districts for long, let them attend with speed at the most illustrious city of the Alexandrians and celebrate the festival of the sovereign. Otherwise, if any one disobeys this my order . . .'

1-8. Lines 3 and 5-8 as far as 'Αλεξανδρείας were first written; the letters of ll. 1-2, 4, and 8 (from κουδύ[λ]ους)-13, though by the same hand, are larger and heavier. Ammonion was perhaps the actual writer; cf. l. 13.

5-6. The meaning apparently is that the decision in certain cases concerning the offices in question had been delegated by the praefect to the epistrategi.

8. κονδύ[λ] ous . . . δείδου repeats the conclusion of l. 12.

10-12. The third of these iambic lines is known as a proverb from Suidas and the paroemiographi. Diogenianus and Zenobius give it in the form  $\mathring{a}\nu$  οἶνον  $\mathring{a}\iota \mathring{\eta}$ , κόνδυλον  $\mathring{a}\iota \mathring{\tau}\mathring{\eta}$  δίδον, but Suidas, s. v.  $\mathring{a}\nu$  οἶνον, rightly has κονδύλουs, as in the papyrus; cf. Schol. Aristoph. Pax 123, Plutarch, An virtus doceri potest, 2 (439 d) παιδὸς δψοφαγοῦντος δ Διογένης τῷ παιδαγωγῷ κόνδυλον ἔδωκεν, Aristoph. Nub. 981-3. In l. 10 the first letter is possibly δ, for τ, but looks more like  $\mu$  than anything else. Metre is easily restored by writing  $\langle \tau \rangle$ ον παίδα δεῖ τὸν μικρόν, with  $\mathring{a}\nu$  δ' οἶνον in l. 12.

13. προσαγορεύω was no doubt the word intended; cf. e. g. 526. 2.

έπιστρατηγία &c. as rightly explained by Martin, Épistratèges, pp. 137 sqq.

29. The festival was perhaps the customary celebration of the emperor's birthday. Since the date was known and was still some little time distant, a celebration in honour of the accession of Caracalla, who became full emperor between Nov. A. D. 197 and May A. D. 198 (cf. 910 introd.) is less likely to be meant, though it would fit in well enough with the supposed date of this papyrus.

1186. EDICT OF A PRAESES.

14.4 × 6.8 cm.

Fourth century.

The recto of this papyrus contains parts of sixteen lines of a late third-century account. On the verso, written in a clear semi-cursive hand probably of the first half of the fourth century, is part of an edict of Aurelius Herodes, praeses of the Thebaïs, directed against the use of the whip  $(i\mu\acute{a}\nu\tau\epsilon s)$  in the punishment of free men. For slaves, he says, this is permitted, though to be deprecated; but for the free it is illegal. In their case the proper instrument, according to Roman law, was the fustis, as opposed to the flagellum, and even this came to be regarded as out of place for persons of superior station. Cf. Dig. xlviii. 19. 10 ex quibus causis liber fustibus caeditur, ex his servus flagellis caedi et domino reddi inbetur, 19. 28 non omnes fustibus caedi solent, sed hi dumtaxat qui liberi sunt et quidem tenuiores homines: honestiores vero fustibus non subiciuntur, idque principalibus rescriptis specialiter exprimitur; Mommsen, Strafrecht, pp. 983 sqq.

'Edict of Aurelius Herodes, most honourable praeses of the Thebaïd. Subjection to the punishment of scourging, called in the native speech..., is even for those of servile estate lamentable though not entirely forbidden; but for free men to be submitted to such an outrage is contrary to the laws and an injustice . . .

2-3. The first letter of l. 3 may be  $\gamma$ ,  $\tau$ , or possibly  $\sigma$ , and between the  $\iota$  and  $\omega$  there is a space and a small hole in the papyrus, but there is no trace of ink and it is not certain that any letter is lost.  $\hat{\epsilon}\pi\iota\chi\omega\rho\hat{\iota}\omega_s$  naturally suggests that the preceding word is Egyptian, but Mr. Griffith, whom I have consulted, does not recognize it. If  $\hat{\epsilon}\pi\iota\chi\omega\rho\hat{\iota}\omega_s$  is reconcileable with a Latin term,  $\lambda\eta\tau\alpha\rho\hat{\iota}\omega_r$  might stand for lethalium;  $\lambda\eta\gamma\alpha\rho\hat{\iota}\omega_r = legalium$  is a less likely epithet. Mitteis suggests a connexion with the late word ligaria; cf. Du Cange s.v. In P. Leipzig 40. iii. 20 the scourge used for a slave is called buneura. The reference of the words  $\hat{\epsilon}\lambda\epsilon\nu\theta\hat{\epsilon}\rho\nu\nu$   $\mu\hat{\gamma}$   $\tau\hat{\nu}\pi\tau\eta\tau\epsilon$  in the next line there is obscure; cf. the note on p. 132.

1187. PROCLAMATION OF A STRATEGUS.

A. D. 254.

A notice issued by the strategus Aurelius Posidonius summoning the inhabitants of those quarters of the city upon which devolved the liturgies for the coming year to meet for the nomination of a phylarch. This functionary, who is rarely mentioned, had duties similar to those of the amphodogrammateus, and is perhaps the same official under a different title; cf. 1119, and the fourth-century Leipzig papyrus cited by Wilcken, Chrestomathie, p. 67. His business was to submit the names of persons suitable for the various public offices. Hence it was of much importance to those liable that the man entrusted with that power should be honest and impartial; and this, it is interesting to find, was recognized to the extent of giving them the right of election. On the verso there are parts of six short lines of an account.

'From Aurelius Posidonius, strategus of the Oxyrhynchite nome. Notice is given to the inhabitants of the quarters about to serve in the coming year to assemble to-day at the accustomed place and to name whomever they choose as phylarch, being a person of means and suited for the post, in accordance with the orders of those who constituted the appointed office (?), in order that when the time comes he may be able to perform the duty honestly and faithfully. Signed by me. The first year of the Emperors and Caesars Publius Licinius Valerianus and Publius Licinius Valerianus Gallienus Pii Felices Augusti, Pauni 26.'

6. For the ἄμφοδα in this connexion cf. 1119. 6, note.

9. ονομάσαι seems to have been the word intended, but what precisely stands in the papyrus is doubtful. Perhaps ονομαι was originally written and then amended by the insertion of  $a\sigma$ . The sense at any rate is evident.

13–15. τῶν . . . συστησαμένων is an obscure phrase. ἀπότακτον is commonly applied to amounts in kind or money, πυρός, φόρος, ἐκφόριον, &c., and τὸ ἀπότακτον is similarly used, e. g. 1124. 5, P. Fay. 39. 17. But ἀπότακτον here can hardly be the salary of the phylarch, who was probably unpaid. In 34. i. 2 the word is employed of officials, [τοῖς ἀπ]οτάκτοις πρα[γματευ]ομένοις; cf. P. Leipzig 28. 7, P. Flor. 71. 722 ἀποτακτικός. Hence I suggest that τὸ ἀπότακτον is 'the appointed office' of phylarch, a sense which combines well with κελευσθέντα. It does not seem likely that οἱ τὸ ἀπότ. συστ. could mean the persons constituting the whole body of those liable to λειτουργίαι.

21 sqq. This date confirms the view taken of 1119. 5 and 30, where Mesore of the year 254 is still attributed to the Galli. The dating of that papyrus is clearly abnormal.

1188. OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

A. D. 13.

This correspondence relates to a proposed sale of some persea-wood and acacia-wood which had no private owner and so belonged to the thous  $\lambda \delta \gamma \sigma s$ . The series of letters begins with the application of the purchaser, Didymus, to the idiologus Quintus Attius Fronto (ll. 18–26; cf. 721), who forwarded it to the basilicogrammateus of the nome with instructions to verify details and value the wood (ll. 14–17). The correspondence then descended in the usual way from the basilicogrammateus to the topogrammateus (ll. 7–13) and from the latter to the comogrammateus (ll. 2–6), upon whom devolved the business of supplying the information required by the idiologus; cf. e.g. P. Amh. 68. Acacia-trees occur in a similar connexion in 1112: a dead persea was the subject of 53; cf. C. P. Herm. 7. ii. 28, iii. 7.

&#x27;Sarapion to Peteuris, comogrammateus of Kerkeura, greeting. A copy is appended of the document sent to me by Dioscurides, basilicogrammateus. Go therefore to the objects specified as concerning Didymus son of Heracleides, namely a branch of a live persea-tree at the Thoëreum of Osorphnas, and two dry branches of a living persea-tree in the temple of Harpebekis at the tomb of the sacred animals, and see whether they are dry and ought to be appropriated by the privy purse in accordance with the tariff, add the true value with a signed declaration and report clearly, making it your aim that nothing be concealed or done by favour, knowing that you will be held accountable in any inquiry concerning facts that remain unknown. The 42nd year of Caesar, Mecheir 24.

Dioscurides to Sarapion, topogrammateus of the middle toparchy, and to Peteuris, comogrammateus of Kerkeura, and Dionysius, comogrammateus of Peënno, greeting. A copy is appended of the document delivered to us from the person below written in accordance with the instructions of Quintus Attius Fronto, controller of the privy purse. In furtherance of the object stated go to the branches and acacia-trees indicated and see whether they are dry and ought to be appropriated by the privy purse in accordance with the tariff, add the true value with a signed declaration and report clearly, making it your aim that nothing be concealed or done by favour, knowing that you will be held to account for facts that remain unknown. The 42nd year of Caesar, Mecheir 9.

'For the privy purse. Signed by me, Dioscurides. The 42nd year of Caesar, Mecheir 9.

'To the basilicogrammateus of the Oxyrhynchite nome. Appended is a copy of the memorandum presented to me from Didymus son of Heraclides, with the endorsement made below it. Go then to the logs therein stated and see if they are dry and have no owner and ought to be appropriated by the privy purse in accordance with the tariff, and after learning their condition and adding the true value furnish a report, making it your aim that nothing be concealed, knowing that you will be held accountable. The 42nd year of Caesar, Mecheir 9.

'To Quintus Attius Fronto from Didymus son of Heraclides. I wish to purchase in the Oxyrhynchite nome from the privy purse some dried logs which have no owner and ought to be appropriated by the privy purse in accordance with the tariff, namely at the village of Kerkeura in the middle toparchy in the Thoëreum of Osorphnas a single branch of a small persea-tree, dried and worth six drachmae, and in the temple of Harpebekis on the tomb of the sacred animals two dried branches of a living persea-tree worth two drachmae, and at the village of Peënno in the same toparchy in the temple of Ammon a dried branch of a living persea-tree worth two drachmae, and near the same village in the holding of Melanthius in the cutting made in the great dyke two fallen acacia-trees worth eight drachmae, total value 18 drachmae, and I will give no trouble with regard to...nor to anything else at all, if it seems good to you to give instructions to the secretaries that on my paying as the price the aforesaid 18 drachmae of silver I may receive the proper authorization.

'To the secretaries. Let a letter be written to the basilicogrammateus for an inspection. The 42nd year of Caesar, Mecheir 9.

'Read by me. The 42nd year of Caesar, Mecheir 9.

'To the comogrammateus. Inspect and report. The 42nd year of Caesar, Mecheir 24.'

1. The number of κλάδω in this marginal note is three because only those at Kerkeura are counted. A parallel document was no doubt sent to the comogrammateus of Peënno, the other village concerned (l. 22).

3. ζωφυτο(ύσης): cf. l. 4 and C. P. Herm. 7. ii. 17 μυξέα ζωφυτοῦντα, 28 περ[σέ]αν

For the ἱερὸν 'Αρπεβήκιος (Harpebekis = Horus the hawk) cf. the ἱερακεῖα mentioned in P. Tebt. 5. 70. Osorphnas, in whom a deified animal is probably to be recognized (cf. Wilcken, Grundzüge, pp. 105–6), is apparently new.

4. ίερῶν ζώων: cf. e.g. P. Tebt. 5. 78.

γνώμονα: the γνώμων of the ίδιος λόγος is mentioned in the edict of Ti. Iulius Alexander, C. I. G. 4957 = Dittenberger, Or. Gr. Inscr. 669. 44; cf. P. Tebt. 287. 5 note, B. G. U.

1118. 45, Wilcken, Grundzüge, p. 210.

5. For  $\pi\rho\delta s$   $\chi \acute{a}(\rho \iota \nu)$  cf. P. Amh. 68. 10; the lacuna at the beginning of that line should be filled on the analogy of the present passage στοχασάμενοι τοῦ μηδὲν ἀγνοηθῆναι μηδὲ  $\pi\rho\delta s$  χάριν κτλ., preceded by a verb such as  $\pi\rho\sigma\sigma\alpha\nu\epsilon\nu\epsilon'\gamma\kappa\epsilon\tau\epsilon$  or  $\pi\rho\sigma\sigma\phi\omega\nu\eta\sigma\sigma\tau\epsilon$ . At the end of the line I am unable to read any abbreviation of  $\lambda\delta\gamma\sigma\nu$ ; the suspended  $\eta$  is fairly clear, and the preceding letter can well be  $\zeta$ .

9. συνελκύ(σαντες): cf. P. Par. 64. 29 τοίς δε διαβάλλουσιν (not διαλαβούσιν) ύμιν ύποδέχεσθαι αὐτὸν τοὺς ἀντιδίκους τόπωι καὶ κα θό λου αὐτῶι συνελκύσθαι μὴ προσέχετε.

19. As Wilcken remarks, ἐκ τοῦ ἰδίου λόγ(ου) may be restored on this analogy in 721. 3. Seppius Rufus, the idiologus there concerned, was no doubt the successor of Fronto.

25-6. Cf. the conclusion of 835 quoted in the note on 731. 14-15.

27-8. These lines contain the endorsement of the idiologus. The day of the month must apparently be  $\theta$ , not  $\epsilon$ , and if this is correct, Fronto must have been at Oxyrhynchus or in the immediate neighbourhood.

29. The identity of the date with that in l. 6 indicates that this line emanated from the topogrammateus; the hand, however, is not the same as in ll. 1-6, which were probably written by his secretary.

1189. LETTER OF A STRATEGUS.

About A.D. 117.

This letter, of which the conclusion is lost, from the strategus of the neighbouring Heracleopolite nome to Apollonius, strategus of the Oxyrhynchite nome, relates to a  $\gamma\rho\alpha\phi\dot{\eta}$  or schedule of 'property which belonged to the Jews'. The large upright handwriting cannot be later than about the beginning of the second century, and since an Apollonius is known from 74 and 97 to have held the office of strategus in A.D. 116 it is highly probable that the papyrus belongs to the period of the great Jewish outbreak which occurred in the previous year, and was not ended until after the accession of Hadrian. Confiscations would be the natural consequence, and it was doubtless with some of the property thus forfeited that the  $\gamma\rho\alpha\phi\dot{\eta}$  of the text was concerned. For the papyri referring to these disturbances cf. Wilcken, Grundzige, pp. 64–5.

The document was the forty-fourth of a series made up into a roll in the bureau of the strategus. Of the one adjoining it on the left the ends of a few lines remain mentioning  $\tau \hat{\varphi} \kappa \rho \alpha \tau \int (\sigma \tau \rho \alpha \tau \hat{\eta} \gamma \varphi) (r)$  and  $\sigma \tau \rho \int (\sigma \tau \rho \alpha \tau \hat{\eta} \gamma \varphi) (r)$  and  $\sigma \tau \rho \int (\sigma \tau \rho \alpha \tau \hat{\eta} \gamma \varphi) (r)$  and a detached fragment from the commencement of another letter from Aquilius Polion most likely belongs to this.

1. στρ ατηγός: cf. 1057. 2, note; Wilcken, Grundzüge, p. 77.

3. For ἀδελ φοῖs cf. ll. 7 and 14. A vestige above the line suits the top of a φ, and τοι̂ς φιλτάτοις is too long, even if πάγου were abbreviated.

7. The supplement is rather short as compared with those in the adjacent lines.

8. Perhaps  $\xi \xi | \hat{\eta} s$ , as in l. 10.

10-12. The restoration suggested is of course very uncertain. An alternative in ll. II-I2 would be e.g.  $\pi \rho \delta s$  το δύν  $\alpha \sigma \theta a [\tau] \dot{\eta} \nu \tau [\sigma] \dot{\upsilon} \tau \omega \nu \dot{\alpha} \pi \sigma [\sigma \tau \sigma \lambda \dot{\eta} \nu (\text{or } \dot{\alpha} \pi \sigma [\delta \eta \mu \dot{\iota} a \nu) \gamma \epsilon \nu \dot{\epsilon} \sigma \theta a \iota$ , only then it becomes difficult to complete the sentence satisfactorily, unless this be supposed to have extended into another line which was begun further to the right than those preceding; cf. l. 17. καταστ]ησαι in l. 10 is somewhat long for the lacuna.

13-14. The signatory forgot that he was addressing two persons.

20. This line appears to lack sense. It is not certain that the word τιρώνων was abbreviated at the fourth letter, but the remains are not easily reconciled with τιρωνων or τιρωνω(ν). There is a wide margin  $(5\frac{1}{2}$  cm.) below the line.

1191. OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Breadth 12.8 cm.

A. D. 280.

This document consists of two parts. Lines 1–10 are a copy of a letter sent by Aurelius Ammonius to the strategus of the Oxyrhynchite nome conveying to him an order of the praefect Hadrianius Sallustius that all acts emanating from the senate with regard to the appointment of various local administrators  $(\hat{\epsilon}\pi\iota\mu\epsilon\lambda\eta\tau al)$  should bear the signature of the secretary  $(\sigma\kappa\rho\epsilon i\beta as)$ . Appended to this is a letter from the strategus to the secretary directing his attention to the foregoing document, with a repetition of its provisions.

Hadrianius Sallustius is a new name to be added to the list of praefects. Aurelius Ammonius, who is given the title  $\kappa\rho\acute{a}\tau\iota\sigma\tau$ os and was perhaps epistrategus, is also unknown.

(b) DECLARATIONS TO OFFICIALS.

1194. Arrears of Annona.

15.8 x 28.9 cm. Third cent. (about A. D. 265).

This papyrus contains a mutilated report of arrears of military supplies (annona) which had been ordered for the use of troops accompanying the praefect Claudius Firmus but had not been fully delivered.

The chief point of interest here is the identity of the praefect. A[C]l(audius) Valerius Firmus was in office in A. D. 246-7, but his praenomen is only known from 720. I, and even if it is there rightly restored, which is not quite certain ([Iu]l(ius) is another possibility), usage requires that, where brevity was desired. the first and not the second of the two prior names should be omitted. Moreover, that usage is followed in the case of this particular man in P. Amh. 72. 10 and 81. 5, as well as in an unpublished Oxyrhynchus text, where he is called simply Valerius Firmus. An identification with the praefect of A. D. 246-7 is therefore unsatisfactory, and I prefer to suppose that Claudius Firmus was the praefect mentioned by Vopiscus, Firmus, 3 . . . plerique Graecorum alteram tradunt, ignari eo ipso tempore tres fuisse Firmos, quorum unus praefectus Aegypti, alter dux limitis Africani idemque proconsule, tertius iste Zenobiae amicus ac socius. 'Eo ipso tempore' means the period of the Palmyrene war in the reign of Aurelian; an unpublished Berlin papyrus (P. 1463), the knowledge of which I owe to Wilcken's kindness, fortunately fixes the date of Firmus' tenure more precisely. The document, a fragmentary petition, is dated in the twelfth year of Gallienus (A.D. 264–5), and in l. 5 a reference occurs to  $\tau \hat{\phi}$   $\lambda \alpha \mu \pi \rho \sigma \tau \dot{\alpha} \tau \phi \dot{\eta} \gamma \epsilon \mu \dot{\sigma} \nu \iota$ Κλαυδίφ Φίρ[μφ]. Our praefect is accordingly to be placed between Aurelius Theodotus (A.D. 262: P. Strassb. 5) and Juvenius Genialis (A.D. 266-7). Whether he was after all, in spite of Vopiscus, the same person as the alleged usurper, as maintained by P. Meyer (Hermes xxxiii. pp. 268 sqq.) and Homo (Aurélien, p. 113, n. 2), is a further question which need not here be considered. It is curious, however, that in the inscription upon which the former relied (Néroutsos, Inscr. d'Alexandrie, 48) the name coincides with that of the present document. The text is . . . (an erased name) Σεβαστοῦ Ἐπείφι κ, ἐπὶ Κλαυδίου Φίρμου λαμπροτάτου ἐπανορθωτοῦ. Meyer took the word  $\frac{\partial \pi}{\partial t} = \frac{\partial \pi}{\partial t} = \frac{\partial \pi}{\partial t} = \frac{\partial \pi}{\partial t}$  to refer to the rôle of Firmus as deliverer from Roman rule. But as against this Stein has observed (Pauly-Wissowa, Real-Enc. iii. 2720; cf. Cantarelli, La Serie dei Prefetti, p. 75) that the title λαμπρότατος έπανορθωτής corresponds to clarissimus corrector, and points rather to a period subsequent to the reforms of Diocletian. A mere coincidence of names is not sufficient to overcome that argument.

The troops had apparently gone in a southerly direction (l. 4 ἀνελθόντων, l. 10 ἀνόδον; but cf. P. Leipzig 63. 7 ἀνιοῦσιν στρατιώταις εἰς Πεντάπολιν—from Coptos), and Wilcken makes the plausible suggestion that the Blemyes were giving trouble. It may be noted in this connexion that the usurper Firmus is stated to have been in league with that people (Vopiscus, Firmus, 3 idem et cum Blemyis societatem maximam tenuit); but the case for the identification of the praefect and the usurper is hardly to be strengthened by this consideration.

Lines 1-13. 'Oxyrhynchite nome: in answer to the requisition for a report of the arrears devolving upon the superintendents of the annona on account of the soldiers who have gone up with the most illustrious praefect Claudius Firmus, the amounts ascertained are declared below, and the proper measures for their collection can, if it be approved, be communicated to the strategus. The amounts are as follows:

Bread, imposed for a journey of four days, 136 artabae; of which there were distributed through the superintendents . . . artabae; remainder . . .

3-4. For the ἐπιμεληταὶ ἀννώνης at this period cf. 1115, Wilcken, Grundziige, pp. 361-2. The annona of the present text was no doubt a special levy occasioned by the passage of the troops.

11. I prefer  $\delta$  (cf. l. 15) to  $\gamma$  (cf. l. 25) because 136 is divisible by 4.

12. For the supplement cf. l. 17. The διάδοσις here appears as carried out directly by the ἐπιμεληταί, and not through intermediary διαδόται; cf. 43 recto, iv. 8-9, 15. But διαδιδόναι is not always strictly used; cf. P. Leipzig 58. 9-14 and note ad loc.

15.  $'I(\tau a)\lambda(\iota κοί)$ : the abbreviation here and in l. 16 is  $\iota \lambda \lambda$ , with a diagonal stroke after the second  $\lambda$ . Of this,  $'I\lambda\lambda(\iota \rho\iota κοί)$  would be the natural expansion, but there seems to be no other authority for ξέσται  $'I\lambda\lambda \iota \rho\iota κοί$ , whereas  $'I\tau a\lambda\iota κόs$  is a common epithet of the ξέστης and  $\lambda \iota \tau \rho a$ . Wilcken suggests that the compendium is a misrepresentation of  $I^{\lambda\lambda}$ , the doubled  $\lambda$  indicating the plural, after the Latin method.

23. The ξέστης was apparently valued at 20 drachmae.

28.  $\beta o(\epsilon) iov$ : SC.  $\kappa \rho \epsilon \omega s$ .

- 1. If the date in l. 10 is rightly read, this papyrus was written two days after B. G. U. 19, which has hitherto provided the latest point (11 Feb. A.D. 135) for the praefecture of Petronius Mamertinus.

5. This analogy makes it certain that  $\tau \circ \hat{u}$   $d\mu \phi \circ \delta \circ \gamma \rho a\mu \mu a\tau \epsilon \omega s$  is to be restored in 81. 7, and Mr. Bell informs me that he can read  $\tau [o]\hat{v}$   $d\mu \phi \circ \delta \circ \gamma \rho a\mu \mu a\tau \epsilon \omega s$ ; cf. 1119. 6, B. The termination of γεινομένοις could be read as -αις, and in τοῖς too the o is not quite clear; the masculine however (sc. λόγοις) is more likely.

I, Tithoës son of Sarapion and Ptolema, of Phacusae, corn-lader (?) of the said Phacusae, swear by the fortune of Severus and Antoninus the lords Augusti that I will provide the small boat belonging to me of 150 artabas' burden for the lading (?) of the government corn whenever the boats collected in accordance with the orders of lading arrive, so as to incur blame in no respect. This bond is valid. And...sailor Sarapion son of... of Phacusae.' Date, and signature of Tithoës written for him by Sarapion.

2. 'Οξυρυγχίτου, if that is the word meant, is very cursively written. It is not clear that στρατηγώ was abbreviated.

4. διεραματίτης, a person who deals with διεράματα, is apparently a new word. For διέρασις, which occurs in l. 11, cf. P. Tebt. 328. 3–4 κληρωθείς . . . εἰς διέρασιν δημοσίου πυροῦ; διέραμα is no doubt either to be read or restored in P. Thead. 26. 14 (a receipt issued by δεκάπρωτοι; cf. 27. 19) τὰ ναῦλα τῶν διαιρ(α)μάτων. διέραμα could mean sifted corn prepared for embarkation, but 'sifting' seems a not very apposite sense for διέρασις in l. 11, where 'lading' would be more suitable to the context. Perhaps the word merely implies pouring the corn into the hold of the vessel. In Plutarch, Non posse suaviter vivi 4 (p. 1088 e) διέραμα signifies a strainer, but that meaning will clearly not fit P. Thead. 26 and 27.

10. κύδαρος οτ κύδαρον is known from the lexicographers, who describe it as πλοίου οτ νεως εἶδος, πλοιάριον. ἀγ(ωγῆς) οτ ἀγω(γῆς) is more probably to be read in P. Amh. 138. 5 than ayo(vros).

13. Cf. P. Amh. 138. 10, where Mitteis is doubtless right in reading [ϵ]ξ ἀποστόλου (Chrestomathie, p. 391), Brit. Mus. 256. 9–10 ἀκολούθως τῷ [18 letters]ου ἀποστόλφ,

C. P. Herm. 6. 11–12 as restored by Wilcken, Chrestomathie, p. 522 ἐπ[εὶ ο]ἱ σοὶ ἐπίτροπο[ι τοὺς καλο]νμένους ἀποστόλους [13 letters δι'] ὧν κελεύειν α[ὐτο]ῖς ἔθος [τὴν] τοῦ σείτου ἐμ[β]ολὴν ποιεῖσαι. Mitteis has aptly cited Dig. xlix. 6. 1 litteras dimissorias sive apostolos. In 522 λόγος ἀποστόλου Τριαδέλφου, &c., a somewhat different sense is required.

17–20. The purport of this additional sentence was broadly to fix the identity of the  $\nu\alpha\dot{\nu}\eta$ s. In l. 18  $\nu$ [... is not improbably a verb, but whether Sarapion is the object or the subject is uncertain. The word preceding  $\delta\dot{\epsilon}$  in l. 17 is apparently not  $\ddot{o}\nu\rho\mu a$ . [ $\delta\iota\dot{a}\delta$ ] $o\chi o\nu$   $\delta\dot{\epsilon}$ ναύτου ἐν[έστ]ησα would be a possible reading, but is not at all convincing.

1198. NOTIFICATION OF DEATH.

A. D. 150.

A notice addressed to the comogrammateus by an inhabitant of the Oxyrhynchite village Teïs (cf. 1200. 14) of the death of his father and his paternal uncle; cf. e. g. 79, 262, 1030. The present document is peculiar in mentioning that these deaths, which had occurred in the previous year, had been too late to be included in the periodical return of the comogrammateus relating to that year; and the notice was delayed till the last day of Tubi. In P. Brit. Mus. 281 a decease is similarly reported the year after it had taken place, but there is no analogous explanatory statement.

1199. NOTIFICATION OF PURCHASE.

12.4 × 10.5 cm.

Third century.

A notice, addressed to the  $\beta\iota\beta\lambda\iota\omega\phi\dot{\nu}\lambda\alpha\kappa\epsilon s$  εγκτήσεων, of the purchase of a house, with a request for the proper official recognition of the change of ownership. The document is not in the form of the usual  $\dot{\alpha}\pi\sigma\gamma\rho\alpha\phi\dot{\eta}$ , but is a  $\dot{\nu}\pi\dot{\omega}\mu\nu\eta\mu\alpha$  or memorandum asking for a  $\pi\alpha\rho\dot{\alpha}\theta\epsilon\sigma\iota s$  to be made. It is thus akin to P. Tebt. 318, B. G. U. 243, P. Gen. 44, Class. Phil. 2, Hamb. 16; but there is a certain distinction. According to the usual view of that group of documents, which all come from the Fayûm, the reason for the substitution of what may be called the  $\pi\alpha\rho\dot{\alpha}\theta\epsilon\sigma\iota s$ -form for an  $\dot{\alpha}\pi\sigma\gamma\rho\alpha\phi\dot{\eta}$  was the fact that the previous owner had not made an  $\dot{\alpha}\pi\sigma\gamma\rho\alpha\phi\dot{\eta}$ ; cf. Eger,  $\ddot{A}g$ . Grundbuchwesen, pp. 131 sqq., Mitteis, Grundzige, pp. 103 sqq. That explanation will not apply to the present case, since in ll. 24–5 it is distinctly stated that the vendor had declared her ownership in an  $\dot{\alpha}\pi\sigma\gamma\rho\alpha\phi\dot{\eta}$ . Why the  $\pi\alpha\rho\dot{\alpha}\theta\epsilon\sigma\iota s$ -form was nevertheless adopted by the purchaser remains obscure; the lost conclusion of the papyrus perhaps gave the solution.

appurtenances as contained in the autograph deed of sale; which having been deposed to by me through the local record-office in the month Hathur of the same seventh year, I bring before you a single copy with the subscription of the tax-farmer and present this memorandum in order that the proper entry may be made; and I declare that the said Theonis registered the aforesaid property...'

1. This was perhaps the first line of the address;  $\gamma v [\mu(va\sigma\iota a\rho\chi\dot{\eta}\sigma a\nu\tau\iota)]$  is very uncertain, but a title of that kind evidently stood here. ]  $\frac{1}{4}\gamma o\rho a [vo\mu(\dot{\eta}\sigma a\nu\tau\iota)] \tau \eta s \lambda a \mu \pi [\rho a s] \kappa \alpha \lambda a [\mu] \pi \rho o\tau a \tau \eta s$  is possible, but cf. l. 6.

23.  $\pi a \rho a \theta \dot{\epsilon}[\sigma i] \nu$ :  $\pi a \rho a \theta \dot{\eta}[\kappa \eta] \nu$  could well be read, but there is apparently no analogous instance of the word, although  $\pi a \rho \dot{a} \theta \dot{\epsilon} \sigma \iota s$  occurs in place of the more usual  $\pi a \rho a \theta \dot{\eta} \kappa \eta$  in the sense of deposit; cf. 1039. 7, note.

1200. REGISTRATION OF A DEED.

34·3 × 16·1 cm. A. D. 266. Plate VI.

This long and well-preserved papyrus, which was found rolled up in a cloth, is an application to the archidicastes asking him to communicate to the record-office of Oxyrhynchus the publication at Alexandria of a deed of sale; a copy of the latter and of the request for publication is enclosed. The component parts of the document may be placed in their chronological order as follows:

- (1) Copy of the agreement of sale (ll. 14-40) with the signature of the vendor  $(i\pi\sigma\gamma\rho\alpha\phi\dot{r}, 11. 40-3)$ .
- (2) Application to the archidicastes for the publication ( $\delta\eta\mu\sigma\sigma\iota\omega\sigma\iota s$ ) of this agreement (ll. 9–13, 44–52).
- (3) Further application to the archidicastes for the communication of the publication to the record-office at Oxyrhynchus (II. 5–8, 53–5).
- (4) Endorsement of the archidicastes ordering the proper steps to be taken (l. 56).
- (5) Endorsement prefixed by an official in the bureau of the archidicastes, forwarding the document to the proper quarter (ll. 1-4).
- (6) Signature of the applicant, appended at a later time (ll. 57-61; cf. note ad loc.).

On this process of publication of private agreements cf. P. Oxy. IV. pp. 192-3, Mitteis, Grundziige, pp. 82-7, and for analogous documents see especially 719, P. Leipzig 10, B. G. U. 578. The present example is differentiated from that group by the secondary application for communication to the local βιβλιοφύλακες; cf. P. S. I. 74. 1-9, with which ll. 53-5 agree very closely.

'Aurelius Didymus also called Sarapion, priest and archidicastes, to the keepers of the archives in the Hermopolite nome, greeting. A copy is appended of the communication that has been made to me. The 13th year of Gallienus Augustus, Pauni 11. The official of the bureau...

'To Aurelius Didymus also called Sarapion, priest, archidicastes, and superintendent of the chrematistae and other courts, from Aurelia Isidora. Appended is a copy of the publication which has been effected.

'To Aurelius Didymus also called Sarapion, priest, archidicastes, and superintendent of the chrematistae and other courts, from Aurelia Isidora styled the daughter of Aristos. Appended is a copy of the bond issued to me in duplicate with the subscription beneath it.

'Aurelius Morus son of Hareotes and Minous, of the village of Teïs in the Oxyrhynchite nome, to Aurelia Isidora styled daughter of Aristos, of the said village of Teïs, greeting. I acknowledge that I have sold and ceded to you from henceforth for ever the share falling to my father Hareotes of a free space in the middle part of the village, whereof the boundaries are, on the south the property of Ammonas son of Politas, on the north that of Cronius also called Nepotianus, senator, on the east that of Achilles also called Antoninus, on the west that of Cornelius son of Artemidorus, at the price mutually agreed upon, namely one hundred and twenty drachmae of silver of the Imperial coinage, total 120 dr. of silver, which I received from you forthwith from hand to hand in full. Therefore from henceforth you shall own and possess with your descendants and successors the aforesaid free space and shall have power to sell it to others and manage and dispose of it as you choose without hindrance and no one shall in any wise proceed against you, and I will further guarantee the property always against all claims with every guarantee and free from persons' property-returns and the cultivation of royal or domain land and from every obligation or debt or lien of every kind, public or private. And I have delivered this bond to you in duplicate with my subscription, and you shall make it public through the bureau whenever you choose without requiring any further consent or concurrence from me, because I now agree to the future publication, and to your question whether this is done rightly and fairly I have given my assent. The thirteenth year of the Emperor Caesar Publius Licinius Gallienus Germanicus Maximus Pius Felix Augustus, Choiak 4. I, Aurelius Morus son of Hareotes, have sold the free space falling to me and have received the price as aforesaid. I, Aurelius Apollonius, wrote for him, as he was illiterate.

'And whereas I desire that a single copy of the duplicate bond shall be publicly registered, I give to the city the prescribed 12 drachmae and the ad valorem tax, and request that on receiving it from the person sent by me, Aurelius Apollonius, with his attestation that the subscription is the writer's autograph, you register it together with this memorandum at the Library of Hadrian, and a copy at the Library of the Nanaeum, in order that my rights in virtue of it may be assured as by a public deed, owing to the assent to the publication. The 13th year of Gallienus Augustus, Pauni.

'And whereas I desire that this should be communicated to the keepers of the property registers of the Oxyrhynchite nome, I request that on receiving the publication with the proper subscription you will give orders for a letter to be written for their information.

Let the proper steps be taken. The 13th year of our lord Gallienus Augustus, Pauni 9. I, Aurelius Isidora daughter of Aristos, have presented this memorandum and it has been registered. The 3rd year which = the 1st year, Pachon 30. I. Aurelius Theon also called Harpalus, son of Demetrius, wrote for her, as she was illiterate.

(Endorsed) 'Communication of publication, for Aurelia Isidora.'

1-4. These four lines inserted at the top of the application in the bureau of the archidicastes are in an extremely cursive hand (see Plate VI) and there are several words in them which I cannot read with certainty even with the help of a parallel document (unpublished) of the following year, where there is a similar but still worse written endorsement. In l. 1 ἀρχιδικα (στής) is assured, but what immediately precedes and follows is very doubtful. iepevs καί is suggested by similar communications from the archidicastes to strategi, e. g. 485. 4, B. G. U. 578. 7. ίερεύς however is unsatisfactory; the initial letter might well be e.g. γ, and γενόμενος might perhaps be read, if it were otherwise suitable. λαμπρότατος is equally unlikely, since that title is not elsewhere applied to the ἀρχιδικαστής. If χα(ίρειν) is right in l. 2, a preceding mention of the βιβλιοφύλακες seems demanded by Il. 53-4, and βι is probable here in the parallel text; but Ερμοπολείτου is a difficulty, since 'Οξυρυγχείτου is of course expected. Presumably Έρμοπολείτου was written by an inadvertence.  $\pi p \delta s \tau \hat{\eta} \epsilon \pi \iota \mu \epsilon \lambda \epsilon i (a) \tau \hat{\omega} \nu \chi \rho \eta (\mu \alpha \tau \iota \sigma \tau \hat{\omega} \nu)$  is clearly impossible. In l. 4  $\delta \pi p \delta s \tau \hat{\eta} \delta \iota a (\lambda o \gamma \hat{\eta})$  is confirmed by the unpublished text, which has here  $\delta_{i}a(\lambda oy\hat{\eta}) \tau(\hat{\eta}s) \pi \delta \lambda(\epsilon \omega s)$ ; cf. P. Leipzig 10. ii. 32-3 οἱ πρὸς τῆ διαλογῆ τῆς πόλεως διέγρα(ψεν) Αὐρηλ(ίου) Σαραπάμμωνος χρημ(ατίζοντος). On that analogy χρη(ματίζοντος) may be read with some confidence at the end of this line, but there is nothing in front of it in the least like διέγραψεν. The letters might possibly be intended for  $d\pi \epsilon \chi \epsilon \iota$ ,  $\Lambda \dot{\nu} \rho \eta (\lambda i \sigma \nu)$  " $\Omega \rho \sigma \nu$ , but  $d\pi \dot{\epsilon} \chi \epsilon \iota$  especially is an unconvincing reading.

For διαλογή cf. e.g. 34. ii 5 οί καλούμενοι έπὶ τῆς διαλογῆς τῶν κατὰ καιρὸν ἀρχιδικαστῶν [γρα] μματείς, and Mitteis, Grundzüge, pp. 85, 125.

18. A similar marginal entry occurs in the parallel text referred to in the previous note, and there the a of  $a\hat{v}(\tau \hat{\eta}s\hat{r})$  is fairly clear.

30-2. Cf. 577, 719. 23-5.

37. δρθῶς καλῶς: so 1040. 33, where καί is not to be inserted; cf. e.g. 1208. 29, 1209. 28.

40. The marginal entry apparently notes the fact that the vendor was illiterate.

44. βουλόμενος is obviously a clerical error for βουλομένη both here and in I. 53; cf. l. 35, where προσδεόμενος is written for προσδεομένη.

51. εὐδοκηκέναι: SC. τὸν Αὐρήλιον Μῶρον.

58. The date here is strange. Since the month is Pachon (l. 59), this signature must be at least a year subsequent to the rest of the document, where the latest date is Pauni 11 (l. 3). The writer was unpractised, and the figures, which are in each case above the sign for (ττονς), are not very clear. δ might well be read in place of a, but how could a δ be explained? The third and fourth years cannot be those of Maximian and Diocletian for two reasons: (1) γ and δ should be in the reverse order; (2) an interval of 22 years between the signature and the other dates is too long. Neither could (ττονς) γ καὶ (ττονς) δ refer to a period of joint rule by Claudius and Vaballathus in A.D. 270-1, since not only is there no evidence that the latter was recognized during the lifetime of Claudius,¹ but in P. Strassb. 8. 1-2 Aurelian is already found associated with Vaballathus in Pharmouthi of that year. I therefore adopt the reading (ττονς) γ καὶ (ττονς) α and suppose that the third and last year of Claudius which coincided with the first of Aurelian is meant (A.D. 271), Vaballathus being ignored. No doubt the more usual expression for this would be (ττονς) γ

&lt;sup>1</sup> P. Grenf. ii. 70 is no doubt to be referred to the reign of Diocletian and Maximian, as was pointed out by P. Meyer in Hermes, xxxiii. p. 269; Meyer's correction has been overlooked by both Preisigke, P. Strassb. i. 34, and F. Hohmann, Chronologie der Papyrusurkunden, pp. 18 and 55.

(c) PETITIONS.

1201. Succession to an Inheritance.

Fr. 2 18.4 × 12.4 cm.

A.D. 258.

An application to the praefect Mussius Aemilianus from a man whose father had died intestate, asking for the right of succession to the estate (agnitio bonorum possessionis). His request was couched in Latin, with a signature appended in Greek (cf. 720, 1114); this is followed by an endorsement of the praefect granting the petition (l. 11), and a translation, in a very cursive hand, of the Latin text into Greek. The central part of the papyrus is decayed, and most of the Latin original has disappeared; but the loss is of small consequence, since a precisely similar document, also from Oxyrhynchus, at Giessen has recently been published with a valuable commentary by O. Eger in Z. Sav. xxxii. pp. 378 sqq., and by means of this the portion here missing is easily restored; cf. note on l. 4. In the Giessen papyrus, on the other hand, the Greek translation, which in 1201 is well preserved, has been badly mutilated. The two documents thus supply each other's deficiencies in the happiest manner.

Aemilianus was already known to have held the office of praefect in A. D. 257 from Euseb. Hist. Eccl. vii. 11. 9, where he is called  $\delta\iota\ell\pi\omega\nu$   $\tau\eta\nu$   $\dot{\eta}\gamma\epsilon\mu\nu\nu\ell\alpha\nu$  as in l. 14 here; in the Latin of l. 1 he is styled praefectus Acgypti simply. His name Mussius is novel; the praenomen is added by another papyrus not yet published, Lucius. This was the man who a few years later revolted against Gallienus. On a coin of that period, attributed to him by Poole, Catalogue of coins of Alex. p. 299 (cf. introd. p. xxxiv), he is given the initials M. I.

- 1. The letters v p have no dots either after or, as in the Giessen papyrus, above them. On the other hand dots are placed after praef and Aeg.

2. Heudaemonem: for the erroneous aspiration cf. e. g. 32. 9 omo.

4. [Catilli] i seems hardly enough for the space, but Variani is probable. There are some slight illegible traces of the two following lines, which with the rest of the Latin can be restored with security from the Greek by the aid of the Giessen papyrus and 1114. 13 thus: intestati defuncti ex ea parte edicti quae legitimis heredibus b(onorum) p(ossessionem) dat. datum a(nte) d(iem) viii kal(endas) Oct(obres) Tusco et Basso co(n)s(ulibus). Instead of quae ... dat the Giessen papyrus has qua{e}... daturum te polliceris. The mistake of quae for qua may now be explained as due to a change of construction, the writer having quae . . . dat in his mind and then substituting daturum te polliceris without altering the quae.

6. Cf. the Giessen papyrus l. 10 αἰτῶ τὴν διακατοχήν, P. Amh. 72. 9–10 διεπεμψάμην τῷ λαμπροτάτῷ ἡγεμόνι . . . τὴν διακατοχήν, and B. G. 11. In l. 12 of the Giessen papyrus Eger restores do b(onorum) p(ossessionem)] before ex edicto, but probably those two words stood by themselves, as here. recognovi there takes the place of legi. The  $\tau$  of  $\tau(\delta\mu os)$  is written just like a v, both in this line and l. 22, but  $\tau\delta\mu os$  is demanded by analogy. The reference no doubt is, as Eger explains (l. c., p. 381), to the liber libellorum rescriptorum of the praefect.

It is hardly certain that the three Latin words are in the same hand as what follows, but there seems to be no further change beyond this point. Too many hands are probably distinguished by Eger.

13. λαμπροτάτω: διασημοτάτω is the correct equivalent of perfectissimus.

18. Cf. the passage of B. G. U. 140 quoted in the note on l. 6, and Eger, l. e., p. 382. 21-2.  $\epsilon_{\kappa}$   $\tau o \hat{\nu}$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma \mu a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma \mu a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma \mu a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma \mu a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma \mu a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma \mu a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma \mu a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma \mu a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \gamma a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau a \tau o s$   $\delta \iota a \tau o$

1202. PETITION CONCERNING AN EPHEBUS.

26·1 × 11·3 cm.

A.D. 217.

This document is an interesting supplement to the existing evidence about the enrolment of ephebi, a subject which has recently been discussed at length by Wilcken, Grundzüge, pp. 139 sqq., and Jouguet, La vic municipale, pp. 150 sqq. It is a petition to the deputy-epistrategus from the father of a youth qualified to become an ephebus, complaining that his son's name had been omitted from the list which was annually prepared by the amphodogrammateus, and begging that the error might be rectified. The list in question is stated to have been regularly prepared shortly before the time of the contest of the ephebi, established at Oxyrhynchus by Septimius Severus and Caracalla (11. 5 sqq.). This reference is explained by 705, which contains a copy of the Imperial rescript sanctioning an endowment for the purposes of the festival. The boy's qualifications are set out in ll. 17 sqq. He was already a member of the gymnasium, having reached the age of fourteen, and having been admitted through the ἐπίκρισις to the privileged body of οἱ ἐκ τοῦ γυμνασίου. But he was not yet an ephebus; to become one a further εἴσκρισις, probably by the praefect (cf. P. Flor. 57. 73, Wilcken, l. c., p. 142), was required, a preliminary to which was apparently the list of the amphodogrammateus. The fact that the epistrategus is addressed in the present petition does not imply that the  $\epsilon i \sigma \kappa \rho \iota \sigma \iota s$  was conducted by that official.

The date of the papyrus is approximately fixed by the mention in 11. 19 and 21 of the 25th year, which was perhaps still current, in spite of the absence of the word ἐνεστώς. Caracalla did not attain to a 26th year, and the petition seems to have been written before the accession of Macrinus. At any rate it can be little later than A.D. 217. Aurelius Severus, the acting epistrategus, was not previously known.

'To his highness Aurelius Severus, deputy-epistrategus, from Aurelius Ptolemaeus son of Sempronius son of Lucius, his mother being Thaësis, of the city of Oxyrhynchus. It is the custom since we gained by the gift of our lords Severus and the great Antoninus the contest of the ephebi that those who are for the time being amphodogrammateis of the city should, as the contest of each year approaches, submit and publish a list of those about to become ephebi, in order that each one may assume the status of ephebus at the proper season. Since then the present amphodogrammateus of the city, Aurelius Sarapion, in the list recently published by him of those who are auspiciously about to become ephebi, has, perhaps in ignorance, passed over my son who is also an incipient ephebus and on the roll of our gymnasium, and who reached the age of 14 years in the 25th year, and was passed in accordance with his age and parentage into the list of the members of the gymnasium in the same 25th year, I perforce have recourse to you, requesting that my son too may be entered in the list of the ephebi in the same way as his companions, that so I may obtain relief. Farewell.

'I, Aurelius Ptolemaeus, presented the petition.'

3. Σεμπρωνίου: or perhaps Σενπρωνίου. At the end of the line  $\Lambda o \iota [\kappa i o \upsilon]$  seems more likely than  $\Lambda o \iota [\pi o] \upsilon$ .

7. The  $\delta\omega\rho\epsilon\dot{a}$  was really that of Aurelius Horion, who gave a large sum to provide prizes for the contest; the emperors merely sanctioned his endowment.

8-9. In A.D. 323 the date of the contest was Jan. 19; cf. 42. 2, 10.

11. γραφηναι was no doubt due to the influence of the preceding infinitives.

17. μελλοέφηβον: the word is spelled μελλέφηβος in Censorinus, De die nat. 5, Eustath. Od. 1768. 56. Cf. P. Brit. Mus. 1166. 4 μελλογυμνασίαρχος, Giessen 54. 6 μελλοπρόεδρος.

18. τάγματος: cf. e.g. 891. 15.

19–21. Fourteen was apparently the usual age for admission to the ranks of the ephebi; cf. Wilcken, l. c., p. 141, Jouguet, l. c., pp. 150 sqq. The anomaly of P. Tebt. 316 (which of course was found at Tebtunis and not, as stated by Wilcken, Chrestomathie, p. 173, at Oxyrhynchus), where boys of three and seven years are described as έφηβευκότες, is still unexplained.

For an ἐπίκρισις εἰς τοὺς ἐκ τοῦ γυμνασίου cf. 257, where the importance of the γένος is well illustrated.

25. καὶ & is written as if ὅπως or ἵνα and not an infinitival construction had preceded.

1203. CLAIM OF CREDITORS.

16·1 × 12·2 cm.

Late first century.

Though the commencement of this petition is lost, the main details of the transaction involved are sufficiently clear. According to the petitioners' statement (the first person plural is used throughout), Leonides after obtaining a loan upon mortgage had surreptitiously alienated the security to a third party and made a claim against his creditors for a debt which he asserted was due to him from their father. A notice of the claim had been served upon them through Apion, the son of Leonides, who seems to have been himself absent, and the collection of the debt put into the hands of the ξενικῶν πράκτωρ. The petitioners accordingly request that copies of their counter-claim (ἀντίρρησις; cf. 68. 11) should be communicated to Apion and to the πράκτωρ, in order that no further proceedings should be taken pending a legal decision. It would naturally fall to the strategus to take the steps required, and probably he was the person to whom the petition was sent, since there is no mention of written instructions, which would be expected if the addressee were the ἀρχιδικαστής; cf. 68. 29–31, P. Brit. Mus. 908. 29–30. At the foot is a signature of an assistant stating that notice had been given to the πράκτωρ as desired.

"... In addition to this the said Leonides, heedless of the reckoning that would follow, provided himself with a memorandum from the bureau to the collector of external debts here on the plea of other sums being due to him from our father, whereas on the contrary he was our debtor, as stated above, and served upon us a copy of this through his son Apion on the fourteenth of the present month Epeiph. Wherefore we perforce come forward with the request that this memorandum should be duly placed on record, and that a copy of it be served through an attendant both upon Apion on his father's account and upon the collector of external debts, in order that Apion may know that everything that has been done by his father Leonides to our hurt is invalid and that our claim holds good against Leonides on all the counts that we have against him, and that the collector of external debts may take no step against us in consequence of the aforesaid memorandum before the trial of the case. For we maintain and shall maintain all our subsisting rights. (Endorsed) I, Theon son of Onnophris, assistant, have duly presented a copy of the above memorandum to the collector of external debts.'

3. Perhaps  $\hat{a}[\gamma\nu \alpha\eta\sigma\hat{a}\nu\tau\omega\nu]$ ; the letter before the lacuna had a rounded base suiting e.g.  $a, \epsilon, \theta$ , or  $\omega$ .

6. διαστολικόν is a term applied to notifications of various kinds; cf. e.g. P. Brit. Mus. 1231. 25. The document which in l. 10 is described as a ὑπόμνημα is often called διαστολικόν; cf. Mitteis, Grundziige, p. 124.

9-10. Cf. e.g. 485. 3, B. G. U. 1038. 9, P. Leipzig 120. 3, Mitteis, Grundzüge, pp. 159 sqq.

11. For the ξενικῶν πράκτωρ in the Roman period cf. 286. 15, 712. 1, 8, 825, B. G. U. 970. 26, 1038. 13, P. Leipzig 120. 1, Mitteis, Grundzüge, pp. 30,159 sqq. It is remarkable that here too the person suing for the debt was apparently living outside the Oxyrhynchite nome (ll. 4, 15–16, 20–1), but whether the functions of the ξενικῶν πράκτωρ were limited to such cases, as suggested in P. Tebt. I. p. 56, P. Oxy. II. p. 279, IV. p. 178, is very doubtful. There is no indication of distinction of residence in P. Leipzig 120 (ll. 5–6 ἀπὸ τῆς αὐτ(ῆς)... πόλ(εως) rather implies the contrary).

19. ἔχειν ἐν καταχωρισμῷ: cf. Mitteis, Leipz. Silz.-Ber. 1910, pp. 69 sqq., Grundzüge, pp. 33-4.

29-31. Cf. e. g. 282. 18-21, 286. 22-4, and Strassb. 74. 17-18, where no doubt  $\gamma \acute{a}\rho$  should be read in place of  $\pi \rho \acute{a}$ ; I do not see in the facsimile the justification for the spelling  $d\nu \tau \acute{e}\chi \omega \mu a\iota$ .

32-4. Cf. 485. 49-50, P. Brit. Mus. 908. 39-40, Flor. 56. 22-3. In 485. 50 καθήκει is more probably to be restored than πρόκειται.

1204. PETITION TO A STRATEGUS.

20.4 × 27.2 cm.

A. D. 299.

The following very interesting petition represents a stage in some legal proceedings taken by Aurelius Plutarchus in consequence of his nomination for the office of decemprimus, from which, he maintains, his rank exempted him. In order to release himself from municipal burdens, as is expressly stated in 1.13, Plutarchus had obtained from the Emperors the rank of κράτιστος, i.e. vir egregius. Sometime afterwards, while absent on a special mission in the Small Oasis, he had been nominated to the office in question. He at once instituted proceedings of appeal through his father (cf. Dig. l. 5. 1 qui excusatione aliqua utuntur . . . necesse habent appellare), and had also applied to the rationalis (καθολικός), the chief of the general department of finance, before whose tribunal he appeared. The rationalis reserved judgement, ordering documentary evidence to be produced and notice to be given to the official responsible for the appointment. Plutarchus accordingly now forwards a copy of the official report of this preliminary bearing to the strategus, with the request that the necessary notification should be made.

dates of Plutarchus' attainment of rank and his nomination to office; cf. Dig. 1, 6, 6, 7 si ante quis ad munera municipalia vocatus sit quam negotiari inciperct, vel antequam in collegium adsumeretur quod immunitatem pariat, . . . compellatur ad honorem gerendum.

The papyrus makes an addition to the list of praefects in the person of Aelius Publius, who is mentioned in ll. 7–8.

'In the consulships of our lords the Emperors Diocletianus Augustus for the seventh and Maximianus Augustus for the sixth time. To Aurelius Zenogenes, strategus of the Oxyrhynchite nome, from Aurelius Plutarchus also called Atactius, excellency, and however I am styled. Having been nominated wrongfully and in contravention of all law for the decemprimate by Aurelius Demetrianus, decemprimus of the western toparchy, I brought an action of appeal through my father Aurelius Sarapammon also called Dionysius, and however he is styled, because I was at the time in the Small Oasis for the discharge of the soldiers stationed there, in accordance with the order of my lord the most honourable praefect of Egypt Aelius Publius; and having taken the proper steps for the appeal I had recourse to my lord the most honourable catholicus Pomponius Domnus, and applied to him in a memorandum setting these facts before him. Whereas then his highness ordered me by a judgement to give notice to the aforesaid person, the essential part of the proceedings and the judgement being as follows:-

'In the consulship of our lords Diocletianus Augustus for the seventh time and Maximianus Augustus for the sixth time, August 19, at Alexandria, in court. Plutarchus, excellency, having been summoned, Isidorus said, "His excellency Plutarchus who has presented himself before your eminence, endeavouring to find for himself a release from municipal offices, some time ago besought the divine fortune of our masters the Augusti and Caesars to grant him the rank of excellency, and their divine fortune consented and granted it, and he now enjoys it. Now he has continued in obedience to your lordship's department and also to the orders of you magnates. Lately when he was in the Small Oasis, where he had been sent by my lord your colleague Publius the most honourable praefect to discharge the soldiers, a certain Demetrianus, an Oxyrhynchite of the same city, made a design upon him and ventured to nominate him for the decemprimate, ignoring his acquisition of a superior rank, which presumably releases him from municipal offices". After other evidence Domnus the most honourable catholicus said, "Read the day of his appointment". Plutarchus said, "Pauni 30. I was away in the Oasis; I came back when I knew". Domnus the most honourable catholicus said, "Let the document containing the appointment be produced, and let him also show the following correspondence, as I ordered; and that he may be heard in a more regular way, let him give notice to the person who nominated (?) him for the decemprimate". Gregorius said, "Give orders for the issue of the minutes". Domnus the most honourable catholicus said, "They shall be issued". I. Olympius, official notary, issued the minutes.

'Wherefore I beg, if it seem good to you, ...'

4. This nomination of one δεκάπρωτος by another is noticeable.

5. ἔκκλητον: sc. δίκην; cf. 1117. 3, where ἔκ(κ)λητο[ν is almost certainly to be read, and P. Amh. 82.9–10, where οὐδὲ ἔκκλη[τον ποιεῖσθαι ἐδυνή]θην may now be restored with security; ἔκκλη[τον and ἐδυνή]θην had already been suggested by Wilcken, Grundzüge, p. 353¹. Plutarchus commenced proceedings through his father because the period during which an appeal was allowed was limited; cf. the passage already cited in P. Amh. 82, which proceeds τῶ καὶ τὰς ἡμέρας τὰς νενομισμένας... παραλελυθέναι, Dig. l. 5. 1 qui tempora praefinita in ordine eiusmodi appellationum peragendo non servaverint, merito praescriptione repelluntur.

6. ἐκσφούνγευσιν: cf. l. 19 ἐκσφουνγεύειν, which is apparently a Graecism of expungere, a term technically used of the discharge of soldiers, e. g. Plautus, Curc. 4. 4. 29 miles . . . expuncto in manipulo, Dig. xlix. 16. 15 ex causa desertionis notatus ac restitutus temporis quod in desertione fuerit impendiis expungitur. No doubt the same word was meant in B. G. U. 435.

14 έξπουγκερος (saec. II-III).

10-11. Perhaps something has been omitted; cf. the critical note.

12. σηκρήτ $\varphi$  = secretario, for which cf. e.g. P. Thead. 13. 1 in secret(ario), Leipzig 38. i. 1, C. Just. i. 48. 3, iii. 24. 3, xii. 19. 5. σέκρετον οτ σήκρητον is the usual Greek form, e.g. Hesych. σέκρετον συνέδριον, Euseb. Hist. Eccl. vii. 30 σήκρητον δὲ ωσπερ οἱ τοῦ κόσμου ἄρχοντες ἔχων.

15. Καισάρων: i. e. Constantius and Galerius.

16. έν αὐτῷ: SC. τῷ ἀξιώματι.

24. The misuse of the optative is noticeable in an official document of this period.

25. The letters  $\epsilon \lambda a \mu$ , which are clear, suggest nothing which suits the sense and construction. Some word like ὀνομάσαντι is expected, and possibly this has been miscopied; or λαμβ[άνοντι] might be adopted. The slight vestige of the letter after μ is indecisive.

26. κομενταρήσιος = commentariensis; cf. P. Flor. 71. 758, 794, P. S. I. 97. 6. τὰ ὑπομνήματα: i. e. the minutes or memoranda of the proceedings, which the petitioner was thus enabled to quote. Cf. P. Leipzig 38. i. 17-18, and Cairo Cat. 67131. 28-30, where something like ἀντίγραφον κέλευσον is to be supplied in 1. 23.

27. At this point the petitioner resumes, and a may be a ξιώ. Further on ενώπ [ιον might be read (cf. e. g. P. Flor. 56. 20), but does not combine well with the other remains.

1205. MANUMISSION inter amicos.

Fr. 1 14  $\times$  16.9 cm.

A.D. 201.

The solitary specimen hitherto known of a manumission inter amicos was published in 1904 by S. de Ricci from a tablet in the Amherst collection (Proc. Soc. Bibl. Arch. xxvi. pp. 145 sqq.; reprinted by Girard, Textes de droit rom.3 p. 849, Mitteis, Chrest. p. 405; cf. Grunds. p. 272). That document was in Latin, with Greek signatures. The following second example, which is of greater length, of this form of manumission is in Greek throughout, but here too Latin was apparently the original language; cf. the note on l. 1. An additional feature of interest is that several of the persons concerned were Jews. Unfortunately there is a large gap at the beginnings of the lines, extending, as l. 15 shows, to some 40 letters throughout. Nevertheless, though there is some obscurity in detail, the general sense is sufficiently clear. The manumittors were either a man and his half-sister, acting with a curator, or perhaps two half-sisters; and the persons freed were a middle-aged female with her two young children, one of whom was named Jacob. The ransom was paid by the Jewish synagogue, presumably that of Oxyrhynchus, and reached the large sum of 14 talents of silver. To ransom Jewish slaves from Gentile ownership was regarded as a duty incumbent upon the community, if their own relatives were unable to perform it (this is recognized by the Talmud, e.g. Baba Bathra, fol. 8 ad fin., a reference which I owe to Dr. Cowley; cf. S. Krauss, Talmudische Archäol. ii. pp. 98-9); and it seems probable that the action of the synagogue in the present case is to be connected with that religious obligation. But there is some uncertainty as to the nationality of the manumittors; cf. the note on l. 8.

5. ϊακ[ω]β Pap. 10. ϋπερ Pap. 12. ϊουστου Pap. 14. ϋπατοις Pap. ; l. ὑπάτων.

1. ἀντίγραφον ἐ]λευθ[ερώσε]ωs is unsuitable on account of the autograph signatures, and έρμηνεία is indicated by Latinisms in the Greek; cf. ll. 13–14. Apparently the deed was bilingual, as e. g. 1201; there is a fair margin above this line and the edge of the papyrus is straight, but perhaps the Latin text preceded in a separate column.

3. κου[ράτορος: cf. 888. 3, note, B. G. U. 705. 3, Mitteis, Grundzüge, p. 250.

4. παραδόξου may be either a proper name, as in B. G. U. 362. xiv. 10, or a title signifying athletic prowess; cf. e. g. P. Brit. Mus. 1178. 54 πύκτου ἀλείπτου παραδόξου, 56 παλαιστοῦ παραδόξου, &c., and Meyer's note on P. Hamburg 21. 3. For Παραμόνη cf. e. g. 1044. 23 Παράμονος.

5. τὰ ταύτης τέκνα: cf. l. 19.

7. For the Jewish colony at Oxyrhynchus cf. 335 (A. D. 83) which not only mentions οἱ ἀπ' Ὁξ(υρύγχων) πόλ(ϵως) Ἰου[δ]αῖοι but shows that one of the quarters of the city was called Ἰουδαικὸν ἄμφοδον. Fragments in Aramaic have occurred among the Oxyrhynchus papyri.

8. This reference to the 'Ωνεῖται is rather puzzling. Since they had a βουλή, their town must have been a considerable place, but its identity is not evident. Besides the Egyptian "Ων (Heliopolis), which naturally could not be described as belonging to Palestine, even if its inhabitants could be called 'Ωνεῖται, there was according to Cheyne in Black's Encycl. Bibl. Col. 3500 a district bearing the same name in S. Palestine, but the supposed biblical allusions to it rest upon conjecture. Possibly the Benjamite Ono, to which references occur in post-exilic literature (1 Chron. viii. 12, Ezra ii. 33, Neh. vi. 2), is meant.

Another question which is not quite easily answered is, of what woman was this  $\beta o \nu \lambda \epsilon \nu \tau \eta s$  '  $\Omega \nu \epsilon \iota \tau \delta \nu$  the father? If of the  $\delta \mu o \mu \eta \tau \rho \iota a$   $d \delta \epsilon \lambda \phi \eta$ , the manumitting family was Jewish. But her father would more naturally be supposed to be the  $\gamma \epsilon \nu \delta \mu \epsilon \nu \sigma s$   $\delta \epsilon \eta \gamma \eta \tau \eta s$   $\delta o \nu \lambda \epsilon \nu \tau \eta s$  of Oxyrhynchus named in l. 3. Moreover, if the manumittors were Jews, the part played by the synagogue is not readily explained, for that body does not merely witness and confirm the transaction, as e.g. in the manumissions from Panticapaeum (C. I. G. 2114b, Latyschev, Inscr. Ponti Eux. ii. 52-3  $\epsilon \tau \eta \tau \eta s$   $\tau \rho \sigma \sigma \epsilon \nu \chi \eta s$  ...  $\sigma \nu \nu \epsilon \pi \iota \tau \rho \sigma \tau \epsilon \nu \sigma \eta s$   $\delta \epsilon \kappa \alpha \iota \tau \eta s$   $\sigma \nu \nu \alpha \gamma \omega \gamma \eta s$ ; cf. Krauss, Festschrift Harkavy, p. 65), but pays the purchase money. This action would be more intelligible if the owners were Gentiles and the slave a Jewess; the objection to that view, however, is that the latter is described in l. 4 as  $\sigma \iota \kappa \sigma \rho \nu \tau \eta s$ , and to regard this description as inaccurate is a somewhat arbitrary assumption. It is of course not certain that  $\tau \sigma \nu \eta s$  in l. 8 is to be restored  $\tau \iota \sigma \sigma \eta \tau \sigma \nu \tau \tau s$  as in l. 3, is an alternative; but this does not affect the difficulty.

12. The supplement is quite conjectural. In the line below, the gap may be filled by some phrase like διὰ χειρὸς έξ οἴκου, οτ ἐκ πλήρους.

13.  $\epsilon^2 \pi \rho \dot{\alpha} \chi \theta \eta = actum$ ; cf. e. g. the Amherst tablets l. 12, 1114. 38, &c.

14. The day of the month according to the Roman calendar preceded ἐπί; cf. the Amherst tablets l. 13.

18 sqq. The arrangement adopted of these three detached pieces is suggested as well by the handwriting and spacing of the lines as by the satisfactory restorations obtainable in ll. 19 and 21-2. Some small unplaced scraps are not printed.

24. Εὐσεβία was perhaps the name of the ὁμομητρία ἀδελφή.

25–8. The letters ] Ἰονστ[ and those immediately below them seem to be in a different hand from those opposite on the left. If that is so, some of the signatures must have been written in separate columns. τάλα]ντα δ[ϵκα cannot be read in l. 26.

1206. Adoption.

23.5 × 15.6 cm.

A. D. 335.

Like manumission inter amicos (1205), adoption has hitherto been represented by a single text, P. Leipzig 28, first published by Mitteis in Archiv iii, pp. 173 sqq. and lately reprinted by him in Chrestomathie, p. 406. A second example is therefore very welcome. It is some fifty years older than the Leipzig specimen and rather simpler though essentially similar in form. A husband and wife, Heracles and Isarion, agree to the adoption of their two-year-old son by Horion, who promises that the boy shall be his heir. Apparently there was no affinity between the contracting parties, nor is there any obvious reason for the adoption as in the Leipzig text, where an uncle adopts his fatherless nephew. Another small point of contrast is the absence here of stipulations about proper food and clothing, which are replaced by the negative guarantee that the boy should not be repudiated or reduced to a state of servitude. These however are minor details; the important feature from the juristic standpoint is that the transaction is regarded as a purely private affair, the forms prescribed at this period by Roman law, the sanction of an imperial rescript and the intervention of the praefect (C. First. viii. 47. 2), being in complete abeyance, and that the participators are not concerned with any constitution of patria potestas (although, as 1208. 6 shows, that was not quite a dead letter in the provinces), but simply with the upbringing and eventual testamentary succession of the adopted child; cf. Mitteis, Grundziige, pp. 274-5.

Aurelius Heracles son of Harasis, whose home is in the illustrious and most illustrious city of Oxyrhynchus, and his wife Aurelia Isarion daughter of Agathon of the said city, and Aurelius Horion son of Horion of the said city, mutual greetings. We agree, Heracles and his wife Isarion on the one part, that we have given away to you, Horion, for adoption our son Patermouthis, aged about two years, and I Horion on the other part, that I have him as my own son so that the rights proceeding from succession to my inheritance shall be maintained for him, and it shall not be lawful for me to disavow him or to reduce him to slavery, because he is well born and the son of well born and free parents, and in the same way it shall not be lawful for us, Heracleus and his wife Isarion, to remove the boy from you, Horion, because we have once for all given him to you for adoption, nor shall it hereafter be lawful for any one to transgress the terms herein written, because we have consented and agreed on these conditions. This deed of adoption, done in duplicate so that each party may have a copy, is valid, and in answer to each other's question we have given our assent, in the consulship aforesaid, Pharmouthi . . .

8. There is no room for ωs after  $\tau o[\hat{v}\tau]o\nu$ , which however is doubtfully read. Cf. P. Leipzig 28. ## 1207. LEASE OF A CAMEL-STABLE.

 $7.2 \times 9.3$  cm.

A. D. 175-6?

Part of a lease for five years of premises which had been used for keeping camels, and were now to be turned into a fowl-house. The rent was 300 drachmae per annum, with yearly extras of 4 cocks, 8 hens, and 100 eggs, besides a donation to the lessors' servants of 8 drachmae 'for a libation'. The reign of which the seventeenth year is referred to in l. 2 may be that of Marcus Aurelius.

'[... have leased to ...,] of the city of Oxyrhynchus, for a period of five years from Thoth I of the coming 17th year the camel-stall which they have in the quarter of the Hermaeum together with all its appurtenances, for a fowl-house, excluding any parts needed for an oil-press that may be chosen by Epimachus, the rent for the rest of the premises for the term of five years being 300 drachmae annually, with an additional payment likewise annually of 4 cocks in perfect condition, 8 laying hens in perfect condition, 100 eggs, and 8 drachmae for the slaves for a libation. On the lease being guaranteed, the lessee shall pay to the lessors the additional payments whenever they wish and the rent at the two fixed dates of Phamenoth and Mesore with no delay. The lessee with his sons or [other agents] shall then utilize the premises leased to him . . .'

6. Epimachus was one of the lessors.

8. ἔκτακτα, like ἐξαίρετα (cf. Berger, Strafklauseln, p. 156², Meyer, P. Hamburg, p. 18), are special or separate payments as distinguished from the φόρος ἀπότακτος or rent proper. The word is similarly used of a special bequest in 646 ἃ ἔσται καὶ ἔκτακτον τοῦ . . . ἀφήλικος, and of distinct or special documents in B. G. U. 12. 18 δι' ἐκτάκτου παρετέθη, P. Leipzig 3. ii. 12 ἐν ἐκτάκτφ ἐπήνεγκα (cf. Wilcken, Archiv iv. p. 459).

Four ἀλέκτορες τέλειοι are similarly part of the rent of a μύλαιον in B. G. U. 1067;

cf. ibid. 269. 4, 8. In a Rylands lease of land one cock is stipulated for.

9. ὀρνέίθων: probably the φόρος ὀρνίθων coupled in P. Štrassb. 56. 67-9 with φόρος προβάτων refers to fowls and not, as supposed by Preisigke, to pigeons; cf. P. Giessen 81. 6.

10. Cf. 730. 13-15 σπονδής των όλων παιδαρίοις δραχμάς τέσσαρας, Archiv v. p. 253,

P. Hamburg 94. 33, n., P. S. I. 109 A 7.

16. οἶς ἐὰν αἰρῆ[τ]α[ι] is not satisfactory though perhaps just possible; but νίοῖς καί is very uncertain.

1208. PUBLIC ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF A CONTRACT OF SALE.

A.D. 291.

This long and interesting document contains an affirmation ( $\hat{\epsilon} \kappa \mu a \rho \tau \nu \rho \eta \sigma \iota s$ , l. 30), drawn up before the representative of the agoranomus (cf. note on l. 2), of the validity of a private contract of sale and cession dating from the previous year. The property sold and ceded by the contract, a copy of which is given (ll. 6-28), was  $\frac{4}{5}$  of an aroura of arable land, with a share in appliances for irrigating, for which the large sum of 1 talent 3,000 drachmae was paid.

What is the significance of this process of ἐκμαρτύρησις? Another example of it is 95, a re-affirmation of a contract for the sale of a slave, but that papyrus is unfortunately incomplete. It has occurred in the present volume in 1199. 19, and a similar allusion is to be recognized, according to Eger's obviously right restoration (Äg. Grundbuchwesen, p. 958), in B. G. U. 619. 14–16 ἐωνῆσθαι [κα]τὰ χειρόγρ(αφον) τὸ καὶ ἐ[κμε]μαρτυρημένον διὰ δημοσίας ὁμολογίας. The four contracts to which ἐκμορτύρησις was thus applied were alike in this, that they were all private cheirographa. By the ἐκμαρτύρησις the cheirographon was embodied in a notarial document, and so elevated into a δημόσιος χρηματισμός. The process would thus appear to be a form of publication. According to 1208. 5, however, the purchaser of the land, who makes the ἐκμαρτύρησις, had already presented to the keeper of the μνημονείον a copy of the original contract for registration at the βιβλιοθήκη ἐγκτήσεων. But the ἀγορανομείον and μνημονείον were in close association (cf. e. g. l. 2), and the possibility remains that the registration and the ἐκμαρτύρησις were parts or stages of the same process. According to 1199, ἐκμαρτύρησις preceded the application to the βιβλιοφύλακες for παράθεσις.

But in any case we here seem to obtain a proof which has hitherto been lacking that  $\delta\eta\mu\sigma\delta\omega\sigma\iota s$  or public registration of cheirographa could be effected elsewhere than at the archives of Alexandria. Some indications of this local publication have indeed already occurred: see P. Leipzig 31 (Oxyrhynchus), Amh. 98 (Hermopolis), and especially Grenf. ii. 70 (Kusis), which is closely similar in form to the present document and can now be better understood; cf. ibid. 71. 25–6. But the evidence of those documents was not sufficiently explicit to convince Mitteis, who in Grundziige, p. 86, adheres to the view that the publication of cheirographa 'bei den ländlichen  $\gamma\rho\alpha\phi\epsilon\hat{\iota}\alpha$  nicht vollzogen werden konnte'. The clear statement of l. 5 renders that view no longer tenable. There is no word here of the Alexandrian libraries, and the  $\delta\eta\mu\sigma\sigma\hat{\iota}\omega\sigma\iota s$  provided for in ll. 24–5 is carried out on the spot.

The seventh year of the Emperor Caesar Gaius Aurelius Valerius Diocletianus and the sixth year of the Emperor Caesar Marcus Aurelius Valerius Maximianus Germanici Maximi Pii Felices Augusti, Xandicus-Mecheir, in the illustrious and most illustrious city of Oxyrhynchus, before Aurelius Agathinus also called Origenes, farmer of the tax payable to the agoranomi and recorders. Aurelia Thermouthion surnamed Tanechotis, daughter of Nepheros and Tanechotis, of the village of Pakerke in the eastern toparchy, being not yet of age and acting through her father Aurelius Nepheros son of Dionysius, of the said village, acknowledges, in the street, that she hereby deposes at her own valuation to the autograph deed of sale formerly agreed to with her by Aurelius Thonius son of Thonis, of the illustrious and most illustrious city of Oxyrhynchus, and drawn up in the past year on the 11th of the month Epeiph, of which she, the acknowledging party, presented a single

of which the following is a copy.

'Aurelius Thonius son of Thonis and Artemidora, of the illustrious and most illustrious city of Oxyrhynchus, with his father, who has him under power according to Roman law, as co-guarantor, namely Aurelius Thonius son of Serenus and Isarous, of the said city, to Aurelia Thermouthion surnamed Tanechotis, daughter of Nepheros and Tanechotis, of the village of Pakerke in the eastern toparchy, being not yet of age and acting through her father Aurelius Nepheros son of Dionysius, of the said village, greeting. I acknowledge that I have sold and ceded to you from henceforth for ever my property by right of inheritance and formerly belonging to my aforesaid mother Aurelia Artemidora daughter of Pausiris and Iseis, of the said city, who died leaving me and my brothers, namely my full brother Aurelius Demetrius and my half-brothers on my mother's side, Aurelius Diogenes, Aurelius Isidorus, and Aurelius Iseis, her three children by Hermias, the five of us, her sons and heirs, which was hers by right of inheritance, having formerly belonged to her father Aurelius Pausiris son of Dionysius and Artemidora, of the said city, in accordance with the will left by him in the second year of Claudius which was the first year of Aurelian, the . . of the month Tubi, and opened after his death, and had been bought by the father of Pausiris, Aurelius Herammon son of Pausanias also called Eutychus, his mother being Hermione, of the said city, in accordance with an autograph sale and cession drawn up in the 12th year of Gallienus, Pachon 23, at the village of Pakerke in the eastern toparchy. in the holding of . . . with that of Epanthes, the fifth part of four arable arourae of private land, that is  $\frac{4}{5}$  of an aroura, forming part of a parcel of 8 arourae held jointly with Horion son of Acrono . . ., which themselves formed part of a total of 28 arourae, or thereabouts, containing irrigators and a machine fitted with all wood-work and iron-work, together with the proportionate share of the irrigators and machine, the boundaries being on the south a road and on the other three sides a canal, at the price and cession-value agreed upon between us for the fifth part of the aforesaid four arourae of private land and irrigators and machine, namely 9,000 drachmae of the Imperial silver coinage, that is one talent 3,000 drachmae of silver, which I have forthwith received from you through your said father from hand to hand in full, and for which the land is bestowed upon you as a present and gift unchangeable and irrevocable, and to your question whether I have counted the money in full with the concurrence and assistance of my father I have given my assent. You shall therefore possess and own with your descendants and successors the fifth part sold and ceded to you by me as aforesaid of the four arable arourae of private land and the share of the irrigators and machine, and shall have power to use and dispose of it as you choose, no right of proceeding against it or any part of it in any wise being left to me nor to any one else on my behalf, and I will of necessity deliver it to you guaranteed perpetually against all claims with every guarantee, free from cultivation of royal or domain land and from every impost and debt and lien public and private, and from municipal . . . and every other impost and from construction and . . . of dykes and from public dues and requisitions and contributions paid for other purposes of every kind up to and including the present 6th and 5th year, because from the coming 7th and 6th year the proceeds of this property are yours who are purchasing it and having it ceded to you, and who are to be responsible for the public dues and all requisitions from the end of the present 6th and 5th year. And every one who in any manner proceeds against or claims this property, whether the whole or a part of it, I will of necessity and at once repel at my own cost, as if in consequence of a legal decision. This sale and cession, of which three copies are made, is valid, and you shall whenever you choose make it public without requiring any further approval from me, because I now approve the eventual publication, and to your question made through your father whether this is rightly and fairly done we have given our assent.' Date and signatures of the parties to the contract and of Agathinus, the official of the record office.

2. The second name of Agathinus, as is shown by his signature in l. 32, was 'Ωριγένης, which was here misspelled in some way; perhaps 'Ωρωγένους was written.

ασχολο[νμ]ένου . . . μνημονίου : cf. 1209. 5 and, for the farmers of the ἀγορανομεῖον, &c., 44. 6-7 τῶν τὸ ἐνκύκλιον ἀσχολουμένων καὶ τοῦ τὸ ἀγορανομῶν, 22-3 τῶν τε τὸ ἐνκύκλιον καὶ τὸ γραφεῖον ἀσχολουμένων, Wilcken, Ost. ii. 1053. Ι μέ(τοχοι) τελ(ῶναι) ἀγο(ρανομεῖου) ; μνημονεῖον as a tax is found in P. Brit. Mus. 856. 17. It is now seen that these tax-farmers could discharge the notarial functions of the agoranomus; the present document is drawn up, like others made ἐπὶ ἀγορανόμου at Oxyrhynchus, ἐν ἀγνιᾶ, and is signed by the ἀσχολούμενος τὴν ἀνήν with the characteristic κεχρημάτικα. In what circumstances the agoranomus was replaced in this manner is obscure. It is noteworthy in this connexion that in Heracleopolite contracts of the third century the regular phrase is δι ἐπιτηρητῶν ἀγορανομίας.

4.  $\tau \hat{\phi} \epsilon av[\tau] \hat{\eta} s \tau \iota \mu \dot{\eta} \mu a\tau \iota$ : cf. e.g. 85.  $\tau \pi \rho \sigma \sigma \phi \omega \nu \sigma \hat{\nu} \dot{\nu} \epsilon \dot{\nu} \dot{\eta} \mu a\tau \iota$ , and 1200. 45 το του τειμήματος τέλος, P. Leipzig 10. ii. 21. The analogy of the two latter passages suggests that here too a τέλος was in view, though it is not directly named.

5. ἐπήνεγκεν: cf. Amh. 98. 11, where ἐπηνέχθ(η) κ (ἔτους) Φαῶφι follows the abstract of the cheirographon. For συνκαταχωρισθησόμενον cf. e. g. 1200. 47. In the present passage too σύν must imply a ὑπόμνημα or some similar accompanying document.

6. συνβεβαιωτοῦ: cf. B. G. U. 937. 6, C. P. R. 149. 6, P. Leipzig 4. 6, 5. ii. 2.

ὑπὸ τῆ χειρί = in manu, commonly used of the status of married women, but also of children e.g. Inst. i. 12. 6 filios suos vel filias . . . sua manu dimitterent, Cod. Just. vii. 40. 1. 2 filiis familias . . . postquam manu paterna . . . fuerint liberati. Mitteis perhaps goes rather too far in asserting (Grundzüge, p. 275) that the patria potestas was to the Romanized provincial a matter of no importance.

7. Θωνίου: cf. l. 28 Θώνιος; but in l. 6 Θώνιος is given as the genitive.

10. Is(e)is is apparently masculine also in P. Brit. Mus. 188. 46.

11.  $\tau \tilde{\phi}$  β (ἔτει) Κλανδίον κτλ.: there must be some error here, for Alexandrian coins show that Claudius reached a third year; cf. P. Strassb. 7. 21. Presumably  $\gamma$  should be read for  $\beta$ ; the copyist makes a mistake in figures in l. 23 also, not to mention other inaccuracies. For  $[\tilde{\eta}]$  ἀπολέλ $\langle \alpha \rangle$ πεν . . .  $\lambda \nu \theta [\epsilon i]$ σ $\eta$  cf. e. g. P. Leipzig 10. ii. 12–13.

13.  $\sigma[\hat{v}v \tau]\hat{\varphi}$  . . . κλήρων: the same mistake occurs in 1124. 21-4.

14. Cf. P. S. I. 77. 14–16 μηχανήν . . . εξηρτισμένην πάση ξυλικῆ εξαρτία καὶ σιδηρώμασιν; there does not seem to be room here for σιδη[ρώμ]ασει. For καταρτεία cf. P. Brit. Mus. 1164. (h) 17, 25, where the same word is meant, and e.g. Artemid. 2. 53 τὸ πλοῦον καὶ ἡ καταρτία.

16–17. προσφερη is apparently for προσφοράν; cf. e.g. C. P. R. 24. 8 κατὰ προσφορὰν ἀναφαίρετον, and for the combination  $[\chi]$ άριν ἀναφαίρετον καὶ ἀμ[ετανό]ητον, P. Grenf. ii. 70. 7–8.

21. Perhaps  $\pi[\acute{a}\sigma\eta s \lambda \iota \tau \sigma v \rho \gamma \acute{a}s]$  πολειτικῆs, but the adjective is doubtfully read, and the letter preceding  $\lambda$  may be a v. ἐργασία τῶν χωμάτων is coupled with δημόσια καὶ ἀννῶναι καὶ παντοῖαι ἐπιβολαί in B. G. U. 519. 16. The following substantive was probably not ἐπιμελείαs. For ἐπικλασμοί cf. P. Tebt. 373. 12, note.

22. πρόσφο[ρα] here means revenues, as in P. Tebt. 88. 15, &c., ἄλλο πρόσφορον μηθὲν ἔχειν; cf. P. Giessen 51. 18–19 (also from Oxyrhynchus), where Γτῆς ἀνουμένης or ᾿Αχιλλίδος, πάντα δὲ τ]όν should be restored on the present analogy, and e.g. 504. 26–7, P. Leipzig 6. 12–13.

24. καθό περ έκ δίκης: so probably P. Giessen 51. 21 rather than καὶ δαπάναις.

24–5. Cf. e.g. 1200. 34–7. In 95. 35 a negative is to be supplied before  $\pi \rho \sigma \sigma \delta \epsilon \hat{i} \sigma \theta a \iota$ .

28–9. ἔως τούτου τὸ ἀ(ντίγραφον): ἀ(ντίγραφον) is very doubtful, but seems more suitable than  $\chi[\iota(\rho \acute{o} \gamma \rho a \phi o v)]$  or  $\gamma[\rho(a \mu \mu a \tau \epsilon i o v)]$ . Cf. P. Grenf. ii. 70. 19 ἔως τούτου τὸ  $\chi \epsilon \iota \rho \acute{o} \gamma[\rho a] \phi o v$ , as rightly read by Wilcken, Archiv iii. p. 124. The formula ἐκτὸς τῶν προαστείων found in l. 3 of that papyrus and in others from the Great Oasis seems to be the local phrase corresponding to the Oxyrhynchite ἐν ἀγνιᾶ.

32. Cf. P. Grenf. ii. 70. 24 χρηματιστὴς  $\kappa[\epsilon\chi]$ ρημάτικα, and 99. 12. Bry's error in supposing this use of χρηματίζειν to be confined to the Ptolemaic period (La vente dans les papyrus, p. 87) has already been pointed out by Mitteis, Grundzüge, p. 611.

1209. SALE OF A SLAVE.

21.5 × 12.7 cm.

A. D. 251-3.

A contract for the sale of a young female slave and her infant son at the price of 2,000 drachmae; cf. 94-5, 263, B. G. U. 193, &c., Mitteis, Grundzüge, pp. 192-4. The deed was drawn up, like 1208, before an ἀσχολούμενος ἀνὴν ἀγορανομείου, on whom see the note on 1208. 2.

As a small point of palaeographical interest it may be noted that in two places (l. 6  $\mu\eta\tau\rho\delta(s)$ , l. 15  $\mu\epsilon\lambda(\chi\rho\sigma(vv))$ ) the writer of this papyrus abbreviates words without any suspension of letters or other indication of abbreviation. This method is not therefore confined to the early Ptolemaic period, as supposed by Wilcken, Grundzüge, p. xl; cf. Mitteis, Chrestomathie, p. 101.

Aurelius Asclepiades also called Saras, son of Sarapion and Lucilla also called Demetria, of the city of Oxyrhynchus, aged about 32, with no distinguishing mark, has purchased from Aurelius Serenus also called Sarapion, son of Agathinus and Taposiris, of the said city, aged about 34, with no distinguishing mark, in the street, the female slave belonging to him named Tereus, aged about 21, fair, with a scar on her . . ., together with her male nursling child named . . ., who was purchased by him in accordance with a deed made through the said office of the agoranomi in the 4th year of the Philippi in the month Phamenoth from the mother of the present purchaser Aurelia Lucilla also called Demetria, daughter of Euporus son of Diogenes, her mother being Tauris also called Philumene, of the said city, and was born in her house, which slave together with the nursling the purchaser has forthwith received from the vendor just as they are and unrenounceable, free from epilepsy and external claims, Tereus having been examined as set forth in the former deed; and the price mutually agreed upon for the said slave and the nursling, 2,000 drachmae of silver of the Imperial coinage, has been received by the vendor Aurelius Sarapion also called Serenus from the purchaser Aurelius Asclepiades also called Saras from hand to hand. The vendor sells and guarantees the said slave with the nursling [on the liability of all that stands in (?)] his name, as aforesaid, in the same street, and to the purchaser's question whether this has been rightly and fairly done the vendor has given his assent.' Signatures.

3. The day of the month, as frequently happens, has not been filled in.

15. [οἰκογε]νήν is a justifiable restoration in spite of the final ν, for which cf. e. g. B. G. U. 13. 8 ὑγιὴν καὶ ἀσινήν, Ep. Hebr. vi. 19 ἀσφαλήν.

17. The spelling ὑποτίθιος occurs in B. G. U. 629. 14, 1058. 12.

19. ἐκτὸς ὅντα... ἐπαφῆς: so e.g. P. Leipzig 4. 19, 5. ii. 8; cf. B. G. U. 887. 5, 937. 11. The sense of manus iniectio for ἐπαφή in this context seems now established by P. Strassb. 79 (cf. Kübler in Z. Sav. xxxii. pp. 366 sqq.), which contains the passage (l. 7) ἀναπόριφο]ν (οτ ἀσυκοφάντητο]ν) πλὴν ἐπαφῆς. ἐὰν δέ τις ἐπαφὴ γένηται, ἐγδικήσει ὁ ἀποδόμενος; cf. B. G. U. 887. 5–6, 17. For ἀνα[κριθίση]ς (Mitteis) cf. P. Brit. Mus. 251. 7, Leipzig 4. 15.

27. Some definition of the liability of the  $\beta \epsilon \beta a \omega \tau \dot{\eta} s$  seems to have stood at the beginning of this line, e.g. έν πασὶ τοῖς ἐπ'] ὀνόματος.

29-30. Cf. e. g. P. Brit. Mus. 251. 8-10, Leipzig 4. 31; a similar restoration is attractive, as Mitteis has remarked (l. c. p. 3681), in P. Strassb. 79. 9.

(e) ACCOUNTS.

1210. POLL-TAX REGISTER.

32.5 × 22.5 cm.

Late first century B.C. or early first century A.D.

This text is written on the recto of 1184 in a large semi-uncial hand which can hardly be later than the reign of Tiberius and is more likely to belong to that of Augustus. There are remains of two columns, but those of the first are confined to the ends of a few scattered lines and are not worth reproducing. The second is entire and is concerned with the poll-tax in the Oxyrhynchite and other nomes. At the top of the column are two lines which gave the total of persons paying the tax in the Oxyrhynchite and Cynopolite nomes,—or rather, which were intended to give them, for the figures here and elsewhere, except in 1. 12, are omitted, the document never having been completed. Below this are two other sections, one reporting the numbers of persons chosen by their parents to support them in their old age, in the same two districts; the other specifying various officials in the Tentyrite, Cynopolite, and Oxyrhynchite nomes and in the (Small?) Oasis, who were exempted on account of their official duties. Presumably these two sections stand in close connexion with the one immediately preceding them, and imply that special treatment with regard to poll-tax was accorded to persons on whom devolved the maintenance of aged parents or who served the state in certain official capacities. It further appears that the parents selected the son who was to support them; what further conditions were imposed, and whether the son enjoyed complete or only partial immunity, there is no evidence to show. With regard to the officials, the privilege is stated to be 'customary'. Possibly these immunities, of which there seem to be no traces at a later period, were a legacy from the Ptolemaic régime (cf. P. Tebt. i. p. 447, Petrie iii. p. 174, B. G. U. 1198. ii. 7 sqq.).

1211. ARTICLES FOR A SACRIFICE.

 $8.9 \times 6.7$  cm.

Second century.

A short list of objects which had been or were to be supplied to the strategus for the celebration of a sacrifice 'to the most sacred Nile'. Evidence for the cult of the Nile-god at Oxyrhynchus has already been supplied by 519. 10; there a payment of 20 drachmae to the  $\kappa\omega\mu\alpha\sigma\tau\alpha$  Ne $(\lambda(\omega v))$  is recorded; cf. the Ne $(\lambda\alpha)$  celebrated at the temple of Jupiter Capitolinus at Arsinoë (B. G. U. 362. xv. 11) and, on Nile-worship in general, Lumbroso, L'Egitto, pp. 1–8. The participation of the strategus in the celebration is a point worth noting; cf. Otto, Priester und Tempel, ii. p. 79.

2. ἱερωτάτου: so e.g. 486. 32.

4-6. ἀσπάραγος occurs in 736. 36, and γογγυλίς (cf. l. 6) is mentioned in l. 5 of that papyrus. θρίδαξ is the usual spelling, e.g. P. Tebt. 112. 11.

(f) PRIVATE CORRESPONDENCE, ETC.

1213. QUESTION TO THE ORACLE.

2.7 × 5.7 cm.

Second century.

A question addressed to the oracle of Zeus-Helios-Sarapis by a man in doubt about marriage. Cf. 1148–9, and for another example on the same subject, Wessely, Script. Gr. Spec. 26, re-edited by Wilcken, Chrestomathie, p. 150. The writing is across the fibres.

4. δέβδοται rather than δίβδοται is probably to be restored in Wessely, Script. Gr. Spec. 26. 2-3.

5. dós: cf. 1149. 9, note.

1214. INVITATION TO A BIRTHDAY-FEAST.

8.6 × 9.6 cm.

Fifth century.

This formal invitation has an interest as being considerably later in date than those previously published, which are all of the Roman age; cf. e.g. 110-11, 524, 747, 926-7, Wilcken, Grundziige, p. 419. The present example shows a different formula, beginning with an address like a letter.

1. φαιδρύνων.

'To my lord Macarius from Gennadius, speculator. Deign to gladden the birthday festival of my son Gennadius by dining with us on the 16th at 7 o'clock.'

I. There would be room for two or three letters of an abbreviated title after  $\text{Makapi}[\phi]$ .

2. σπεκ(ουλάτωρ): cf. 1193. 1, 1223. 21.

1215. LETTER OF SINTHONIS.

1216. LETTER OF SARAPAS.

 $18.5 \times 9.8$  cm.

Second or third century.

A letter to a sister, who is rebuked for having neglected to write. She seems to have been lately married. As in 1215, the spelling is erratic.

'Sarapas to his sister Diogenis, greeting. I pray always to all the gods for you, and you know from close experience my good-will even though I do not write to you; but you have never thought proper to send me greetings in a letter. A year to-day I have been away from you and all the time you have not thought proper to give me tidings about yourself or your brother Horion, how he is; for I love him greatly. Have you produced us a male child? For I pray that you may agree in this, as you entirely deserve. Tell me now about anything here that you want, for with the help of the gods I am hastening to set out to you. I greet you all. I pray for your health. (Addressed) To my sister Diogenis.'

5. μικρόθεν will give a sense, but does not occur, and μακρόθεν was perhaps meant. 9–10. The purpose of the interlineated letters is obscure. ε of ειμ, which seems inevitable, has been corrected from α or vice versa. μα cannot be read as ἀλλά in λ. 10.

11. alπ l is dubious. πάντα σαι τοι might be read, but is meaningless; σαι αlτῶ is not possible.

13. Horion was probably the husband of Diogenis.

1217. LETTER OF EUDAEMONIS.

1218. LETTER OF DIDYMUS.

10.7 × 10.2 cm.

Third century.

A letter to a father from his son who reminds him of some farming operations and gives him domestic news. The writing is across the fibres.

There is nothing unpleasant at your house. My mother Thaësis went, I think, to Antinoöpolis for a funeral. Tell me freely about anything which you want and I will do it gladly. Give many salutations to my dearest Phullon and his children, whom the evil eye shall not harm, and his wife and those whom we love severally. All your relatives and your children salute you. I pray for you health.'

9. ἄοκνος is the usual form. For the active ἄσπαζε cf. 1158. 18, note, P. Leipzig 111. 18. 15. π(αρὰ) Διδύμου is expected, but the traces are really too slight for recognition.

1219. LETTER OF ARISTANDRUS.

24·1 × 12·5 cm.

Third century.

A letter from Aristandrus, of Oxyrhynchus, to his son Apion, basilico-grammateus of the Letopolite nome, recommending to the latter's good offices a person who is described as 'our son' but was not actually so related to the writer, since it is clear that the real father was dead; cf. P. Giessen iii. p. 53<sup>1</sup>.

1. περιόντα.

'Aristandrus to his son Apion, greeting. Theon our son is coming to you on his way to the city of Nikias on account of a pressing incompleted negotiation of which you have perhaps been aware long since from his father; I think that he wrote to you about it while he was still alive. Indeed you love him both for his own sake and for his father's memory. But I know that this letter of mine also will be of much help to him, if he wants anything either with Apion the basilicogrammateus of the Prosopite nome or with any one else, if you will ask them and not delay to write to them. I pray for your perpetual health and prosperity, my son. (Addressed) To my son Apion, basilicogrammateus of the Letopolite nome, from Aristandrus of Oxyrhynchus.'

4. The mention in l. 14 of the Προσωπίτης is, as Wilcken remarks, a sufficient indication that τὴν Νεικίου here means Νικίου πόλις, the capital of that nome; cf. e.g. Ptol. iv. 5. 49 Προσωπίτης νομὸς καὶ μητρόπολις Νικίου, Β. G. U. 939. 5. Theon travelled through the Letopolite nome (l. 20) to Nikiu in the Prosopite nome.

5. μετεώρου: cf. 238. introd., P. Fay. 116. 12, &c.

16.  $\delta\epsilon\hat{\eta}[\sigma\eta]$ : the first letter appears to be either a or δ;  $\theta\epsilon\lambda[\eta s]$  is unsuitable.

1220. LETTER OF A BAILIFF.

 $21.7 \times 8.7$  cm.

Third century.

A letter from a steward or agent enclosing some accounts and giving other information, and asking for various supplies. In the left-hand margin there are some indications of a previous column, which perhaps contained the accounts referred to; and the verso also is inscribed with 22 lines, incomplete on both sides, of an account, but it is in a ruder hand than that of the recto, though it corresponds well enough with the description in II. 3–5. Most of the entries refer to payments made to καιναισται (κενεωταί?) ἀναψῶντες εἰς ὑποδοχεῖον οτ ἐν τρόχφ who received a uniform wage of 2 drachmae. A curious reference to a hippopotamus occurs in II. 20 sqq. of the letter.

Would you be pleased, sir, to send me some money for the business of harvesting going on here and the other business? With regard to the collection of the wine about which you wrote to me, I see nothing bad in my behaviour; for the boat is being prepared in order that I may transfer the wine of Silenus. You will send me the nails for emptying (?) and a jar of gum for the tools of the machines; this will be of use to prevent their perishing of neglect. The hippopotamus has destroyed nothing, for if there is any superfluity, I watch over the place. About the fields, if you come, D. V., you will learn their condition. I pray, sir, for your health and prosperity. The accounts will show the details as contained in the memorandum.'

16. What ἐκχυσιαῖος as applied to ἢλοι denotes is obscure. The adjective occurs only here.

21. ἱπποποτάμις seems to be a combination of the alternative forms ἵππος ποτάμι(ο)s and ίπποπόταμος. I am not aware of other references to the animal in Greek papyri; possibly its persistance at Oxyrhynchus is to be connected with the local cult of Thoëris.

28-30. The papyrus is damaged in front of these lines, but there is apparently no loss of letters.

1221. LETTER OF ISIDORUS.

 $12.4 \times 7.6$  cm.

Late third or early fourth century.

This letter, in which Demetrianus is informed where the corn-dues of the western toparchy were being paid, perhaps belongs to the category of official rather than private correspondence. Both the writer and the recipient were probably public functionaries of some kind.

1222. LETTER TO DEMETRIUS.

6.3 × 25.8 cm.

Fourth century.

The writer of this letter asks his son to send a colt and some medicines with which to treat it. The writing is across the fibres of the papyrus.

'Ισίδωρος Δημητρίφ υἱφ χαίρειν. δὸς τῷ ἀδελφῷ ᾿Αμζμ⟩ωνιανῷ τὸν πῶλον εἵνα ἐνεχθῆ μοι καὶ τὸ ἄλας τὸ ἀμζμ⟩ωνιακὸν τὸ τετριμζμ⟩ένον καὶ τὸ ἄτριπτον καὶ τὸ σπέρ-

'Isidorus to his son Demetrius, greeting. Give your brother Ammonianus the colt to be brought to me and the salt of ammonia, both the pounded and the unpounded, and the basil-seed, in order that I may doctor him away here, for I have been asked by my father Posidonius to stay for the collection during these five days; and send to me about anything you need. I pray for your lasting health.'

3. αὐτόν: sc. τὸν πῶλον rather than 'Αμμωνιανόν; cf. e. g. P. Flor. 222. 10 sqq.  $\epsilon n \ell$  is of course for  $\epsilon n \epsilon \ell$ , the  $\gamma d\rho$  being redundant, as e. g. in 1215. 5.

1223. LETTER OF HERMIAS.

26.9 × 9.3 cm.

Late fourth century.

The chief point of interest in this letter, which was written by a man in financial difficulties, is the ratio given in ll. 31 sqq. between the current values of the gold solidus and the  $\mu\nu\rho\iota\dot{\alpha}s$  of drachmae or denarii. A date in the second half of the fourth century is suggested by the handwriting, and the great depreciation of the  $\mu\nu\rho\iota\dot{\alpha}s$  makes it probable that the century was nearing its close; cf. the note ad loc.

'To my lord and brother Horion from Hermias. I am surprised if my messenger finds the boat of the landlord with you; if, however, owing to some carelessness he finds it there, make haste to send the sailor to the city at once with the attendant whom I have sent. See that you do not neglect this. If it is calm weather and he cannot bring back the boat to-day, let the sailor himself return in order to make a bond, for I am being worried not a little. If you neglect it, our house is likely, owing to the absence of the landlord, to be brought to a critical pass through the tiresome Ammonius the speculator and the praefect's assistant. If you have any silver coins with you or solidi, send me them quickly, for I owe on account of so many obligations and I am no longer trusted, unless I behave fairly. Send and tell your people to hand over to me the remainder of the wine and one and a half units of the general account. The solidus now stands at 2,020 myriads; it has come down. Do not neglect to send the boat or the sailor to-day. I pray for your lasting health, brother. (Addressed) To my lord and brother Horion from Hermias.'

12 sqq. A sense may be obtained by taking  $\hat{\eta}$  as the interrogative particle, 'Do you pretend that the boat cannot be brought in fair weather like this?' But probably Wilcken is right in supposing that  $\eta$  here represents  $\epsilon \hat{l}$ , although this mistake is avoided in ll. 3 and 22.

22. Being coupled with a speculator (cf. 1193. 1, &c.) this ἐπαρχικός is perhaps more likely to be a person in the service of a military praefect than an official of the ἐπαρχία.

25. προσδοχάς: cf. e. g. C. I. G. 1329 προσδεξαμένου τὸ ἀνάλωμα.

27. For εὐγνωμονήσωμεν cf. e.g. P. Fay. 124. 9, 21, B. G. U. 970. 24.

30. της καθόλου is obscure.

31-3. The very low value of the  $\mu\nu\rho\iota\dot{a}s$  shown by this passage points to a late date in the fourth century. Other fourth-century equations cited by Wessely, Altersindiz. im Philogelos, pp. 32-3, are 62, 72, and 110 myriads to the solidus; but a papyrus which he attributes to the fourth or fifth century (p. 46) gives  $\nu o(\mu\iota\sigma\mu\dot{a}\tau\iota\nu\nu)$  a  $\pi(a\rho\dot{a})$   $\beta$   $\mu\nu(\rho\iota\dot{a}\delta as)$ , and 1133. 8-9 shows that in the year 396 A.D. 600 myriads were considerably less than four solidi, and in the light of the present passage it is more probable that they were really less than one.  $\kappa a\tau\dot{\epsilon}\beta\eta$  implies that the value of the  $\delta\lambda\kappa\dot{\epsilon}\sigma\tau\iota\nu\sigma$  had lately been relatively higher. Cf. P. Giessen 47. 28-9  $\tau\dot{\epsilon}$  a $\sigma\eta\mu\nu$  (sc.  $d\rho\gamma\dot{\nu}\rho\iota\nu$ ?)  $\nu\dot{\nu}\nu$   $\dot{\epsilon}\sigma\tau(\iota)$  ( $\delta\rho\alpha\chi\mu\dot{\omega}\nu$ ?)...

EGYPT EXPLORATION FUND

GRAECO-ROMAN BRANCH.

THE EGYPT EXPLORATION FUND, which has conducted Archaeological research in Egypt since 1882, in 1897 started a special department, called the Graeco-Roman Branch, for the discovery and publication of remains of classical antiquity and early Christianity in Egypt.

The Graeco-Roman Branch issues annual volumes, each of about 250 quarto pages, with facsimile plates of the more important papyri, under the editorship of Dr. Hunt.

A subscription of One Guinea to the Graeco-Roman Branch entitles subscribers to the annual volume, and also to the annual Archaeological Report. A donation of £25 constitutes life membership. Subscriptions may be sent to the Honorary Treasurers—for England, Mr. J. Grafton Milne, 37 Great Russell St., London, W.C.; and for America, Mr. Chester I. Campbell, 527 Tremont Temple, Boston, Mass.
